Midwest's Members Tell Their Views on Controversy.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—With utterances and actions revolving around the question of American participation in the European war, the 77th congress assembled and organized at noon today. At the same moment the 76th congress passed into history by constitutional limitation.

President Roosevelt was formally notified that the new congress had convened and was awaiting any communication he might see fit to make to it. The President replied that he would address congress in person at 2 p. m. [1 p. m. Chicago time] next Monday to submit his report on the state of the Union as required by the constitution.

Electoral Vote Put First.

Congress adopted a resolution providing for the official canvass of the electoral vote in the November Presidential election at 1 p. m. Monday. The President will appear in the joint session of the two houses immediately after being formally proclaimed his own successor by a third term.

First reference to the forthcoming battle over the President's war program was made by Representative Sam Rayburn [D., Tex.] upon taking the gavel in the house after being reelected its speaker over Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, the Republican leader. Adverting to nonpartisan support of war measures in the world war, Rayburn said that, "During this congress I expect again to see us act with practical unanimity regardless of party."

Rayburn Gets Applause.

The remark was vociferously applauded except by those who regard the Roosevelt program as one bound to involve us in the European war.

The Illinois Republican delegation of 16, largest in the house except for New York's 19, was the center of much attention during the oath taking because of the outstanding Republican gain of six members from that state. At a caucus preceding the session all Republican members of the delegation were present except Representative Noah H. Mason, 12th district.

The senate was organized in half an hour, with Vice President Garner presiding. An unusual incident was the seating of William Langer [R., N. D.] without prejudice to future consideration of charges filed by C. R. Verry, Minot, N. D., and others that Langer is "unworthy to represent the state."

Heated Discussion Heard.

Mr. Roosevelt's war program was the subject of heated discussion in purlieus of both houses. Fiery Senator Carter Glass [D., Va.], who has differed with the President on the New Deal, told reporters that he favors lending Great Britain all the war equipment we can spare "to wipe Germany off the face of the map."

Illinois' new senator, Wayland Brooks, Republican, warned of the danger of the President committing the country to participation in the war.

"The tendency of the present administration," said Senator Brooks, "has been to have the chief executive act on his own initiative without consulting congress and thereby force congress to acquiesce because of circumstances created by that initiative. The President's speech last Sunday makes it apparent that the congress must be more alert than ever to prevent this country from becoming an active, voluntary participant in this present war."

Other Senators Comment.

The opinions of other midwestern senators follow:

SENATOR SCOTT W. LUCAS [D., Ill.]—Notwithstanding the opinion of some people to the contrary, I am absolutely convinced that the President is sincere when he says that no expeditionary force will be sent to Europe during this war. By expeditionary force, I mean the army, the navy, the marines, and the air force. I take the same position that I've President's Bid for Defense Spending Power Foretold.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—Next to the question of intervention in the European war the gravest problem confronting the new congress, which convened today, is the fiscal situation: Debt and deficits, spending, taxes, and the danger of inflation inherent in the gigantic armaments program.

Senator Barkley.

The broad outlines of President Roosevelt's fiscal recommendations, which will be submitted to congress in his annual message on the state of the union on Monday and in the budget message on Tuesday, were revealed by Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky after a White House conference today.

17 Billion Dollar Budget.

These recommendations include:

1. A 17 billion dollar budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, including 10 billion dollars for national defense and aid to Great Britain. Barkley indicated that Mr. Roosevelt would request lump sum appropriations for armaments, with authority for him to use his discretion in dividing war equipment between the American armed forces and Britain. The British already are negotiating orders aggregating 3 billion dollars, to be purchased by the United States and turned over to them under the President's arms lending plan.

2. Federalization of the whole social security system, which would shoulder the entire financial burden upon the federal government and correspondingly increase its authority over the welfare of the people. Barkley indicated that both the unemployment insurance systems, now administered by the states and financed by state taxation, and the old age assistance program would be taken over entirely by the federal government under the President's recommendations. At present, the federal government matches state contributions up to $20 a month a person for old age assistance.

Increased Revenue Sought.

3. A new tax program to increase federal revenues by 1 to 2 billion dollars a year.

Barkley indicated that President Roosevelt's controversial proposal to purchase and lend unlimited quantities of war munitions to Great Britain, under a gentlemen's agreement for repayment in kind or in such raw materials as tin and rubber after the war, would come before congress in connection with the regular army and navy appropriation bills. He suggested that the legislation simply would appropriate money for the purchase and manufacture of arms and other munitions, any part of which the President in his discretion could turn over to Great Britain, Greece, China, and possibly other belligerents.

"It will be in general terms," Barkley declared. "You might say it will be both general and generous."

No Limitations, He Says.

Asked whether there would be any limitation on the value or quantity of war equipment that could be turned over to foreign governments, Barkley replied: "No. It might be 10 billion dollars, or 5 billion, or 1 billion."

He said the lending authorization might even apply to army and navy equipment already ordered under the 1940 national defense appropriations and contract authorizations, which aggregated more than 13 billion dollars.

TIME TO CLIP HIS WINGS

With that observation the husband, Leroy Peterson, an estimator, announced that he could not return to his wife, Ethel, 3958 Drexel boulevard. He insisted that she be granted a divorce.

The Petersons separated in 1937 after 19 years of marriage. They have a son, Edward, now 14 years old. A week before Christmas Peterson was committed to jail for owing $500 in temporary alimony.

Freed Before Christmas.

He was freed two days before Chrismas with the plea by Judge Rudolph Desort and Norman Becker, attorney for Mrs. Peterson, that they attempt a reconciliation.

Yesterday the Petersons appeared before Judge Desort, and Peterson's lawyer, G. Edwin Mitchell, announced that a reconciliation had failed.

"A wife who would send her husband to jail over alimony is not deserving of his love," Peterson said. "Apart from that, my wife should have considered our son who has been stigmatized by his father being in jail. As a result my love for her has cooled to the point where living with her is hopeless."

Suggests Granting of Divorce.

At this point Judge Desort asked the Petersons what should be done. Peterson said his solution would be divorce. "I won't contest it," he said.

Judge Desort then granted Mrs. Peterson a divorce and custody of their son. Alimony was fixed at $6 a week, plus $3 a week to pay off back alimony. Peterson was not returned to jail.

BUDAPEST TRIES 25 AS ALLEGED NAZI PLOTTERS

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Jan. 3.—Public trial of 25 alleged Nazi plotters was started today before a special tribunal. Deputy Emil Kovarcs, formerly a major in the Hungarian army, was described as the alleged ringleader of the group which is charged with having planned to assassinate Franz Keresztes-Fischer, minister of interior. Keresztes-Fischer is credited with having prevented the Nazis from gaining power in Hungary.

BRITISH STORM STRONGHOLD OF ITALY IN LIBYA

Tanks Aid Drive Led by Australians.

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 3 (AP).—Australian troops storming the Italian fortress of Bardia, Libya, already have taken more than 5,000 prisoners, a quarter of the garrison, the British command reported tonight in a special communique.

The communique said merely: "Operations are developing successfully at Bardia. So far more than 5,000 prisoners have been captured."

Earlier dispatches from the battle zone declared that the sudden attack, led by Australians, had broken thru the half-ring of forts protecting the Italian port and that the assault was continuing, supported by tanks.

Heavy Air Bombardment.

The thrust was preceded and supported by the heaviest aerial bombardment yet conducted in the African war, authoritative sources reported.

All last night and this morning, from dusk until dawn, British planes crossed and recrossed Bardia, dropping tons of explosives and incendiaries on the beleaguered Italians and starting huge fires all over the town, it was reported. Not one plane was lost in this operation, R. A. F. headquarters said.

Then, at dawn, the Australians launched their drive. They reported a fairly deep penetration in the southwest sector of the semicircular Bardia defenses by noon. These defenses shelter Bardia for a distance of 17 miles from coast to coast. They are some five to six miles in depth.

Cannon Support Defenses.

The Italians were asserted to have the advantage in blockhouses, concealed machinegun nests and barbed wire entanglements, the whole network of defenses being backed by heavy artillery, including at least one big caliber naval gun mounted ashore.

But the Australians crashed thru on the southwest of the ring which already had been weakened by the aerial onslaught and the almost daily pounding by air bombs and by the big guns of the British fleet offshore.

An attack on these positions apparently had been considered unlikely by the Italians whose defenses had been pointed in the opposite way.

[From Rome, a radio report said the "sacrifice garrison" in Bardia "holds fast, in spite of every British attempt to pierce its defenses." A high command communique claimed that Italian bombers off the African coast had hit a British cruiser.]

Back to the Sea.

Some 20,000 Italian troops have been penned up in Bardia for more than two weeks, with their backs to the sea.

It is at Bardia that the Italians have made their first real stand since the British offensive swept Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's troops back into Libya from the western Egyptian desert. Since then the British mechanized columns have gone far beyond Bardia to raid the precincts of Tobruk, some 80 miles within Libya, and they control a segment of the Bardia-Tobruk road. There is, however, no new information about this operation.

The British air force, hitting hard again, was reported to have started fires and explosion at Tripoli, all the way across Libya, in two heavy overnight raids Jan. 1. Bombs straddled a mole where five cruisers were moored. Others spread flames in seaplane hangars, hit the customs jetty and damaged two big motor vessels and at least one other ship, a communique said. The flames were reported visible for 60 miles.

JACKSON RENEWS PLEA FOR AN O. K. ON WIRE TAPPING

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—Attorney General Robert Jackson today renewed his recommendation for legislation legalizing the use of wiretapping in national defense investigations, and in certain other instances.

He also urged enactment of a law requiring all firearms to be registered with the federal government.

In his annual report, Jackson told congress that the demands of national defense were "reflected in practically every division and bureau" of the justice department last year, and that further expansion of such activities was in prospect.

Britain Stirred by Sale of War Goods to Japan

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Britain today was stirred by revelations that British goods are being made for the Japanese army and that American war materials again are reaching Germany thru Russia.

Hugh Dalton.

Minister of Aircraft Production Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express said "there is a strong feeling that the board of trade will revoke the export license" for goods which are being turned out in British factories for the Japanese army. Hugh Dalton, minister of economic warfare, warned that valuable war materials again were being sent from America to Germany, via Vladivostok, Siberia.

While it was admitted that munitions are being made in Britain for Japan, it was explained that the contract was placed before the war began and the export license was issued for the goods to permit fulfilment of the contract. If the license is revoked, it was said, the munitions would be turned over to the British army.

Workers Threaten Strike.

The storm over British factories making goods for Japan was brought to a head yesterday when Alfred Edwards, a Laborite member of parliament, revealed that he had written to Prime Minister Winston Churchill, demanding an explanation. Edwards said he had been informed that war workers had threatened to strike because they believed the goods they were making were intended for Japan. Some time ago the workers protested to Labor Minister Ernest Bevin, saying they refused to work for a member of the axis.

"Not a single gun or bullet should go to a potential enemy," Edwards said. "The alleged excuse is that we need foreign currency. That is a disgusting excuse."

Edwards' letter to Churchill, threatening to raise the whole subject of Japanese supplies in parliament, and the workers' strike threat sent officials of the ministries of supply and labor, the board of trade, and the foreign office into a huddle today to discuss the situation.

See Unfavorable U. S. Reaction.

Unless the export license for the goods is canceled, it was pointed out, there might be a serious reaction in the United States regarding British munitions going to Japan, in light of Britain's pleas to America not to deal with Britain's enemies and President Roosevelt's recent emphasis on the danger to America of the axis-Japanese pact.

Britain also is examining the whole position of supplies to Japan, particularly the substantial quantity of oil she is obtaining from Dutch East Indies companies controled by British American, and Dutch interests.

Regarding American materials reaching Germany, Dalton told the American press at a luncheon:

"For some time after the [British] government took action a few months ago to prevent war supplies from reaching Germany thru this channel [shipments of American goods to Vladivostok], only negligible quantities of materials percolated thru the blockade. But now there have been considerable increases in exports from America to Vladivostok."

Lists Cotton in Contraband.

Cotton, he said, was among the contraband goods being sent to Russia and, he explained, even if Russia utilized this and other war materials from America for her own industries it would permit the release of other supplies to Germany.

[In Washington department of commerce officials yesterday disclosed that the United States shipped 140,000 bales of cotton to Russia via Vladivostok between Aug. 1 and Dec. 14, 1940. In New York it was reported that some of the cotton shipments have been made under navicerts granted by the British government.]

IRISH PROTEST TO GERMANS ON BOMB ATTACKS

DUBLIN, Jan. 3 (AP).—Prime Minister Eamon de Valera of Ireland tonight sent a stiff protest to Germany against bomb attacks attributed to Nazi planes and met with his cabinet in urgent secret session. There were rumors that any further attacks would mean the expulsion of the German minister to Ireland.

Eamon de Valera.

This rapid series of developments followed a predawn attack today by a single plane whose one explosive smashed two houses on Donore avenue in Dublin and injured some 20 persons.

[In Berlin last night an authorized spokesman declared that "those bombs are English or they are imaginary." Then he added, "Our flyers are not and have not been sent to Ireland. Some one else will have to explain those bombs." Newspapers in Rome likewise attributed the bombings to the royal air force. In London neutral sources said flatly that the Germans had dropped the bombs.]

"Energetic" Protest Made.

The Irish department of external affairs formally blamed the Nazis for the bombing of several other areas in neutral Ireland—such incidents have been occurring intermittently since Wednesday night — and announced "an energetic protest to the German government against the violation of Irish territory by German aircraft and the loss of life and destruction of property."

The Irish chargé d'affaires in Berlin, it was added, had been "further instructed to claim full reparations and insist that effective steps be taken to avoid a recurrence of such happenings."

As to the additional bomb that fell only today, the department announced, an investigation of its origin was still in progress.

Dropped Flares in Cemetery.

This afternoon Irish soldiers fired with rifles and machine guns upon what they believed was a hostile plane over Dublin, but the government's information bureau subsequently described it as "a civil plane," en route from England to Dublin, which had got into difficulty.

The craft had dropped flares in the historic cemetery of Glesnevin, the burial place of many an Irish revolutionary hero, and these were generally accepted at first as incendiary bombs, since the use of a flare in broad daylight is extraordinary.

The cumulative list of casualties in raids from Wednesday night thru today stood at three dead and an undetermined number, considerably above 20, injured. On Wednesday night five areas within a 60 mile radius of Dublin, including a plain on which is situated headquarters for the Irish army, were bombed in a five hour raid. Again, on Thursday night, three bombs fell near Enniscorthy, County Wexford, some 60 miles to the southwest of Dublin. Then came today's predawn raid.

Mines Also Dropped.

Magnetic mines also have fallen on Irish soil—these near Enniskerry, a short distance from the Irish seacoast in County Wicklow.

[Some British sources said that by the bombings the Germans were trying to bring Ireland into the war on Britain's side. Should Ireland enter the conflict, these sources said, Britain would be forced to help fortify that republic and thus drain her own air, sea, and land forces.]

The new problems posed for the Irish government have heightened an already perplexed situation which De Valera acknowledged in a Christmas broadcast to the United States, appealing for American aid in obtaining supplies and defensive arms.

British restrictions on the reëxport to Ireland of goods brought across the Atlantic under the protection of British guns have been tightened. Ireland has refused British suggestions that she allow Britain to use her western ports in convoy and antisubmarine activity.

HARRY HOPKINS GOING TO LONDON AS F. D. R. AGENT

Will Remain Briefly Till Envoy Is Named.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—President Roosevelt today announced he is sending his most intimate friend and trusted adviser, Harry L. Hopkins, former secretary of commerce, as his personal representative to London pending the appointment of a new ambassador to the court of St. James's.

Harry L. Hopkins.

Hopkins, who has been living at the White House for more than a year, said that he did not know when or how he will go to London, altho it was assumed he would take the trans-Atlantic clipper to Lisbon, Portugal, and board a British plane there for London. He would not discuss his assignment.

Mr. Roosevelt said that Hopkins would not be named ambassador to the British court because he is not physically strong enough for such an assignment. He added that next week he expects to name the successor to Joseph P. Kennedy, who resigned the post recently. It has been expected that the assignment will go to Norman Armour, veteran career diplomat, who is now ambassador to Argentina. Hopkins would fill in the interim between Kennedy and his successor.

British Approve of Change.

Kennedy still technically retains the title of ambassador, altho he has submitted his resignation, and will do so until his successor is appointed. It has been reported that the British were glad to get rid of Kennedy, because they felt he was not sufficiently interested in the British cause. Kennedy is vigorously opposed to American entry into the war. It is felt that Armour will be acceptable to the British because he was born in England of American parents.

Hopkins, who has been ailing for many months, resigned his cabinet position shortly before the election. Before joining the cabinet he was head of the relief and Works Progress administration. He is regarded the closest confidant of the President. He directed the third term nomination at Chicago, and planned much of the third term campaign.

In announcing the Hopkins assignment, Mr. Roosevelt said that Hopkins will have no powers, no title, and no diplomatic status. Primarily, Mr. Roosevelt said with a laugh, Hopkins' duties will be to say "Hello" to old British friends. These would include King George VI., who was a guest of the President at the White House and the Roosevelt family home during his visit to Canada and the United States; British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, another White House guest, and British Premier Winston Churchill.

Will Stay About Two Weeks.

Hopkins will remain in the British capital about two weeks. During his service Hopkins will receive a per diem, probably of $25 a day and expenses.

It has been expected that Hopkins will shortly receive an appointment as director of the library Mr. Roosevelt has erected on the family estate at Hyde Park. In the post he will be paid by taxpayers. The library was built by contributions, but will be supported by the government. It is to house Mr. Roosevelt's state papers, books, and other historical items.

The announcement of the Hopkins assignment was similar to the appointment a year ago of Under Secretary Sumner Welles as a special representative to Rome, Berlin, Paris, and London. Welles saw the leaders of all the belligerent nations in what was termed a 1,000 to 1 chance for peace. The administration never claimed any accomplishments for that mission.

1,200 Martinique Soldiers Return Home from France

FORT DE FRANCE, Martinique, Jan. 3 (AP).—The steamship Capitaine Paul Lemerle arrived here Jan. 1 with 1,200 Martinique soldiers returning from France and was greeted by a cheering crowd. The steamship St. Domingue sailed for Baltimore, Md., yesterday with a number of demobilized French soldiers whose homes are in North and South America.

ARMY REPORTS SALES OF ARMS SENT TO BRITISH

Total Near 23 Million; Cost 59 Million.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—For the first time since the outbreak of the war, the war department today reported in detail on the extent of its sales of military arms and supplies, almost all of which was resold to Great Britain.

In a special report Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson advised congress that the army sold $22,929,438 of surplus war materiel in the 12 months ended last Oct. 15. The equipment originally cost the government $59,853,179.

The sales were negotiated as the administration launched an 18 billion dollar program to rearm the United States. President Roosevelt ordered the sales on the ground that the arms and other supplies were not needed by the army. The secretary's report shows that the army nonetheless attached a considerable value to some of its "excess" war materiel at the time.

Resold to British.

Altho the report did not show Great Britain and Canada as the principal purchasers of the materiel, most of the various arms and supplies went to those countries.

Most of the arms were sold to the United States Steel corporation and other private concerns, which in turn resold them to the British empire.

This method of sale was employed because direct sales of arms by this government to a belligerent is forbidden. The report also disclosed details of direct sales of materiel to Finland, Panama, Nicaragua, and El Salvador, which were not barred from making purchases direct from the army.

Aircraft Not Included.

The Stimson report did not mention army aircraft which is now in British service. This was not included in the report because army and navy planes were not sold either to Britain or the manufacturers. The planes were returned to the manufacturers with the understanding they would be replaced by the value in new aircraft at such time as manufacturers would be able to make the replacement.

No official figures have been released on the number of planes taken from the army and navy under this arrangement. Representative James E. Van Zandt [R., Pa.] estimated that 2,200 planes were taken from the army and navy. Few, if any, of these planes have seen action. They are being used largely as training planes by the British, according to reports from England.

Many of the items sold by the army were purchased by this government at the close of the world war. The sales were made by Britain and France at a time when those countries considered the weapons obsolete or of little military value, and pushed the sales in order to get needed cash. This is particularly true of the machine guns and field pieces.

CALIFORNIA GROUP IN CONGRESS TORN BY ANGRY TEMPERS

Senator Johnson.

In the senate, Senator Hiram W. Johnson refused to allow Democratic Senator Sheridan Downey to escort him into the well of the chamber to be sworn in for a fifth term.

In the house, Republicans from California squabbled noisily and two nearly came to blows.

Senator Johnson explained that he regarded it as "all damn nonsense that a man has to walk down the aisle on some man's arm."

But it appeared that the 74 year old Republican shoved his colleague brusquely aside before marching down the center aisle, unescorted and unsmiling, for the induction ceremony.

Downey, who was escorted by Johnson at his own induction two years ago, asserted that he was "at a loss" to explain Johnson's action today.

Auto-Train Crash Kills 4; 3 of Them School Athletes

Benson, N. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—Four young persons—three of them members of the Clayton High school basketball teams—were killed here tonight when their automobile collided with an Atlantic Coast line train at a crossing. The dead were Yvonne Whitley, 16 years old, and Lilburn Barnes, 16, members of a girls' team; John Arch Vinson, 17, member of a boys' team, and James Ralph Satterfield, 18, home on vacation from Georgia Military academy. David Satterfield, 19, brother of James, was injured.

DEMOCRAT COST PUT AT $2,438,091; G. O. P. IS $2,812,003

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—The Democratic national committee reported today it spent $2,438,091 in its 1940 political activity, and the Republican national committee listed its expenditures at $2,812,003. The disbursements of both, as reported to the clerk of the house, thus were within the 3 million dollar limit fixed by the Hatch act.

The Democratic committee reported its receipts amounted to $2,452,131, including $105,000 in loans. It listed unpaid obligations, including bills and loans, at $423,061. The Republican committee listed its receipts for the year at $2,931,210, including $569,260 which it collected from state committees and remitted to them. The Republican report, however, did not disclose whether the committee had any outstanding obligations.

The national Republican congressional committee reported total receipts of $172,993 and disbursements of $147,597 from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31. The Democratic congressional campaign committee reported that it had received $102,527 and spent $101,858 during the year.

NEW CONGRESS GIRDS FOR FIGHT ON WAR ISSUE

Question Comes to Fore as Session Opens.

I thought the President's analysis of the world situation as it affects us was bold and courageous; it certainly clears up in the minds of many people the position the administration is taking in this great emergency.

Van Nuys Questions Optimism.

SENATOR FREDERICK VAN NUYS [D., Ind.]—The President's speech was a strong, forceful résumé of the international situation and our problems here at home. I cannot subscribe to his optimism when he prophesies that all of our great industrial expansion occasioned by the new defense program will be absorbed by peace time demands following the termination of the war. That wasn't our experience in the last world war, and I think my position is sustained by a large percentage of the industrialists. I think Winston Churchill was more nearly correct in prophesying that the continuance of the war means 'blood and tears, toil and sweat.'

In my opinion that's what is coming to America eventually even if we do not become an active belligerent.

From my voluminous correspondence, it is clear that the President's speech has been interpreted by a great many people in the middle west as indicative of our final entry into the war.

Gillette Wants Clarification.

SENATOR GUY M. GILLETTE [D., Ia.]—It was a magnificent speech and it went a long way toward clarifying the issue that will be before the American people, but it did not go far enough. The issues that are to be determined by the people are so tied up with our own security that they should be so clearly stated as to permit no misunderstanding.

The President's speech failed of that clear definition, altho it approached it. For the first time so far as I know there was no mention from beginning to end of aid 'short of war.' For the first time merchant ships were added to the categories of material to be furnished, and the door was left wide open for the use of American convoys of merchant ships.

SENATOR CLYDE L. HERRING [D., Ia.]—I was in Iowa at the time and I found nothing but universal approval, both among Republicans and Democrats, of the President's speech. Frankly I thought it was restrained, and I was very much in accord with it.

SENATOR RAYMOND E. WILLIS [R., Ind.]—The President rendered a great service in outlining clearly the responsibilities back of all possible aid to Britain. While the President denies any intention or desire of being drawn into war, that is one of the things likely to happen under his program.

Senator Robert M. La Follette [Prog., Wis.] and Senator Alexander Wiley [R., Wis.] both deferred comment on the President's speech pending further clarification of his program in his annual message on the state of the union next Monday. Senator Prentiss M. Brown [D., Mich.] is absent from Washington because of illness.

Republican Leader Martin said that the house Republicans "are 100 per cent for national defense. We are ready to go along, too, in support of proper aid to Britain. We will insist, however, that the money be expended wisely and that there be no waste."

Congressmen Also Comment.

Typical comments of midwestern representatives follow:

EVERETT M. DIRKSEN [R., Ill.].—The President in his fireside chat served notice on the American people that they must choose between war now and war later. He is endeavoring to prepare their minds for the acceptance of war now. He spoke of realism. Well, a realistic view is that we can't lick Germany unless we send troops to Europe. If Britain is to win, we've got to go into the war. But that's too brutal to tell the people now. The President will get around to that later. But unless we get into the war soon, watch out for peace feelers in Europe.

LEO KOCIALKOWSKI [D., Ill.].—The President's program is indorsed 100 per cent by myself and overwhelmingly by my constituents, as I learned by diligent inquiry before departing from Chicago for this session of congress.

Finds History Repeating.

HAROLD KNUTSON [R., Minn.].—If the President had made that speech before election the result would have been reversed. We were deceived 24 years ago when the slogan was "He kept us out of war." Unfortunately for the country history is repeating itself.

STEPHEN A. DAY [R., Ill.].—The President's program ought to be a warning to congress of the danger of ignoring the constitution and the law. We have departed from the law already in giving aid to Great Britain. The sooner we get back to observance of the law the better it will be for us. The President's project to lend and lease armament to Britain is simply a scheme to circumvent the Johnson act and the neutrality act.

ANTON J. JOHNSON [R., Ill.].—If we convoy arms to Britain as the President proposes we will become a belligerent, and as a belligerent we will have to send our boys to Europe. I am sympathetic with Great Britain. We have been generous in aiding Britain. We are sharing aircraft with Britain 50-50. Evidently we are to get the last 50 per cent. If we are in the danger the President says we are in, we need those planes today instead of tomorrow.

F. D. R. TO SEEK FREE HAND FOR ARMS SPENDING

Barkley Tells President's Financial Plans.

for aid to other countries or to lend any part of the equipment of the army and navy to Great Britain, the opposition undoubtedly will be strong. The noninterventionists and many members who favor the administration's policy of aiding Great Britain insist that this country's own defenses must not be dissipated. Also, there has been powerful opposition in recent years to blank check appropriations, such as the 4 billion 800 million dollar work relief measure of 1935.

Mentions Neutrality Law.

Barkley said the President's arms lending proposal might necessitate minor amendments to the neutrality act of 1939. This measure forbids the exportation of munitions and other materials to a belligerent country until they have been paid for and title thereto has been transferred to the purchaser. President Roosevelt asserted when he first proposed his arms lending program that it would require no modification of the neutrality act or the Johnson act, which forbids loans to defaulting war debtor nations.

Barkley declared that federal revenues for the current fiscal year will exceed the original budget estimates by about 1 billion dollars, as a result of the two new tax laws passed in 1940 and the vast arms spending program.

9 Billion Deficit Foreseen.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. estimated on Aug. 9 that receipts for the current fiscal year would be 6 billion, 367 million dollars and expenditures would be 12 billion, 58 million dollars, leaving a deficit of 5 billion, 691 million dollars. These estimates took into consideration the new taxes and national defense spending.

Revenues during the fiscal year 1942, Barkley said, will be further increased by the proposed new taxes and will finance the nondefense part of the budget [about 7 billion dollars] with perhaps a billion dollars left over. With armament appropriations aggregating 10 billion dollars, such revenues would leave a deficit of 9 billion dollars.

Early in the new session, congress will be asked to increase the statutory national debt limit from 49 billion to 65 billion dollars. The actual national debt has just passed the 45 billion dollar mark, which was the statutory limit before congress last year raised it to 49 billion.

Reserve Bill Introduced.

Senator Robert A. Taft [R., O.], a member of the banking and currency committee, today introduced a bill incorporating most of the legislative program advocated by the federal reserve system to curb the inflation danger.

It calls for repeal of the President's power further to devalue the dollar and his power to issue 3 billion dollars of greenbacks; cessation of foreign silver purchases and abrogation of the treasury's authority to issue currency against such silver, and authority for the federal reserve system to increase the reserve requirements of member banks in order to prevent credit inflation.

"There is no doubt about the increased danger of inflation resulting from the defense program, and it is encouraging to have the federal reserve board and the bankers of the country present a program of this kind," said Senator Taft.

PRESIDENT LIFTS 8 HOUR DAY ON DEFENSE BASES

Action Applauded by Army and Navy Officials.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—Army and navy officials today hailed President Roosevelt's executive order, suspending the eight hour for workers engaged on construction at defense base sites leased from Britain in exchange for 50 world war destroyers, as a move which will give great impetus to early completion of the defensive chain which extends from Newfoundland to British Guiana.

In the requirements of the law which would have limited work on the bases to eight hours a day, Mr. Roosevelt found that a state of "extraordinary emergency exists" which made the action desirable. The executive order was signed Dec. 31 and made public today.

Phrase Arouses Speculation.

The use of the phrase "extraordinary emergency" aroused some speculation as to whether Mr. Roosevelt is not about to extend the limited emergency he proclaimed shortly after the outbreak of the European war to an unlimited emergency. Legal authorities scouted the report on the ground that under the limited emergency Mr. Roosevelt has all the powers he could assume by the proclamation of a full emergency and that such a proclamation would accomplish nothing.

There is no listing of the Presidential powers under the limited emergency proclamation because by the proclamation Mr. Roosevelt left the field of written powers and entered the domain of implied powers. Legal experts said that for this reason there is no limit as to what the President might do except such as the courts, which he controls, might exercise.

There was no indication that the suspension of the eight hour day on British possessions would lead to suspensions of like character in this country. Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly insisted that the administration will stand behind what it terms its social gains.

Protected by Law.

Under the act of 1892 and 1913 employés on army arsenals and navy yards, which embrace the base employés, can be employed as much as 48 hours a week providing they receive overtime for the eight hours in excess of 40. These employés may not work more than 48 hours unless the President specifically finds an extraordinary emergency exists.

At his press conference today he said a wide variety of labor practices exist in the British possessions on which sites have been secured and fixing of the 40 hour limit would adversely affect local labor problems. The persons employed on the construction work are chiefly British subjects, altho the engineers and other executives are in the American armed forces or American citizens.

In the proclamation Mr. Roosevelt said it would be impossible because of the distance of the base sites from sources of labor to find sufficient workers to operate in shifts to complete the establishments in the time required for the best interests of security.

W. H. Hornibrook, Envoy to Costa Rica, Resigns

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Jan. 3.—William H. Hornibrook, United States minister here, has presented his resignation to the state department, it was reported today. It was said he desires to return to the United States to engage in business. Hornibrook was appointed on July 2, 1937.

[In Washington, the state department said it had no confirmation of Hornibrook's resignation but would not be surprised if it were true. All ministers are resigning as of Jan. 20, inauguration day, and in some cases it may be permanent.]

Injured in Red Cross Work, Wife of Nazi Admiral Dies

New York, Jan. 3 (AP).—A German radio broadcast heard here today said Emma Carls, wife of Admiral General Rolf Carls, head of the navy command in the north, had died at the German naval base of Kiel as the result of an accident "suffered in Red Cross service during the night of New Year's eve." The British reported R. A. F. bombings of several targets in Germany New Year's eve, but Kiel was not listed.

Two Lane Weddings

Lola Lane of the movies announced yesterday that she will wed Henry Clay Dunham Monday.

Leota Lane, Lola's sister, became the bride of Edward J. Pitts yesterday.

Mount Kisco, N. Y., Jan. 3 (AP).—Leota Lane, sister to Rosemary, Priscilla, and Lola Lane of movie fame, was married today to Edward J. Pitts, a New York theater official. The bride, a former opera singer, gave her age as 26 and said she had been twice married and divorced.

Pitts said he was 43 and also had been twice married. His first wife died and his second marriage was annulled, he said.

Lola Lane announced in Hollywood today that she would marry Henry Clay Dunham, a yacht broker, Monday.

200 MERCHANT SHIPS ORDERED BY ROOSEVELT

New Program Expected to Cost 300 Millions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—President Roosevelt today announced a program of merchant ship building which will provide 200 vessels at a cost of between 300 and 350 million dollars.

To start the work immediately he disclosed he had allocated 36 million dollars from discretionary funds at his disposal.

The announcement came as Great Britain was calling upon this country to aid her in replacing the heavy maritime losses she has suffered from bombs, mines, and torpedoes.

Dodges a Question.

Mr. Roosevelt dodged all efforts to ascertain whether the program was undertaken as a move to give prompt aid to Britain thru the release of existing American vessels to fill the gaps in the British merchant marine.

Britain has also suggested that German merchantmen and those of countries occupied by the Nazis be turned over to the British merchant fleet. Germany vigorously protested against the suggestion that German ships be put under the British flag by this country. At present maritime officials are considering the latest British suggestion—that the United States take over empire trade routes in the Pacific and release British vessels for Atlantic operations.

Ownership in Doubt.

Mr. Roosevelt dismissed as "iffy" a question whether the program would release vessels now on shipbuilding ways to Britain. He said the question of the ownership of the vessels—whether it would be governmental or private—is still to be worked out.

He said the program was being undertaken because the war is depleting the number of merchant vessels and unless something is done there will be a serious shortage of vessels when peace comes.

Mr. Roosevelt said the first of the new vessels will be finished within a year. He said they will be of one type of about 7,500 tons.

They'll Lack Beauty.

Ship lovers will hate the appearance of the vessels, he said, because the design is to be simplified so that they can be prefabricated. The design, altho not a thing of beauty, will permit a saving of six to eight months in construction time on each vessel.

Maritime experts said that the vessels will probably have provision for gun mounts so that they can be armed in event of emergency.

WANDERER FINDS A POLICE CELL IS NOT TO HIS LIKING

The 3 year old boy whom the Austin police found wandering about at Laramie avenue and Huron street at 1 a. m. yesterday wasn't as well pleased with the station as he might have been, considering that his father is a policeman. When he was shown a cell he said, "Take me out of here; this is the place for bad men." His guards turned the lad over to St. Vincent's orphanage, where he was joyfully retrieved some hours later by his father, Policeman John Kennelly of 547 North Lockwood avenue. Kennelly said the lad, whose name is John Jr., must have slipped away from home Thursday night and wasn't missed until daylight. John Jr. explained that he was looking for Frances, his girl friend.

MONEY LAW CUTS CANADA'S MOOSE LODGES FROM U. S.

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 3 (AP).—Foreign exchange control board regulations have resulted in severance of the Loyal Order of Moose in Canada from the parent organization in the United States, S. V. Ponton, past governor of the Windsor lodge and newly appointed executive member of the Canadian grand lodge, said today.

The break was caused by the regulation forbidding the export of large sums of money from the dominion.

Before the regulation was introduced all Moose lodges in Canada were under the direction of the supreme lodge in Mooseheart, Ill., and dues were sent there.

SNOWSTORM HITS CITY; COLD WAVE FORECAST TODAY

A driving snow storm swept into Chicago last night, only a short time after the weather bureau forecast that a cold wave would arrive today and drive the mercury down to 5 or 10 degrees above zero. It fell from 32 at 10 p. m. to 13 at 2 a. m.

Streets were so slippery and the visibility so low that traffic on the main arteries crept along. In the southern part of Cook county the county highway police squads were called in, officers fearing that the lack of vision would cause accidents.

From the Chicago Motor club came reports that the snow was falling rapidly in such widely separated cities as Wisconsin Dells, Wis., Rockford and Peoria, as well as over the whole Chicago suburban area. Country highways were described as extremely dangerous. In Minnesota and the Dakotas some roads were made impassable by drifts.

The forecast, which had indicated only flurries of snow, was for partly cloudy and continued cold tomorrow. Lake storm warnings were issued.

SOLDIER MATE OF ROSEMARY BAUR WOUNDED IN WAR

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Bartle Bull, Conservative member of parliament and husband of the former Rosemary Baur of Chicago, daughter of Mrs. Jacob Baur, has been wounded in active service in the middle east, according to reports received here today.

Bartle Bull.

Bull, 38 years old, married the former Miss Baur in 1931, at which time she was described as the richest debutante in Chicago. Bull, a native of Toronto, attended Eton and Oxford, passed his bar examination, then managed a cattle ranch in Cuba before beginning his practice here.

He has been a Conservative member of parliament from Enfield since 1931. He was commissioned a second lieutenant 15 months ago. He has one son and one daughter.

Mrs. Bartle Bull, who is staying with her two children at the home of her mother, Mrs. Jacob Baur, 1511 Astor street, said last night that she had received word from London advising that her husband had been wounded in action. The cable did not indicate how serious the wound is, she said. Lieut. Bull is with the famed Coldstream Guards. Mrs. Bull and the children came to Chicago in October, presumably for the duration of the war.

GERMANS CLAIM BULGARIA ADOPTS WARTIME RULES

Talk of Nervousness in Balkan Capital.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—While diplomats were conjecturing today on the nature of the conversations of Premier Bogdan Philoff of Bulgaria in Vienna and on imminent developments expected in the Balkans, the German press paid increasing attention to Bulgaria. Germans commented on the nervousness in Sofia.

"Evidence of Bulgarian preparations against apparently threatening dangers" was mentioned in the Boersenzeitung, organ of the German armed forces.

Deny Ribbentrop Is in Vienna.

There were reports that Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop of Germany was in Vienna conferring with Philoff but this was denied by German official quarters. Von Ribbentrop's father died this week and he may have been detained because of the death. When pressed for information on the possibility of a trip by Von Ribbentrop to southern Germany, authorized sources said that nothing could be said about the minister's trips in time of war.

Germans compared Belgrade with Sofia. They said that the Jugo-Slav capital has the appearances of a city enjoying peacetime while Sofia is more like a city in wartime. It is blacked out and has introduced ration lists for customers in foodshops and similar restrictions.

Propaganda leaflets are being showered on the Bulgarian population by different parties. The Germans said, with evident satisfaction, that a new magazine has been started "to help the population understand the trend of the new Europe" as envisaged by the authoritarian powers and the "Bulgaria of tomorrow."

Philoff Visits Specialist.

VIENNA, Jan. 3 (AP).—Premier Bogdan Philoff of Bulgaria visited Prof. Hans Eppinger, a physician, today, and was told to return tomorrow. Dr. Eppinger is described as a specialist in internal diseases. The premier had luncheon at the Imperial hotel with Bulgarian friends.

Bulgarians Uneasy.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 3 (AP).—The decision of Germany to give Italy aerial assistance in her Mediterranean war with Great Britain and Greece created a new wave of uneasiness in Bulgaria tonight.

There was concern in political circles that the German aid might alter the trend in the Greek-Italian war and thereby bring the conflict closer to Bulgarian frontiers.

Such a development, it was pointed out, might upset further the delicate balance in the military situation around Bulgaria by bringing into motion Turkish forces concentrated on the southern border, German forces on the north and Russian troops massed along the frontier of northern Dobruja.

German aid to Italy thus became another element in the general situation which Premier Bogdan Philoff is expected to discuss with Nazi officials during his "health trip" to Vienna.

Axis "Fights Together.'

BERLIN, Jan. 3 (AP).—The appearance of German air force units in Italy is notice to Britain that the axis powers will unite their military forces wherever necessary to face Britain, the German commentary, Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz, said tonight.

The commentary, often considered to be a foreign office mouthpiece, said the British apparently had assumed Germany would confine herself to the northern theater of war while letting Italy take care of operations in the Mediterranean area.

But, it observed, the presence of a German air force in Italy was evidence of the closest military coöperation between the axis powers, a coöperation that already had been shown by the facts that Italian warplanes had flown over England and Italian submarines were operating in the Atlantic.

MYSTERIOUS SHIP IS SIGHTED OFF ALASKAN COAST

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 3 (AP).—A mysterious gray steamship, of unknown nationality and flying no flag, was reported off the Alaskan coast today. A report received in marine circles here said the vessel refused to answer radio requests asking her identity and ignored light signals from passing vessels.

Mariners speculated whether it might be a raider headed for Bering Strait.

The craft was described as about 400 feet long with a cutter bow, square stern, bridge amidships, and four arched cargo booms.

Irish Group in U.S. Protests 'Unwarranted' Nazi Attack

New York, Jan. 3 (AP).—The American Friends of Irish Neutrality, claiming to represent some 200 Irish organizations, tonight telegraphed the German embassy in Washington a protest against "the unwarranted invasion of Ireland's neutral territory." The association said it was "voicing the sentiment of many millions of Americans" in regarding "with great concern the ruthless killing of Irish people which has occurred within the last two days and which allegedly has been caused by German action."

Gives Up Will Fight

MRS. PLUMA PALMER.

Sarasota, Fla., Jan. 3 (AP).—Mrs. Pluma Louise Palmer today recorded a deed conveying to her father-in-law for $2,389, all her "property title rights, interest and claims" under wills of her late husband's grandparents.

The widow of D'Orsay Palmer, playboy member of a wealthy and socially prominent Chicago family, thereby apparently ended her long legal fight for a share of the Potter Palmer fortune. The deed was made to Honore Palmer, D'Orsay Palmer's father.

D'Orsay Palmer, a beneficiary of the estate left by Potter and Bertha Honore Palmer of Chicago, died here May 15, 1939, of streptococcus infection.

Pluma and D'Orsay Palmer were married Dec. 1, 1938, at Punta Gorda. She was his fourth wife and was a roadside inn waitress at the time of their marriage. A few months later, Mrs. Palmer filed suit for separate maintenance and sued her husband's parents for $500,000, charging alienation of affections, but a reconciliation was effected and the action was abandoned shortly before D'Orsay's death.

VON LUCKNER HAS COMPLAINT BOOK FOR SEA VICTIMS

Norwegians Tell Story of Nazi Raider.

HONGKONG, Jan. 3 (AP).—The story of how Count Felix von Luckner, again at his old job of prowling the seas for Germany but as always, a gallant, gave his victims a "complaint book" to keep during their captivity was credited today to the survivors of two Norwegian ships, one seized, one sunk.

The story came to light today thru a European who said he had heard it when the Norwegians passed thru Hongkong, en route home via Vladivostok.

Some time ago, according to this account, the crew from a Nazi raider boarded a Norwegian ship in Sumatra waters after an exchange of fire in which nine Norwegians were killed.

Luckner at Helm.

The raider, at first mistaken for a peaceful merchantman, turned out to be the former British Glen liner Glengarry, 7,100 tons, seized by the Germans at Copenhagen, and sent into the Pacific by a devious route.

Von Luckner, the story goes, was at the helm.

The 54 year old count addressed the survivors personally, saying he regretted that he had to fire. Then he presented them with the "complaint book" and assured them it would receive his personal attention.

The raider went into the Indian ocean with the Norwegians below decks, approached another Norwegian ship and shelled and sank her; then took the survivors aboard and headed for Kobe, Japan.

Ship Is New Seeadler.

There the prisoners were placed aboard the German liner Scharnhorst. Subsequently a number of the Norwegians were released and repatriated to Norway by arrangement of the British and Norwegian consulates.

The most recent exploit credited to the Glengarry, reputedly Von Luckner's 1940 Seeadler [Sea Eagle], is the sinking of the British liner Rancitane on Nov. 26. The ship's crew and passengers were landed on a little island near New Guinea, and later rescued.

In was in the Seeadler, a madeover windjammer, that Von Luckner, 24 years ago, ran the allied blockade and made his way to the South Pacific, leaving a trail of wrecked merchantmen. In 1916 and 1917 he sank more than 25 allied ships before a tidal wave drove him on the Montpelier Island reef while he was trying to land prisoners from the American schooner Manila. In another vessel he got as far as the Fiji Islands, where he was captured.

Berlin Strives to Reduce Accidents in Blackouts

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—A new campaign to educate the population on how to act in blackouts in order to reduce the number of street accidents is being conducted in Berlin. Radio, newsreels, and press are admonishing the population to "step cautiously in the blackouts and close their eyes to get accustomed to the darkness when leaving lighted houses."

NAZIS SET GREAT FIRES IN RAIDS ON 2 BRITISH CITIES

Hundreds Battle Flames; London Is Quiet.

LONDON, Jan. 4, Saturday (AP).—Hundreds of firemen and volunteers fought desperately early today against great German set fires in two British towns—one in the western Midlands [possibly Birmingham] and the other in southwest England [possibly Cardiff, Wales, or Plymouth].

The assaults by German airmen hurling fire and explosive bombs began last night and appeared to have assumed the proportions early today of previous Nazi attacks on London, Cardiff, Birmingham, Coventry, and Bristol. Four firemen and two soldiers were killed in the southwestern town in fighting the flames.

Incendiary and high explosive bombs continued to rain down on this town until several hours after midnight, when the all clear signal finally was given.

Earlier messages from the west Midlands town said that alert civilians had saved many buildings there by extinguishing the flames before they could get a good start.

Alarms in London.

London had three alarms by early today, but only an occasional plane was heard overhead accompanied by sporadic bursts of antiaircraft fire. The third alarm was lifted about 4 a. m.

Other raiders were stated to be over a town in the northwest and Liverpool. Snow continued to fall during the night and a northwest wind made the English channel choppy.

The British Press association said that sections of Cardiff, hard hit by the Nazis Thursday night, were "reminiscent of scenes at Ypres [Belgium] in the world war."

For the third successive night royal air force bombers tonight battered the leading German port and industrial city of Bremen, it was authoritatively reported. Many large fires were reported burning in Bremen after the attack. It was said that in the second attack "enormous" fires were set off in shipyards and factories.

German Factories Set Afire.

BERLIN, Jan. 3 (AP).—The German high command acknowledged today that in night British bombardments of "two northern German communities" factory and storeroom fires were started and eight persons were killed and 20 injured.

At the same time the daily communique told of an all caliber German air bombardment of the city and harbor of Cardiff, Wales, last night in retaliation for attacks on Bremen. Some of the resulting "numerous fires" could be seen more than 60 miles from Cardiff, according to the Germans.

From The Hague, D.N.B., official German news agency, reported that the R. A. F. bombed two Dutch towns last night, destroying several dwellings and killing four civilians.

Yesterday's German attacks along the English east coast brought the sinking of a British patrol boat under a dive bomber attack, the communique said.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—The "don't tell war secrets" placards used widely in England now have their counterparts in the United States war department. New posters decorated with cartoons adorn the army's central offices here.

SEIZE PRESIDENT OF NATIONALISTS' PARTY IN BOMBAY

Predict New Campaign by Gandhi.

New Gandhi Action Predicted.

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP).—Britain today was represented as standing firm in her attitude toward India despite predictions that Mohandas K. Gandhi would extend his civil disobedience campaign Sunday after a Christmas truce.

Several leaders of Gandhi's Congress party and many other members were arrested before he called a 13 day halt of anti-war speeches to avoid inconvenience to police during the holidays.

The Congress party campaign started Oct. 17 after the British viceroy, Lord Linlithgow, rejected Gandhi's request for freedom to disseminate his anti-war views. The campaign tightened the long deadlock which had been created by the Congress party's demand for independence for India.

No Resumption of Talks Seen.

The holiday truce apparently failed to produce any new atmosphere for a resumption of talks between Gandhi and Linlithgow.

How far a civil disobedience campaign might be carried is a matter of speculation. Gandhi has professed a desire not to embarrass Britain in a critical hour, and likewise has warned that his policy for the Congress party would not be carried to the point of self-extinction.

Name Congressman Allen to Assignment Committee

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—The Republican caucus in the house today selected Representative Leo E. Allen of Illinois to serve on the Republican committee on committees, which will assign the party's congressmen to house committees.

DRIVER AND HELPER ROBBED.

Louis Franko, 5510 Congress street, a truck driver, and Otto Throw, 6431 Normal boulevard, his helper, were robbed of $70 yesterday in the rear of 309 West Elm street as they parked an oil truck.

ITALIAN DEFENSE IN MID-ALBANIA BROKEN: GREECE

New Gains Reported in Klisura Area.

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 4, Saturday (AP).—Greek troops broke thru Italian defenses in Albania in the central sector to pave the way for what was authoritatively described early today as "an important development in the war."

The scene of the breaching was not located specifically, but it was understood to be north and east of the Klisura-Tepeleni area which a government spokesman earlier had declared was pierced by the Greeks.

Gains northeast of Chimara on the coast also were chalked up by the Greeks in the drive north toward the important Fascist bases of Valona on the coast, and inland Berati and Elbasan.

Tanks Put to Flight.

Earlier the spokesman had declared that "desperate" Italian counterattacks failed to dislodge the Greeks from newly acquired heights in the Klisura region, and that Italian tanks had been put to "headlong flight" from that region to the Adriatic sea. The Greeks said the Italians suffered heavy losses.

"The whole region of the Tepeleni-Klisura line has been brought under control of Greek fire," advices from the front said.

It is via the road running from Klisura thru Tepeleni to the west that Greek forces in central Albania aim to press on to Valona simultaneously with the southern wing advancing up the coast from Chimara.

In the latter sector, and in the Pogradetz area south of Lake Ochrida, the Greeks claimed they had repulsed enemy tank assaults and destroyed a number of machines.

Find Bodies of 200 Italians.

Heavy fighting continued, especially from the coast to Klisura, despite adverse weather.

The bodies of 200 Italians were reported found on camp beds in a mountain cavern converted into a field hospital. The Greeks, who said the men apparently froze to death after being abandoned by retreating comrades, gave the victims military burial in frozen ground.

In the north central sector, Elbasan, Italian base 30 miles south of Albania's capital, Tirana, was heavily bombed Thursday by British airmen, a British communique said.

Three large fires were started, one in a big building in the center of the town, the British related. A military barrack also was believed struck.

Nazi General Sends U. S. Money to Kin in Britain

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP).—Field Marshal Gen. Erhard Milch, No. 2 man of the German air force, has sent $100 in American money to his son-in-law, Joachim-Heinrich Schlichting, a prisoner of war in Britain, the ministry of information announced today. The ministry pointed out that it is contrary to German currency regulations to send foreign money out of Germany, and asked: "Has he [Milch] a secret bank account in America?"

NEW AIR LINE ROUTE TO WESTERN CANADA IS APPROVED BY U. S.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 [Special].—The civil aeronautics board today granted Western Air Express, Inc., rights to provide transportation by air between Great Falls, Mont., and Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada. The board declared that the new route was necessary to complete a protected inland airway from the United States to Alaska along the east side of the Rocky mountains as a defense measure.

The order provided that the route should be flown by Cut Bank-Shelby, Mont., where recent oil developments have given that hitherto deserted and lightly populated area new importance.

The new route, 195 miles in length, will continue Western Air Express' airway that now extends from Los Angeles, Cal., to Salt Lake City, Utah, and Great Falls. At Lethbridge the service makes connection with Trans-Canada's west-east route, and with the same company's Edmonton-Calgary north-south extension. At Edmonton, Trans-Canada's planes connect with a route to White Horse, Yukon territory, whence Pacific Alaska airways flies to Fairbanks, Alaska.

JAPANESE JAM REBROADCAST OF ROOSEVELT TALK

Interference Cuts Off Shanghai Program.

Since a recent American protest, Japanese consular officials have repeatedly informed Americans they hoped to arrange a cessation of interference.

Japs Accuse Marines.

PEKING, China, Jan. 3 (AP).—Japanese military officials, countering demands for an apology for the "illegal arrest" of five United States marines on Dec. 30 in a cabaret incident, charged today that the affair was precipitated by "a celebrating marine who grabbed a pipe from the mouth of a Japanese."

The statement, coming from headquarters of Lieut. Gen. Hayao Tada, commander of the Japanese army in North China, asserted further that all the marines involved had been "celebrating." It denied a charge by Col. Allen H. Turnage, Unites States marine commander here, that the incident was "Japanese instigated."

The Japanese said "our highest authorities are investigating the affair," but indicated their own conclusions already had been reached. It was indicated that no reply had yet been made to Col. Turnage.

Bomb Kunming.

KUNMING, China, Jan. 3 (AP).—This Chinese terminus of the Burma road was under air raid alarm for five hours today as Japanese dive bombers attacked an eastern suburb. Several persons were reported killed and 20 injured, but Chinese authorities said material damage was slight. Japanese planes pelted the city yesterday with leaflets urging support for the Nanking government of Wang Ching-wei and bombed points west of the city.

TORPEDOES SINK FRENCH TANKER AND SUBMARINE

74 Are Lost in Attack by Unidentified Craft.

VICHY, France, Jan. 3 (AP).—The naval ministry tonight announced that the French submarine Sfax and the oil tanker Rhone were torpedoed Dec. 19 by a warcraft of undetermined nationality while en route from Casablanca to Dakar, French West Africa.

The submarine, one of the fastest in the French navy, was convoying the Rhone, but it was not learned if there were other ships in the convoy.

74 Seamen Are Lost.

Sixty-four members of the Sfax's crew and 10 members of the Rhone's crew were lost, according to the naval ministry's communique, which follows:

"On Dec. 19 the 1,500 ton submarine Sfax and the navy oil tanker Rhone were en route together from Casablanca to Dakar. At 4:40 p. m. the Sfax, after two heavy explosions aboard, disappeared. Forty-five minutes later the Rhone, which had picked up five members of the Sfax crew, was shaken by a violent explosion, probably torpedoed in turn by a submarine whose nationality still is unknown.

"The Rhone, set afire, finally sank. Sixty-four members of the crew of the Sfax and 10 members of the crew of the Rhone are missing."

Former Thetis Scores Victory.

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP).—The sinking of an Italian submarine was credited by the admiralty today to the British submarine Thunderbolt, formerly the Thetis. It was the Thetis which sank June 1, 1939, in the Irish sea, taking 99 men to death, but which later was raised, reconditioned, and renamed.

The Italian submarine was proceeding to a base "in enemy occupied territory" under escort, the admiralty announcement said, when it was attacked by the Thunderbolt, commanded by Lieut. C. B. Crouch Run.

The Thunderbolt's commander, after firing his torpedo, "saw a tall column of water rise into the air from the Italian U-boat and a large explosion occur, and when the smoke and spray cleared away only one end of the enemy vessel was seen sticking out of the water at a steep angle. This quickly disappeared."

AMERICA FIRST GROUP REPORTS 8,000 SIGN HERE

Chicago Chapter Opens 8 Subsidiary Units.

More than 8,000 persons have joined the Chicago chapter of the America First committee since offices were opened last Monday, it was announced yesterday at the headquarters, 80 East Jackson boulevard.

The Chicago chapter, organized to combat the attempts of interventionists to drag the United States into war, now has seven subsidiary chapters within the city limits and an eighth in Hammond. Four have been organized on the north side, two on the west side, and one in Beverly Hills.

Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, Chicago chapter chairman, expressed pleasure at the enthusiastic response of Chicagoans. Committee officials said that they expect to welcome neighborhood organizations at the rate of three or four a day for the next month. Plans were considered yesterday for a city-wide rally to be held before the end of January.

Induct 10,000 Women Today.

Meanwhile, preparations were made to receive 10,000 new women members into the national organization of the America First committee in a ceremony at 9:30 o'clock this morning at headquarters in the Board of Trade building. Miss Harriet E. Vittum, head of the Roll Call of American Women, will present a scroll to Gen. Robert E. Wood, national chairman of the America First committee. This document contains the pledge of 10,000 women from 42 states and 500 towns and cities to work toward keeping the United States out of war.

"We have very little time," warned Miss Vittum, resident head of the Northwestern university settlement. "We may awaken any day to the news that our boys are being sent to fight in the European war. We must work fast if we are to prevent such a thing."

Employes in the offices of the Chicago chapter reported yesterday a steady stream of persons who offered their services in the fight to keep the United States out of war. Several engagements were reported by the speakers' bureau opened to spread the doctrine of a strong defense and non-intervention.

To Debate Interventionist.

Two speakers were engaged to appear at meetings Thursday night. Sterling Morton, member of the Chicago America First committee, will oppose an interventionist speaker in a debate at the Women's Athletic club, 626 North Michigan avenue. Dr. Fred L. Adair, America First member, will speak at a meeting of the South Shore Discussion group, 7020 Jeffery avenue.

Mrs. Margaret Ayer Barnes, writer and America First speaker, will address 600 members of the Austin Woman's club on Jan. 13 in the Austin Masonic temple. On Jan. 20, Dr. Howard G. Swann of the University of Chicago will debate on behalf of the America First committee in the Washington Boulevard temple, 25 North Karlov avenue.

Regrets "Aid Allies" Stand.

As to the recent resignation of William Allen White as chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, Gen. Wood made the following comment:

"I deeply regret that the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies has not seen fit to indorse Mr. White's statement of Dec. 23 in which he urged maintenance of the neutrality law, opposed sending American ships and American convoys in the war zone, and unequivocally denounced any efforts to get us into war. These views are undoubtedly shared by the vast majority of Americans. If the White committee had indorsed them, important progress toward national unity would have been made."

U. OF C. TO OFFER PHYSICAL COURSE FOR ARMY LIFE

The University of Chicago announced last night it would start a special course of physical conditioning for prospective soldiers Jan. 13. The university's department of physical education will be in charge of the instruction.

Eligible to attend are all students, faculty, and staff members of the university and alumni and others who expect to be called into service in the next 18 months. All but the students must pay a $2 fee. Initial registration will be limited to 100. Classes will be held in Bartlett gymnasium.

Among the subjects to be taught will be wrestling, boxing, jujitsu, combat games, swimming, and first aid methods. T. Nelson Metcalf, university director of physical education, said the course will be in line with one recommended by the College Physical Education association.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has been buying new clothes in preparation for the President's third inauguration Jan. 20. In the picture at the left she wears a morning dress of a material called Americana vermilion. In the other picture she appears in a rose white satin gown, with train, with which she will wear a diamond necklace.

GERMAN SOURCES DENY BLOMBERG HAS BEEN SEIZED

BERLIN, Jan. 3 (AP).—Marshal Werner von Blomberg is vacationing in "some well known German spa," authorized sources asserted today, and reports of his arrest were said to be false.

[The British radio, in a broadcast heard in New York, said Thursday night that Von Blomberg, one-time German minister of war, was imprisoned in a Bavarian fortress by personal order of Adolf Hitler.]

"The best answer we can give," these sources asserted, "is the fact that Von Blomberg's son commanded an honor battalion at Compiegne. It would be incompatible with an officer's honor to undertake such an assignment if his father were in prison."

[The reference to Compiegne apparently was to the signing of the armistice with France in the famous forest last June. Von Blomberg fell into eclipse early in 1938 after his marriage to a carpenter's daughter. The German high command was reported displeased by the marriage and Von Blomberg immediately resigned as secretary of war.]

SIAM, INDO-CHINA CONTINUE FIGHT ALONG FRONTIER

BANGKOK, Thailand, Jan. 3 (AP).—Minor clashes continue in various sectors of the frontier between Thailand [Siam] and Indo-China, the Thai high command reported today, with hostilities extending from Chiengrai in the north to Aranyapbades in the south.

One French soldier was reported killed and 11 wounded in a clash in the Chieng-rai region. Indo-Chinese soldiers in a boat opened fire on frontier police near Bhonbihai in the Nong-khai region, a communique said, and a 35 minute fight ensued before the boat withdrew.

Gets Customs Autonomy.

VICHY, France, Jan. 3 (AP).—A decree giving French Indo-China customs autonomy as of Jan. 1 will be published tomorrow in the official gazette, it was announced today. Tariffs, on an ad valorem basis, will apply to imports from France and Algeria as well as foreign countries. Under this arrangement Indo-China can negotiate independent agreements with other countries beginning with the agreement now being negotiated with Japan.

Wholly American

New York, Jan. 3 (AP).—The three gowns Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will wear Jan. 20, when President Roosevelt is inaugurated for a third term, will be wholly American—American designed and created, and the colors of two of them have patriotic sounding names.

The President's wife spent 30 minutes today at a department store for final fittings. One gown is a wool creation of a new "Americana" shade of vermilion.

Another is a "White House blue" crêpe to be worn at the afternoon reception at the executive mansion, and the third, the inaugural evening gown, is of rose white satin.

INDUCT 127 MEN OF COOK COUNTY INTO DRAFT ARMY

One hundred twenty-seven Cook county men entered the army yesterday as the January induction machinery went into motion at the 122d regiment armory, 234 East Chicago avenue.

Only three men were missing from the list of 160 men notified to report. One of these was inducted in Florida, where he was on business. A second recently enlisted in the marines. The third, a volunteer, was unaccounted for.

Volunteers Number 55.

Fifty-five of the 157 men reporting were volunteers and the remainder draftees. In the first Cook county induction in November only seven of the 444 men were drafted men. Of the 157 who appeared 30 were rejected for mental or physical disability. The remaining 127 men were sent to Fort Sheridan.

A total of 2,975 men will be inducted here this month. The staff will function five days a week, Monday thru Friday.

More than half of the 2,975 men will be draftees, it was indicated. The rest will be classed as draft volunteers because they have asked that they be given their year's training at once instead of waiting for their draft numbers to be called.

Take In Three Married Men.

Three married men were inducted yesterday. The first policeman to be drafted is Thomas Nolan, 29 years old, 8110 Langley avenue, who has been in the traffic division for the last 11 months.

The first man more than 35 years old to be drafted in Cook county also was inducted. He is Jackson Hoyt, 4500 Wilcox street, a turret lathe operator. Hoyt was born Dec. 5, 1904. He was within seven weeks of the maximum age limit at the time of registration Oct. 16. A conference of officers decided he was eligible for induction, once registered, despite his age.

106TH ILLINOIS GUARD REGIMENT ARRIVING AT LOUISIANA CAMP

Alexandria, La., Jan. 3 [Special].—The 106th cavalry regiment of the Illinois National Guard was moving today into Camp Livingston, the 6 million dollar army camp being constructed 14 miles north of Alexandria for the 32d division. The regiment's entire strength of 1,048 men and 61 officers is expected to be in camp by tomorrow.

Included in the regiment and due for arrival tomorrow is Chicago's Black Horse squadron of 600 enlisted men and officers. The equipment includes 600 horses, virtually all of which are black, and 58 motor vehicles.

Lieut. Col. George L. Simpson of Eau Claire, Wis., assistant chief of staff of the 32d division and acting camp executive at Camp Livingston, said that quarters, mess halls, and stables for the 106th cavalry were in readiness.

Arriving today were a trainload of service and attached medical troops from Urbana, Ill., with 7 officers, 193 enlisted men, and 50 animals aboard, and a train bearing troops F, D, and E, with 245 enlisted men and 11 officers from Springfield, Ill. An advance detachment of 174 men and 6 officers has been in camp for some time.

KEEP OUT OF WAR GROUP LAUNCHES SIGNATURE DRIVE

Six hundred members of the Citizens' Keep America Out of War committee met last night in the LaSalle hotel to launch a campaign for a million signatures asking that this country keep out of the war.

William J. Grace, chairman of the group, asked those present to obtain 50 signatures each to their petitions and return them tonight to headquarters at 77 West Washington street. He said also that the group hoped to have Senator Gerald Nye [R., N. D.] and the Rev. John O'Brien of Notre Dame address a rally sometime this month.

Grace said 200 letters and 300 phone calls are received at headquarters daily.

COLLEGIANS SEEK ENLISTMENT IN NAVAL AIR CORPS

Many collegians home for the holidays have applied for enlistment in the navy air service, it was announced yesterday. Lieut. Carl G. Olson, senior member of the Naval Reserve Air Examining board, said, however, that only those whose chances of graduation seem slight will be accepted. Lieut. Olson said the navy refuses to encourage applicants to leave school, and that college seniors who have enlisted are not called to duty until after graduation. The board's quota of 36 enlistments for January already has been filled, he said, and the February quota of 42 is sure to be met.

Hyde Park police yesterday charged Mrs. Bessie Fedorowsky, operator of a candy store at 845 East 55th street, with selling cigarets to minors.

NEW BLOOD TEST LAW CUTS CROWN POINT'S MARRIAGE BUSINESS

Indiana's blood test law which went into effect last March cut heavily into Crown Point's marriage license business in 1940, Walter Mybeck, clerk of the Lake county Circuit court, reported yesterday. A total of 4,476 licenses were issued during the year, the lowest number in at least 16 years. There were 5,925 licenses issued in 1939 and an all time high of 11,410 in 1937, when Crown Point was a notorious Gretna Green.

"Both the test requirement and the fact that I'm running this office on a business basis and not issuing licenses at all hours are responsible for the drop," Mybeck said.

Under Mybeck's régime, the clerk's office is closed on Sundays and holidays and licenses are not issued after regular closing time.

DISTRESS GROWS AS ICE AND SNOW CRIPPLE FRANCE

Lack of Food and Fuel Causes Suffering.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LYONS, France, Jan. 3.—The whole of France today was paralyzed by the worst onslaught of cold weather and snow in 25 years.

With snow from one to five feet deep, delaying trains and stopping traffic in many areas from the Mediterranean to the English channel, a blizzard whipped by a 40 mile gale was raging in this region tonight. The storm began early yesterday. Many deaths have been reported.

This second winter offensive, coming after a cold wave at Christmas time, added to the misery and want already accentuated by war conditions and made it difficult to supply many regions with fuel and food.

Drifts Block Highways.

In Lyons the temperature dropped to 4 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit. Street cars stopped running for almost 24 hours. Trains were from 4 to 10 hours late. No trains left here after 11 p. m. yesterday. Drifts 10 feet high blocked roads between here and Vichy and Marseilles. Many persons went about on skis. Inhabitants of this region hovered over scanty fires.

To the east of Lyons, in the Alps region around Grenoble, four to five feet of snow were reported and many districts were isolated.

Rivers in Flood Condition.

Coupled with the intense cold, the Rivers Rhone and Saone, which flow past here, were in flood condition and threatened to overflow their banks.

Vichy and Clermont-Ferrand were cut off from the outside world, snowdrifts halting rail and auto traffic.

The same conditions prevailed, according to reports reaching this third city of France, thruout the whole southern area of France from Toulouse to the Mediterranean coast.

This correspondent has just finished a tour of the southeastern area of France, where it is usually mild in winter but which this year is suffering from cold and lack of food and coal.

Storm Rages in Balkans.

BERNE, Switzerland, Jan. 3 (AP).—A numbing cold, accompanied by rain, snow, and sleet, gripped southern Europe today, slowing German troop movements in Rumania and thus delaying preparations for any Nazi plan to drive thru the lower Balkans.

Railroad transportation was put many hours behind in eastern Hungary, Rumania, and northern Bulgaria.

Shipping was interrupted in the Mediterranean — specifically at the ports of Gibraltar, Ceuta, and Tangier—and Spain was hit by both blizzard and a coastal hurricane.

European Russia reported a minimum temperature of 47 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, and in Moscow more than 50 small fires started because of the increased demands upon heating systems. They were extinguished.

German Trains Stopped.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—Snowdrifts are crippling train service in Thuringia. Sleeping car trains which started for south Germany last night were returned to Berlin early today with their passengers because they could not get beyond central Germany. Soldiers and labor volunteers are clearing off the tracks.

Report Chinese Steal Into Nanking and Slay 100 Japs

CHUNGKING, China, Jan. 3 (AP).—A daring raid in which a Chinese plainclothes corps was declared to have stolen into Nanking and killed more than 100 Japanese at a military post just inside the city's fortified wall, was described today in a Chinese Central News agency dispatch from South Kiangsu. The raid occurred Dec. 22, the dispatch said, and the Chinese escaped after seizing two machine guns.

MRS. FLORENCE MEROFF.

Mrs. Florence Meroff, of 40 East Oak street and Beverly Hills, Cal., was granted a divorce yesterday by Judge Rudolph Desort from Benny Meroff, orchestra leader. She is the former Florence Gast, a dancer, of Kankakee. Mrs. Meroff, 32 years old, testified that Meroff deserted her Sept. 1, 1939. They were married in 1926. Mrs. Meroff was awarded custody of their daughter, Diane, 12. An out of court settlement was made, according to Attorney Paul R. Simon.

2 NAMED IN DIES INQUIRY OUSTED BY PRESS GROUP

New York, Jan. 3 (AP).—The Association of Foreign Press Correspondents has removed from its rolls two active members mentioned in the Dies committee "white paper" on un-American activities and has accepted the resignation as an associate member of Dr. Hans Borchers, German consul general. These developments were disclosed in the association's official bulletin.

Fred Kreutzenstein, who had listed himself as correspondent for several Brazilian papers, was expelled. Dr. Herbert Gross, American correspondent for the Nachrichten Fuer Auesenhandel, official organ of the German ministry of economics, resigned under fire. Both had been charged formally with "unprofessional conduct."

The "white paper" had listed Kreutzenstein as an employé of the Transocean News Service, an organization described in the document as Adolf Hitler's "agency for the dissemination of propaganda in foreign countries," and Gross was named as having been identified by a committee witness as "an agent of the German government."

In his letter of resignation, Dr. Borchers said he was leaving the organization because "developments have given me the impression that there are now persistent and increasing forces at work seemingly endeavoring to turn it from its former detached course and to lead it into an attitude of definite partisanship in the present world conflict."

ITALY REFUSES CABLE MESSAGE ASSAILING DUCE

"His Majesty King Victor Emmanuel,

"Rome, Italy.

"I beg his majesty to order the arrest of Mussolini for high treason against Italy and humanity. Restore peace with democratic Great Britain."

Tonight Western Union delivered a message to Campana which said:

"Rome advises message cancelled. Italian administration will not pass."

FRANCE REVEALS AND THEN DENIES CABINET SHAKEUP

Report Naming a 'Big 3' Called 'Premature.'

VICHY, France, Jan. 3 (AP).—Marshal Henri Philippe Petain was said authoritatively tonight to be still studying a reorganization of his government after a day of confusing and contradictory statements and the resignation of Paul Baudouin, a leading figure of the régime.

Authorized informants characterized as "premature" an apparently official announcement, earlier in the day, that the cabinet had been reorganized with sort of a directorate taking the place of the former one-man vice regency of Pierre Laval, ousted vice premier.

The earlier announcement had indicated two French fighting men and a political veteran would have broad powers under Petain.

Trio Reported Selected.

These three are Navy Minister Admiral Jean Darlan, 61 years old [regarded as a close collaborator of Laval and considered anti-British]; War Minister Charles Huntziger, 60, and Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin, 51. It was said at the time that Darlan would be in charge of the interior department; Huntziger charged with defense powers, and Flandin responsible for economic as well as foreign affairs.

Such a cabinet change has been expected, but tonight officials said they did not know when it would be announced. It was indicated the Germans had been told about the plan, but it was uncertain whether they had approved.

The French are awaiting Germany's reply to Petain's note on a plan for the resumption of French-German negotiations, stalemated since Laval was pried out of power three weeks ago. The best information is that the reply may be anticipated within a few days, and the impression got about that it will permit of some sort of an accord.

Baudouin Resignation Certain.

One thing seems certain: Baudouin, secretary for the presidency of the council, has resigned. No reason was given, a communique stating simply that he had asked Petain to accept his resignation and that Petain agreed.

Informed persons expressed the opinion he left because of disaccord with certain cabinet members and the prospect that under the proposed government change he would have less power. He has had direction over press and information services, and these, it is supposed, soon may be under one of the proposed triumvirate.

It also is believed that Interior Minister Marcel Peyrouton and Raphael Alibert, minister of justice, to whom the Germans are reported to have objected, will take orders from Admiral Darlan, if the projected shift is carried thru.

SAYS CANADA CAN NEVER FILL PLACE OF BRITISH ISLES

BERLIN, Jan. 3 (AP).—Canada never can fill the place of the British Isles as the center of the British empire after the war on the Isles has been ended, an authorized economic expert sought to prove today in addressing foreign correspondents.

Proceeding on the assumption that the British Isles shortly will be defeated, this expert envisaged the British government emigrating to Canada and the British navy also going there.

"But the army cannot go there nor can England's population of 45,000,000," he said. "Nor can her complicated industry simply be exported. That is where the rub comes. Canada isn't at all suited as a base for continuing the war. Her potentialities are exceedingly small. She has no munition industries to speak of."

The overseas dominion is not able, he claimed, to afford proper space for the British fleet nor has the dominion sufficient skilled workers to care for the fleet.

DIES COMMITTEE BLASTS AXIS IN ANNUAL REPORT

Asks for New Laws to Fight Saboteurs.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—The Dies committee called on all progressive and patriotic groups today to "disassociate" themselves from any communist or axis influence and asked congress for added legislation to stamp out subversive elements.

Making these recommendations in its third annual report to congress, the committee called the government of Stalin one of "naked opportunism, conquest, and power," asserted that Hitler uses "brute force," described Mussolini and "the mikado" as "second rate international bandits," and then suggested that believers in democratic government separate themselves from totalitarian movements.

Ask Two Year Continuance.

The year-end summary included a recommendation that the committee be continued for two years. The committee's legislative recommendations included:

1. Legislation to bring about immediate mandatory deportation of alien spies and saboteurs.

2. Mandatory deportation of aliens who advocate any basic change in the form of the United States government.

3. Legislation requiring that all employes and officials of the federal government be American citizens.

4. The withholding of federal funds from any educational institution which permits members of its faculty to advocate communism, Fascism, or Nazism.

5. Legislation to outlaw every political organization which is shown to be under control of a foreign government.

Law on Immigration.

6. Legislation to stop all immigration from foreign countries which refuse to accept the return of their nationals found under American law to be deportable from this country.

7. Restrictions on distribution of "totalitarian propaganda."

8. Extension of the statutory period during which citizenship papers can be revoked to 10 years.

9. A tightening up of the passport laws, particularly an extension of the period in which fraudulent use of such documents can be prosecuted from three to seven years.

Also today, committee officials announced that investigators were inquiring into reports that Soviet Russia had transferred as much as $3,000,000 in recent months to the account of the German government in the Chase National Bank of New York.

GERMANY TRAINS BIG SKI ARMY IN NORWAY, NEWSPAPER REVEALS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—Germany is training and equipping an army on skis, it was revealed today. The Schlesische Tageszeitung reported the training program was being carried out on a large scale and at high speed in Norway.

It said "no German soldier must leave Norway before he has mastered the art of skiing."

The newspaper said that "all branches of troops are equipped with skis and even the Norwegians are amazed," and declared that "skiing teachers are being trained at high speed in order to be able to give lessons in their units."

LEADERS INDORSE CITY'S INTENTION TO CUT EXPENSES

Back Council's Stand in Face of Union Threat.

BY EDWARD WILSON.

Chicago civic leaders threw their support yesterday to the council finance committee in its determination to keep 1941 city expenditures within estimated revenue. They wholeheartedly indorsed the finance committee recommendation that the salaries of city union employés be cut 10 per cent to put them more in line with the pay for the same kind of jobs in private industry. The unions have threatened a strike if the salary slash is approved by the council.

The recommendation for the cut was included in the budget submitted to the city council last month. It specified, however, that the pay of no union worker be reduced below the prevailing daily union scale. This reduction, the aldermen estimate, would save $340,000 and, with other savings, would bring the city's 1941 operating budget to $54,391,785, or $2,000,000 less than last year.

No Backing Down, Says Arvey.

Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th], chairman of the finance committee, stood his ground on approving the proposal last night.

"We're not backing down on the recommendation," he said. "If we don't save money we will have payless pay days. We have learned many adjustments will have to be made for men who work six days a week instead of the usual five, but those can be taken care of."

Morgan L. Fitch, president of the Chicago Real Estate board, praised the committee's work.

"The proposed cut is certainly fair and equitable," he said. "We have known for years that many city union employés were higher paid than those in private industry but this is the first time anyone has tried to solve the problem. There is certainly no reason why city hall janitors and elevator operators should get more pay than those in high grade office buildings surrounding the hall."

Based on Survey Report.

"The proposal to cut was based on the recommendation of the budget survey committee authorized by the council," said Newton C. Farr, vice president of the Civic Federation and Bureau of Public Efficiency. "Certainly the city employés and unions should be ready to help maintain our municipal institutions. The city cannot stand financially unless the budget is cut."

Frank J. Bilek, president of the Cook County Civic council, said: "The finance committee is to be commended. Unless cuts are made and taxes eventually reduced, Chicago is going to be in great difficulty."

Statistics gathered last year by the budget survey committee show scores of cases where city union workers are paid annual salaries in excess of those they would get in private industry.

City and Private Pay Compared.

The following table, compiled by the survey staff, compares the annual pay of several classes of city union workers during the last year, the pay these employés would receive under the 10 per cent cut for 1941, and the pay of comparable union jobs in private industry. All the salary figures are based on a year of 254 working days—the city government's accepted working year:

Sewer Inspector	$4,380	$3,942	$3,725
Mason Inspector	4,080	3,672	3,468
Sewer Repair foreman	4,680	4,212	4,164
Machinist	3,900	3,510	3,300
Electrical Mechanic	4,080	3,672	3,468
Janitor	1,860	1,680	1,500
Window Washers	2,160	1,944	1,920
Elevator Operators	2,100	1,890	1,740
Electricians, Plumbers and Steamfitters	4,080	3,672	3,454

In the cases of inspectors in the above table the survey staff computed the private industry figures from basic union wages. The salaries paid in private industry to elevator operators, janitors and window washers were obtained from the agreement between the Building Managers' association and the Chicago Office, Theater and Amusement Building Janitors' union, local No. 25. That union services the downtown office buildings.

Higher Pay in City Union.

City buildings operate under the jurisdiction of the Flat Janitors' union, local No. 1, which has a higher rate of pay than the office building workers' union.

City janitresses are paid $1,200 to $1,500 a year and work 27 hours a week. The survey staff showed that loop office buildings pay 43 cents an hour for janitresses. At that rate and on the basis of the number of hours and weeks they work, city hall janitresses would receive $504 a year. At the present yearly salary schedule and the number of hours worked they receive approximately $1.11 an hour, according to the budget committee.

MRS. BORIS VADETSKI.

Elkton, Md., Jan. 3 (AP). — The Rev. William F. Hopkins said today he had officiated at the marriage of Miss Hilda Jane Lehman, daughter of New York state's governor and Mrs. Herbert Lehman, and Boris Vadetski of New York City, here Dec. 1. The marriage license application listed the bride as Hilda Jane Leeman, 19 years old, of White Plains, N. Y., and gave her occupation as teacher. Vadetski, 23, gave his occupation as "translator." Earlier in New York the Lehmans revealed their daughter had eloped.

DICE SHOOTING BANK EMPLOYE ADMITS THEFT

Juggles Accounts to Take $6,500.

A short, bespectacled, bald headed man walked into the complaint department of the state's attorney's office yesterday, announced himself as Thomas Ralph Page, and said:

Thomas R. Page.

"I've embezzled $6,500 from the First National bank of Dolton; I feel awfully bad about it; and I'd like to confess."

When Assistant State's Attorney Ota P. Lightfoot, who heard this statement, got over his surprise he asked the visitor to repeat his story. Page did, and it was affirmed by an unidentified woman who accompanied him and said she was his sister.

Blames Crap Games.

"Why did you do it?" Lightfoot asked next.

"O, I got to shooting craps and just couldn't stop," Page said.

Page, who is 40 years old, a bachelor, and who lived at 19 East Ohio street, started working for the Dolton bank on July 1, 1940. Before that, he said, he had worked for the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago and had operated an automobile agency which failed.

He was assistant cashier of the Dolton bank and his salary was $125 a month, according to William Staat, the cashier.

"Easy to Cover Up."

Page started manipulating the bank's federal reserve account last October, according to his confession, and he said it was "easy" to cover up his thefts. Staat said he did not know how the juggling was done but that the accounts are being examined.

"I started with little amounts and they got bigger and bigger," Page said. "Most of it I lost in crap games in a place on North Clark street and another in Cicero."

Police Commissioner Allman was given the Clark street address and county highway police were given the other. Federal agents took Page before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker, who ordered him held in $7,500 bond on a charge of embezzlement.

ADMITS SENDING EXTORTION NOTE TO BETTY GRABLE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—The Federal Bureau of Investigation announced tonight that James Willard Porter, 18, of Washington, Pa., had been taken into custody in connection with the sending of an extortion note to Betty Grable, motion picture actress.

FBI Agent Samuel K. McKee filed the charge of extortion in Pittsburgh against the youth, who is the son of a grocer and painter and lives with his widowed mother. The letter to Miss Grable directed that she send the money to "Miss Betty Westlake, Washington, Pa." McKee said there was no such person as Betty Westlake, but there was a Mary Westlake, daughter of a school principal, who had also received anonymous letters signed "The Yellow Hornet." He said Porter thought the girl's name was Betty. "Without her knowledge Porter used her name on the letter," said McKee. Porter will be arraigned in Pittsburgh tomorrow.

Porter admitted, the FBI said, sending the letter to Miss Grable, signed by the "Yellow Hornet," and demanding $2,000 in cash. They added that he also admitted sending 16 letters to four residents of his home town during the last six months, in one of them demanding $200 and inviting the persons addressed to become a member of the "Yellow Hornet" organization.

517 PRISONERS TO ASK FREEDOM OF PAROLE BOARD

Notorious Killers and Bandits to Be Heard.

The Illinois parole board will consider the parole applications of a number of notorious Chicago bandits when it holds hearings next week on the January docket of parole petitions. A total of 517 prisoners, 261 of them from Cook county, will appear before subcommittees in the various penal institutions to appeal for freedom.

Last month Gov. John Stelle's parole board ordered the release of 391 convicts. Thirty-one of these prisoners were serving a second prison sentence and 14 had been given previous paroles.

Martin J. Durkin, gunman and auto thief, who was sentenced to prison for 35 years in 1926 for the murder of Edward G. Shanahan, federal agent, is one of the convicts whose cases will be heard by the board next week. He has been described by the Chicago crime commission as a desperate killer.

Shoots Way from Trap.

Durkin was being sought for the murder of Shanahan when he shot his way out of a police trap on the south side. Sergt. Harry Gray was fatally wounded when the gunman blazed his way thru the police cordon. He was being sought for transporting stolen autos when he killed Shanahan.

Durkin has made several previous requests for a parole. They were turned down. He has been convicted in the federal courts of auto thefts and a sentence of 15 years in a federal penitentiary awaits him when he is released from the state prison. An indictment charging him with the murder of Sergt. Gray is still pending in the Criminal court.

Robert [Teddy] Webb, known to the police as Chicago's first auto bandit, also wants a parole. His request for one has been refused many times. Webb was sent to prison in 1913 to serve a life sentence for the murder of Detective Peter Hart.

Judge Urges Freedom.

Webb fled the honor farm at Joliet in 1925 and was captured seven weeks later. Municipal Judge Frances Borrelli, who was his attorney at the trial, and Attorney John V. Clinnin, a member of the Illinois civil service commission, have appeared before the parole board in his behalf in previous hearings.

Also seeking freedom is Carl Parker, 35 years old, who committed a number of robberies in wild west fashion in 1931 after escaping from a New York asylum. Parker had been sentenced to serve one year to life in prison and was in the penitentiary when Judge Charles A. Williams in the Criminal court ordered him returned and placed on probation.

The Illinois Supreme court expunged the probation order and Parker was returned to prison in May, 1933. Judge Williams changed the sentence to probation thru the intercession of the late Circuit Judge Edward D. Shurtleff of Lake county. The latter said at the time that he acted at the request of Parker's uncle, Judge Carl G. Sherwood, former Supreme court justice of South Dakota.

Others Seeking Paroles.

Others seeking paroles are:

Stanley Lipka, who engaged in a pistol battle with a policeman in the loop while he was on parole in 1935. He was trying to rob a hosiery shop at the time. He was resentenced to serve one year to life in prison.

Theodore Lauchis, who in 1920 confessed he killed Joseph Demanus at the request of the latter's wife whom he loved.

Mrs. Mary McCollum Schuch, 37 years old, serving a sentence of 1 to 10 years at the Woman's reformatory at Dwight. She obtained $5,000 from a teller in the Drexel State bank in 1938 by threatening to blow it up with a bottle of fluid, which she said was nitroglycerin. She was caught by a policeman while fleeing from the bank. The bottle contained water.

STATE ASKS BIDS FOR NEW LIQUOR STAMP CONTRACT

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 3 (AP). — The state printing division advertised for bids today preparatory to awarding a new state liquor stamp contract replacing that formerly held by the American Decalcomania company of Chicago. The letting will be held Jan. 9.

Gov. John Stelle ordered the former contract canceled Dec. 20 on the ground it "eliminated competitive bidding." He said the canceled contract was at a price of approximately 70 cents per 1,000 stamps.

Green's Advisers

Governor Elect Dwight H. Green announced yesterday appointment of a committee of five to advise him in reorganization of the state police. These are four of the committeemen.

T. S. Hammond. H. B. Chamberlin.

E. W. Puttkammer. C. C. Fitzmorris.

GREEN ASSUMES CHARGE OF STATE POLICE MUDDLE

Names His Board to Reorganize Force.

Dwight H. Green, governor elect, took command of the state police situation yesterday by appointing his own board to handle existing vacancies and to plan a reorganization of the force.

His step was considered an answer to Gov. John Stelle's appointment of a board to examine applicants for about 100 vacancies on recommendations from Republican members of the general assembly. It also was considered a warning to all hopefuls that they will be wasting their time if they rush in to accept the invitation of the lame duck Democratic administration and get on the force a week before Green takes office.

The immediate effect was to bring from Stelle an expression of his willingness to drop his own examination plan and let the Green appointees have a free hand in the selection of all police personnel.

Stelle also said he would accept any recommendations for immediate action made by the Green board.

Green named five men to advise him on police problems, including reorganization of the force and placing it on a merit basis. He announced also examinations for jobs will begin before he takes office Jan. 13.

The five are Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the Chicag Crime commission; Charles C. Fitzmorris, former Chicago police commissioner; Robert L. Gordon of Urbana, secretary of the Building Trades council of Champaign county, and Prof. E. W. Puttkammer of the University of Chicago. They will hold their first meeting next Tuesday.

Green is expected today to name his long delayed patronage committee. It probably will consist of five members who will pass on candidates for all appointments except the major ones such as those of his cabinet members.

Next Tuesday, the night before the assembly convenes, the two houses of the assembly will caucus for the nomination of officers.

WAGES OF UNION BOSSES ISSUE IN BARMEN'S VOTE

An Item of $25,000 Pops Up in Campaign.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Frank L. Marzano, candidate for secretary and treasurer of local 278 of the Bartenders' union in the election to be held Monday, was reminded yesterday that he forgot to list all his qualifications in his campaign literature. Candidates opposing him recalled that he was paid $25,000 in one year by a liquor concern while he operated the union's school for bartenders.

Frank L. Marzano.

Marzano is a nephew of George B. McLane, business agent of the union, who is seeking reëlection. McLane is allied with James Crowley, present secretary and treasurer, who wants to be president. Their lawyers have informed Circuit Judge Robert Jerome Dunne, who appointed a receiver for the union, that they have made peace with Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti and other gangsters who, McLane once swore, controled the union until a short time ago.

Another in Race.

Marzano also is opposed by Al Reynolds, a bartender running on the so-called Progressive slate headed by Austin Steeves as the candidate for president. John Schoonover is the McLane candidate. A fourth candidate is Charles Applegate.

Marzano's campaign literature contained excerpts of newspaper stories about him when he was the professor at the bartenders' school. The slate of candidates which includes McLane also got out literature on which, among other things, was reprinted the item about Marzano getting the $25,000.

Marzano told the state grand jury he paid income tax on his $25,000 gift from the whisky company. He showed bank books to prove that he put half of it in a bank under his own name. His Uncle George denied, at the time, that he had any connection with Marzano. McLane said that when Marzano got the $25,000, Louis Romano, who McLane said was Nitti's satellite, was president of the union and Marzano's boss.

Tell What Bosses Receive.

Candidates opposing gang domination of the union charge that heretofore bosses of the union not only have been getting big salaries—some as much as $275 a week—but that they also received automobiles, free garage space, free gas, free repairs, and free insurance, as well as Florida vacations on the expense account.

Steeves and his fellow campaigners were sending out word that the future of the union is imperiled. They cited the expulsion of the union by the Illinois Federation of Labor, announced last Tuesday. If the McLane-Crowley group is retained in power, the union will be a pariah among labor organizations, it was charged by the Steeves group thru their attorney, Raymond Hayes.

Monday's election is to be held under the jurisdiction of Judge Dunne in his courtroom in the County building between 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. Police Commissioner Allman has detailed 15 policemen and several squads of detectives to protect all bartenders who appear to vote.

FACTOR QUIZZED ON DISPOSITION OF FIRM'S ASSETS

John Factor, sole owner and president of the Old Oak Bottling and Distributing corporation, which went out of business last June, was questioned in the Municipal court yesterday as to what disposition he made of the company's assets. He was subpenaed before Referee Charles C. Schavone by Attorney Benjamin J. Schultz, representing a landlord suing for $200 for rent for one of the company's stores.

Factor said he sold the company retail liquor stores for $25,000, but did not know whether he banked the money or spent it. He said he lost between $25,000 and $30,000 in the venture. He was forced out of business when the Federal Alcohol administrator refused a permit for the liquor business.

TIE UP MOTHER AND CHILDREN, RANSACK HOME

A jeweler's wife and her two children were terrorized for an hour by three bandits yesterday in their home at 5122 North Kimball avenue. The victims were Mrs. Goldie Slavin, David, 14 years old, and Marian, 11, wife and children of S. D. Slavin, owner of jewelry stores at 4158 Madison street and 3958 North avenue.

The gunmen, two of whom were masked, entered the apartment after menacing Mrs. Slavin who had opened the door in response to the doorbell. They demanded jewelry.

Mrs. Slavin said only small personal belongings were around. The robbers took a locket, earrings, and a small watch belonging to David. Then the hoodlums bound the wrists of the children and Mrs. Slavin with cord, tape, and a belt, and shoved the three into a closet.

Bandit Held Without Bond in Trolley Holdup Killing

George Andersen, 27 years old, colored, of 3218 Wabash avenue, was held to the grand jury without bond yesterday by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in Felony court on a charge of murdering a street car conductor in an attempted robbery at 43d street and St. Lawrence avenue on Nov. 10. William Custer, 43, of 10224 May street, was the slain man. Andersen was arrested Dec. 27. Police said he confessed.

TRIBUNE SCOUT COMPARES TWO WAYS TO FLORIDA

Motorist Dribbles Gold Along Either Route.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 3.—Here the Florida bound Chicago motorist decides whether to go by way of Chattanooga and Atlanta or by way of Birmingham and Montgomery. The Tribune road car has recently covered both of these alternates. Comparisons can be written from personal observations.

There is competition between these alternates, of more economic significance than is appreciated by the public officials and the business interests along the routes. The automobile traveler leaves a dribble of gold behind him, at gas stations, lunch counters, hotels, cabin camps, movies, cigaret and candy shops, and soft drink stands. An estimated 5 billion dollars was spent in recreational motoring in America in 1940.

If one of these alternates could attain a definite superiority over the other, it would mean as much to the communities traversed as losing or winning a substantial factory pay roll. At present there is room for improvement on both of the routes that would enhance their bids for the travel business.

Each Has Natural Handicap.

Each of the routes has a natural handicap in this competition. Near Chattanooga is a mountain climb. It's an easy grade for any one whose driving experience has not been limited to the prairies of Chicagoland. However, a fog not uncommon in this section in winter months is something that experts fear. Reflector buttons marking the edge of the roadway would help traffic thru the fogs.

The route via Alabama has a disadvantage in distance. To points on the east coast of Florida, including Palm Beach and Miami, it's 75 miles farther to go by way of Birmingham and Montgomery as compared with going by way of Atlanta. To points on the west coast of Florida, including St. Petersburg, it's 45 miles farther. When considered in relation to a 1,407 mile trip, the distance from Chicago to Miami, the extra mileage is not so consequential.

At present, a recommended paved detour between Birmingham and Montgomery, adds another 14 miles to the Alabama alternate. U. S. 31, the regular route between these cities, is undergoing some reconstruction. The detour is Alabama 91 from Birmingham to Siacauga, thence Alabama 11 to Wetumpka, and thence Alabama 9 to Montgomery.

First All Paved Route.

The Georgia alternate, U. S. 41, is getting much more than half of the travel between Chicago and Florida. It was the first all paved route and the veteran snow dodgers know its curves. It also gets maiden trippers who invariably want the shortest route to the well advertised sunshine.

U. S. 41 has a further advantage in that, if you like, you can follow this single numeral from Chicago's Grant park to Tampa. A recommended bypass for the congested Main street of Macon, Ga., uses Georgia 7 between Barnesville and Perry. Between Chicago and Nashville, U. S. 41 with U. S. 41W between Hopkinsville, Ky., and Nashville, is the best road.

Going by way of Alabama, you follow U. S. 31 south from Nashville to Montgomery, after the detour is removed, and thence U. S. 231 to Dothan, Ala., thence U. S. 84 to Bainbridge, Ga., and thence on several numbers to the east coast of Florida or on several other numbers to the west coast of Florida.

Points of Historical Interest.

The U. S. 41 route seems to have a shade of advantage in scenery. This also is true in points of historical interest, the Chattanooga battlefields and the "Gone with the Wind" environment of Atlanta, altho Montgomery can boast that it is the birthplace of the confederacy. But enforcement of a 55 mile an hour speed limit in Georgia is against this alternate.

Another point against U. S. 41 is a toll of 50 cents for car and driver plus 5 cents for each additional passenger to cross the Tennessee river near Chattanooga. Motorists' resentment of tolls is out of proportion to the cost invloved, especially when they're paying a 7 cent state gasoline tax to Tennessee. Another point against U. S. 41 is the delay in traversing congested Atlanta streets. There's a marked U. S. 41 by-pass that by-passes only part of the congestion.

Points against U. S. 31, in addition to the extra mileage, are maiply the rough stretches of pavement in southern Tennessee and northern Alabama, narrow and high crowned blacktop with short sight distances on crests and on turns.

Adding up the score, it is this one driver's opinion that neither of these alternate routes has done a good job of bidding for the travel business. It's about a tossup which to take. In inclement weather our personal choice is via Alabama.

JUNE C. SMITH NOMINATED FOR SUPREME COURT

Wins G. O. P. Place on First Ballot.

Effingham, Ill., Jan. 3 (AP).—June C. Smith, 64 year old Centralia attorney, was selected on the first ballot today as Republican nominee for state Supreme court justice from the 2d judicial district.

June C. Smith.

His nomination was made unanimous after an official tabulation showed him leading 211 to 93 over the only other candidate, former Circuit Judge Jesse R. Brown of Edwardsville. Nomination required 157 votes.

Opposes Judge Dove.

Smith will oppose Circuit Judge Franklin R. Dove of Shelbyville, the Democratic nominee, in a special election Feb. 25 for the post left vacant by the death of Norman L. Jones of Carrollton. The term expires in June, 1942.

The Jersey county delegation gave Lieutenant Governor-elect Hugh W. Cross of Jerseyville seven "favorite son" votes, altho his name was not formally placed in nomination.

Smith, son of a Washington county farmer, was president of the Illinois State Bar association in 1932. He won his first elective office as state's attorney soon after graduation from law school at Northern Illinois college at Dixon.

Called Lawyer's Lawyer.

He served as an assistant attorney general of Illinois from 1909 to 1912. He is married and has two daughters, both married.

In the nominating speech, Gordon Murphy of Centralia described Smith as a "lawyer's lawyer." Taking the platform, Smith promised "an aggressive campaign in every county of the district."

Smith was voted the preference of attorneys in the 2d district for the nomination in an unofficial "bar primary" last month.

DRAW POWER AND WATERWAY PACT FOR ST. LAWRENCE

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 3 (AP).—Diplomatic experts from Washington, D. C., and officers of the Canadian external affairs department are engaged in drafting a new agreement covering the entire St. Lawrence river-Great Lakes power and navigation project for submission to the Canadian and American governments, it was learned tonight.

Previous reports of recent negotiations have stressed one stage of the $500,000,000 project—that covering power development in the international rapids section of the St. Lawrence river—but a spokesman for the Canadian delegates said the entire project was included in the present draft. Belief was expressed there was a possibility of an agreement within a month.

A. A. Berle, J. D. Hickerson, and Prof. J. H. Bonbright of the American state department arrived today from Washington and were joined in the committee room by J. Pierrepont Moffat, American minister to Canada. Canada was represented by J. E. Read, Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, Max Wershof, and Escott Reid, second secretary in the Canadian legation at Washington.

TAXPAYERS GET INCOME BLANKS; FIND BAD NEWS

Approximately 600,000 citizens in northern Illinois have received income tax return blanks from the government and with them the bad news that tax rates for 1940 will be higher and personal exemptions smaller than in past years. The present law is designed to get a bigger return to help finance the defense program.

In the revision, exemptions for married couples have been reduced from $2,500 to $2,000, and for single persons from $1,000 to $800. Credits for dependents remain the same, at $400 for each. The taxpayer, however, must add a special 10 per cent supertax to what he paid under the old arrangement. This money will go for defense purposes. Surtaxes are increased on a sliding scale for net taxable incomes over $4,000.

Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, said that blanks had been mailed only to persons who had filed reports in past years. New taxpayers brought in by the lowered exemptions are personally responsible for getting blanks and making reports. Returns are due not later than March 15.

ELECTRIC SHOCK CLEARS BRAIN OF MENTALLY ILL

130 Patients Treated at State Hospital.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Electric currents passed thru the heads of mental patients "to clear up the transmission system for brain impulses" are proving a satisfactory treatment, according to a preliminary report on this new method given yesterday by Dr. Edward F. Dombrowski, managing officer of the Chicago State hospital, 6500 Irving Park road.

Dr. E. F. Dombrowski.

The state hospital had an average population of 4,600 mentally unfit during the year. Of these, it is reported, 130 of various types of malady were given the electric shock treatment during the last six months. Electrodes are attached to each side of the head and a current of 110 volts is passed for 30 seconds.

Seems to Clear Up Brain.

"Little is known about electricity," said Dr. Dombrowski, "but this application seems to clear up the brain. It works exceptionally well in cases of persons who won't eat, talk, or move any part of their body. A noticeable change is brought about by the first treatment and by the time we are thru with the series most of these patients have regained their natural thought processes."

The new shock method is combined at the hospital with other treatment, such as insulin and metrazol. The electric treatment, Dr. Dombrowski said, would be used more extensively in the future.

At the Illinois State Research hospital the electric shock treatment is also being used, according to Dr. A. A. Low, head of the psychiatry department. This method originated in Europe in 1937 and has been in use in this country to a limited extent for about a year.

Treatment Easy on Patient.

While Dr. Low thinks the insulin treatment is better, he says the electric shock is a good treatment, easy on the patient and not requiring much nursing care.

In other institutions experiments in the electric method are being made on animals, and have not yet been introduced to the clinics for humans. It is felt that too little is known about the effect of passing electricity thru the body. In the use of rays, for instance, it took much experimentation to devise a dosage which would be healing and at the same time not spread harm to other parts of the body.

Passing electricity thru the brain presents a similar problem, the search for possible harm, as well as beneficial results. The human brain, it has been shown, gives off at all times a small electric charge, from which states of mind can be read. It has a rhythm of its own, in sleep and work. Whether a shock restores rhythm is a question for experiment.

JUSTICE MAY NOT BE BLIND—BUT ONLY COCKEYED

Elizabethtown, Ill., Jan. 3 (AP).—Police Magistrate E. R. Creason of Elizabethtown awarded a judgment for wages to two plaintiffs in a suit against a fluorspar mining company here this week while sitting in the county jail. Justice Creason was in jail for failure to pay a fine and costs of $20.60 for having been intoxicated.

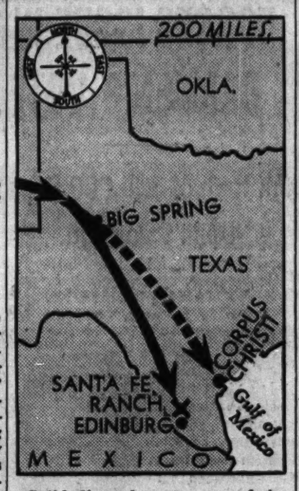
He sat near a raised but barred window of the jail, the court docket on his knees, and heard the evidence presented by the plaintiffs and argued by their attorney, who stood just outside the jail window.

The attorney, State's Attorney Clarence E. Soward, said no change of venue had been sought because he knew of no legal restriction against holding the trial at the jail.

Aviator Seized in Death of Divorcee Found Sane

Burt Alexander, an aviator, in whose room at 1244 North Dearborn street the nude body of Gladys Benson, 38 years old, a divorcee, was found Dec. 26, was found sane yesterday at a hearing in the Psychopathic court. He was released from custody with instructions to attend the inquest next Wednesday into the woman's death. Alexander told police she died after a drinking spree.

Save Plane in Storm



Solid line shows route of ice weighted naval bombing seaplane to safe landing after five of the seven members of the crew had bailed out. Two other naval bombers on cross-country flight followed route marked by broken line without mishap.

BOMBER LANDED IN TEXAS POND; 2 IN CREW SAFE

Edinburg, Tex., Jan. 3 (AP).—Two naval airmen who rode out a blinding snowstorm in an ice weighted seaplane bomber after five other members of the crew bailed out—one to his death—were safe today after bringing their 13 ton plane down in shallow water.

Lieut. Murray Hanson. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

Lieut. Murray Hanson, 30, pilot of the bomber, and Ensign Robert B. Clark, co-pilot, set their big ship down last night on a lake described by cattlemen as a "puddle of water" on the nearby Santa Fe ranch after bucking snow, ice, fog, and rain for 500 miles across rugged western Texas.

It was midafternoon yesterday when Hanson ordered the other five to bail out near Big Spring, Tex., after ice began forming on the wings. The big two engined plane momentarily went out of control in a window smashing storm.

Four of the five rode to earth with only minor injuries. W. F. Percich, 25, machinist's mate of Friday Harbor, Wash., was found dead, his parachute minus its rigging.

CHICAGO PHONE WORKER LEAVES FOR LABOR POST

P. E. Griffith, an employé of the Illinois Bell Telephone company here for 18 years and president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, left yesterday for Washington, D. C., where he will sit on the labor advisory committee of the defense communications board.

Griffith was appointed to the committee by President Roosevelt. He will represent the 165,000 telephone workers of the country. Other members of the committee are Robert Watt, representing the A. F. of L., and John Shelly of the C. I. O.

A group of employés of the Illinois Bell Telephone company tendered Griffith a dinner early in the week when his appointment was announced. He works in the company's plant engineering department.

The flag of 1777 continued as our national emblem until May 1, 1795, when an act passed by Congress was signed by _____, _____, changing the number of stars and stripes to _____.

(For missing words solve puzzle. Then write them on lines indicated.)

THE RULES

WHO CAN ENTER? This offer is open free to men, women, boys and girls everywhere—except employes of the Chicago Tribune and members of their families.

WHAT TO DO? Each week day a Crossword Puzzle will be printed in the Daily Tribune until 40 have appeared. Each puzzle contains the missing words of the informative item beneath the puzzle. Solve the puzzles, find the missing words and write them in the spaces provided. Missing words will appear automatically as you solve the puzzles. Hold all answers until you have the complete set of 40. Do not send them in separately. You may send facsimiles if you wish. It is not necessary to solve ALL correctly. Prizes will be paid for entries ranking highest.

WHERE TO SEND? Mail your entry by First Class Mail to "Flag Puzzles," Chicago Tribune, Post Office Box 1539, Chicago, Ill. With your entry send a letter giving your name and address and stating in 25 words or less why you like to live under the protection of the flag of the United States. Letters will be considered only if two or more persons submit equally correct solutions to the puzzles; in which event judgment will be based on sincerity and originality. Entries must be in by midnight one week after Puzzle No. 40 has been printed.

JUDGMENT: Entries will be judged by a committee appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Entrants agree that the judges' decisions will be final. 430 cash awards totaling $5,000 will be paid to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved, complete sets of puzzles. No one shall be entitled to more than one prize. Elaborate entries will receive no more consideration than simple ones. In case of ties duplicate awards will be paid.

THIS CRITICAL YEAR IN WASHINGTON.

Mr. Henning's observations on the critical situation in which the 77th congress opens its sessions express the general feeling in the country. Americans are aware that decisions will be made with predictable effects upon the present day and with incalculable consequences for the future. We are now in times in which events turn upon the impulse given them by persons in authority.

The turn the executive branch of government would give them has been made fairly clear. What is held in reserve we don't know. There is much reason to think that what has been proposed thus far by Mr. Roosevelt as America's part in the war awaits only more confidence in public support to expand into greater intervention, if not into armed participation.

Each house of congress is divided. In each there are men whose demands for full participation exceed the spoken words of Mr. Roosevelt. There are also members who voice the opposition as vigorously as any of the citizens who have attempted to keep the nation out of war. Mr. Roosevelt is expected to outline his policy again when he speaks to congress Monday on the state of the Union. There have been many rehearsals of that forthcoming utterance and people know in general what they are to expect. Mr. Roosevelt is for committing his country to a program which cannot be satisfied until the dictatorships in Europe—Stalin's, apparently, not included—have been overthrown and until Japan has withdrawn from China.

The congress which met in March, 1917, had before it an issue which was then described almost precisely as this one is. At that time, however, the United States had an open controversy with Germany, and the kaiser's government, having duly weighed the question, had decided to accept the risk of war. In annulling its pledge not to engage in unrestricted submarine sinking of merchant ships, including American, it had both issued a challenge and given a cause of war which an injured nation might be obliged to accept.

The almost unanimous feeling in congress was that matters had gone beyond any possibility of further negotiations and that the United States must cast in with the allies. The declaration of war followed. That declaration had been vehemently sought by some Americans who were not primarily concerned with the defense of their own national interests. It was to them merely a fortunate condition that Germany's aggressions had injured America.

Our government soon gave the war some phrases which implied or declared that we were undertaking to end all wars, to reorganize governments, to set people free, and to establish an endurable peace. When we then undertook under the aegis of democracy to work vast changes on the continent of Europe and thruout the world, there was a fighting front on the continent with millions of allied soldiers holding it. What seemed so imperative in 1917 also seemed possible. What is called imperative now, in spite of the experience we had, does not present the same possibilities. We did not before help Europe to find an angle of repose. It merely gathered strength for another convulsive readjustment.

To many Americans the proper American policy seems to be one of making the United States strong enough to protect itself and thus face whatever changes occur in the world. If we are to dictate from time to time what shall be the course of events abroad we can see no end to such an enterprise. It would require continuous participation in the affairs of the European continent and the far east. If American military forces could again overthrow European governments and scatter the present rulers in flight, what then? Must our armies remain in strength to repeat this whenever a symptom of the old trouble is rediscovered?

Need it be said again that this contest for supremacy in Europe is centuries old? Empires have been derived from it. Now one nation and then another has been dominant on the continent and has extended its domain. Possibly there has been a fruitless struggle for economic and political unity, such as migrants from the old world found here. If the end were desirable the means adopted for it have been disastrous and the consequences ephemeral.

The idea that a permanent solution can be found only in the dictate of the United States is a costly illusion. It was costly before. It will be of untold cost if applied again.

OLD TUNES AND NEW.

The ASCAP is not, as might seem, an American G. P. U. or Gestapo, but it is listening in. It is listening on the radio for proscribed tunes as a guardian of copyrights in the war on the musical front with Broadcast Music, Inc. An ASCAP listening post caught a chain giving what is called something too much like "Wintergreen for President." So everybody is to be sued—the chain, the producers, the sponsors, the advertising agency, and all the outlets.

The management accused of violating the copyright says no such thing happened. The tune used as a theme was original. It wasn't Gershwin. It did not derive from Gershwin. The broadcasters fighting the expanded royalty demands of the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers are trying to produce new music and meanwhile are going back to the old.

Radio listeners may get a good deal more than usual of Bach, Beethoven, Mozart, and Brahms. Some parts of this music may seem familiar to listeners. Parts of it may seem familiar to the listeners for the copyright holders. That will be understandable. Many of the modern boys got many of their tunes from such dependable and respectable sources. The original may seem like a derivation or a theft. Some confusion may result.

WHAT MAKES A CITY?

The census bureau has announced its 1940 population figures for the large cities of the country, and the various chambers of commerce are relieved of their suspense, if they felt any. Probably they didn't, as the last decade made little change in the ranking of the larger cities. Baltimore passed St. Louis to take seventh place, and Washington, crammed with government clerks, jumped from 14th to 11th place.

The ranking does raise one question, however. Just what constitutes a city? For the purposes of the present listing, the answer is simple. It is the territory within the corporate or local governmental limits.

From a business standpoint, of course, a city includes more than its corporate area. It includes a wide suburban area, consisting not only of the dormitory suburbs to which city workers are moving in increasing numbers, but in most instances of a ring of satellite industrial towns.

The census bureau recognizes this difference, and some time in the coming months will issue a ranking of metropolitan districts, consisting of more or less unified communities of more than 100,000 population. There is a wide variation between this list and the ranking according to strictly urban population.

New York, Chicago, and Philadelphia led among the 1930 metropolitan districts, as they did in urban population, but New York had a tremendous lead. It was credited with more than 4 million population outside the city proper, of which 1 million was on the New York side of the Hudson, and nearly 3 million in northeastern New Jersey. Chicago this year will show 1 million more in its metropolitan district than in the city proper and Philadelphia nearly 1 million more.

Boston, however, is the community that suffers most when its urban population only is considered. It ranks only ninth in its 1940 urban population, with 770,816, but the Boston metropolitan district 10 years ago had a population of 2,307,897, and ranked fifth in the country, only a few thousand behind Los Angeles. Pittsburgh and San Francisco are other metropolitan districts of far more important rank than is indicated by their urban population alone.

THE NOT SO MUCH WHITE COMMITTEE.

Senator Rush D. Holt of West Virginia checked the membership list of the William Allen White committee and found that many of its best known sponsors had received awards and decorations from belligerent nations in whose interest they desire the American people to intervene. Mr. White himself has felt the scorn of some of the persons who were using him as a principal actor merely because he could be presented as a corn fed midwesterner. When he tried to qualify the program by saying that no Yanks were going abroad members of his committee denounced him as another appeaser—a man of words but not of deeds. Now he has resigned his chairmanship. The wolves got him. He didn't want to throw them red meat.

Such issues as are now before this country could be expected to bring a divergence of opinion and of judgment. Again the times are such as try men's souls. The blackout of the future makes a calculation of consequences difficult. Consequences may be beyond prevision and calculation. Activities animated by concern only for one's country may be respected but that cannot be said when the inspiration is manifest in the desire for approbation and reward in another land.

GIANTS IN THOSE DAYS.

The New Year's concert of the Chicago Symphony orchestra presented the same compositions which were played at the first concert of the first season, 50 years ago. Included in the program book this week was an appreciation of Theodore Thomas by Mr. Charles Norman Fay, one of the original guarantors, now 92 years old.

Mr. Fay's recollections are vivid and they tell a story which the contemporary generation of Chicagoans can read to advantage. The orchestra had a difficult struggle in its early years. An audience had to be created. Financial backing had to be found. Eventually a concert hall had to be erected. There were long years when the continuance of the orchestra from season to season seemed more than a little doubtful.

Theodore Thomas himself was a man of high courage and he won the support of other men like him. Most of them stood by him and by the institution in good years and in bad; they did it for the sake of the community. Chicago needs men like that today, men of vision and determination.

Editorial of the Day

LIDDELL HART TAKES A NEW TACK, TOO.

[Des Moines Register.]

For a long time after the fall of France little was heard from Capt. B. H. Liddell Hart, British writer of so many books and articles on military affairs. For a while he was a great believer in the strategic counteroffensive and the surprise attack. He had counseled, in 1939, when the world was so different, that Britain could defend itself without sending an army to the continent.

Now word comes from London that a new book by him is out, a slim 64 page booklet entitled "Dynamic Defense." It harps on his old theme that the British army should be mechanized further and faster, both for offensive and defensive purposes.

His suggestion that there was "urgent need for the appointment of a single directing head for the armored forces as a whole" was answered, while the type was still hot, by the appointment of Maj. Gen. Giffard Martel to the newly created post of commander of the royal armored corps.

And his designation of Italy's African empire as the weakest point of the axis was obviously written long before the tide of war changed in North Africa.

He makes it clear that he shares the common British hope for an offensive on the continent of Europe some time, when Britain commands the air again. Thus the military expert of the "quiet war" makes his bid for a comeback, now that the noise is earsplitting.

Fountain pens are now so good they can survive anything except a few minutes' use by a borrower.—Detroit Free Press.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

A SOUVENIR OF HOOLEY'S.

Among the Christmas cards we have saved from the postholiday cleanup is a reproduction of a Chicago playbill in the 1880s. The program matter has been removed to make way for the Christmas-New Year's greetings of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cipriani, but the advertising, which forms the historical meat of such souvenirs, remains to give three pages of clews to Chicago life in the horse car era.

Hooley's was the theater on Randolph street, opposite the city hall, which became Powers' in the '90s. If the present generation wants to locate it any closer, a visit to the Celtic room of the Hotel Sherman will turn the trick. Drink a toast to auld lang syne there, for that's the place.

Mr. Hooley, "sole proprietor and manager," was a man with a smooth upper lip and a beard longer than any prophet's, according to his picture on the cover page of this playbill. Over his portrait there is a line of advertising which announces, "Mann's Hair Luxuriant is the most elegant preparation in the world." Everything in Hooley's was elegant, including the audiences; but the cost of a seat in the "parquette" was only $1. The paintings in the lobby were hoity-toity also, and a special note on the program says:

"The audience is cordially invited to promenade during the intermission between the acts and view the Works of Art on either side of the Grand Foyer. The Ladies are especially invited to seek this relief from the fatigue of a long sitting."

While the ladies studied art in the lobby, the gentlemen were likely to nip into the Brunswick saloon, next door west, for a refresher. "Fine whiskies and imported cigars; F. J. Dewes' lager beer on draught. Call bell rings before every act."

Two of the advertisments were in German—Fred Kaempfer's, 127 Clark street, suggesting that a canary bird from the Harz mountains makes an appropriate Christmas present; and Henrici's hotel and restaurant, Randolph near State street—"das beste deutsche Gasthaus in Chicago."

VIEWING WITH ALARM.

You can view with alarm, you can shudder with fear,
For the housewives are forming a union this year.
They want shorter hours, they ask for more pay,
They say they won't work sixteen hours a day.
They say they must have all of ten cents an hour.
O, the sun will not shine, and the storm clouds will lower,
And many a house will be minus a meal,
And many a man will find out how they feel.
A man will not work more than eight hours a day,
And offer him ten cents and see what he'll say.
And the unions are horrified if you but speak
Of lengthening slightly their five workday week.
But a housewife can stand on her feet all day long,
And nobody worries or thinks it is wrong;
Let's get us a union, girls. What do you say?

Fable of the Two Paupers.

Not long ago in the city known as windy, washed by the waters of Lake Michigan, there lived two paupers. One was willed $1,000 by a deceased rich uncle. The other was less favored by chance. One dark night a robber, hard pressed by the police and therefore not wanting to take greater risks, held up this pauper and took the 25 cents that stood between him and starvation.

In which of these two instances is it proper to say that the pauper was depauperated? Guess and then consult Webster's.

S. Nosakcid.

[Depauperate: To make poor, to impoverish.]

An Echo from the Christmas Holidays.

This column's recent query about the old fashioned Christmas tree that was decorated with festoons of popcorn, plus cranberries, brought a hatful of answers from families that still followed the custom. From them we select Mrs. H. S. Currier's:

"On our Christmas tree you may view two strings of popcorn with cranberries at intervals. You might not recognize the cranberries as such, for these strings were made for my elder boy's first tree 17 years ago. No succeeding tree has been complete until they were hung upon it."

Big Names for Little Pills.

Please tell Maxellus [Dec. 26] that "acidum acetylsalicylicum" might do at the notion counter of a drugstore, but if there was a druggist in the house he might insist on the correct name, "monoaceticacidester of salicylic acid." If he will simply say this in the future he will be sure to get that popular placebo and remedy which the vulgar call aspirin.

Borborygmus.

JANUARY WEATHER.

December's gray had thickened on the sun
And settled down within my troubled soul;
From looking on the evil man has done
I held in dread the more that was his goal.
Within my soul the brittle trees were bare,
Fear-frozen was the singing of the birds
And tense the silence; it was winter there
With ice-bound brooks and danger on the roads.
And I despaired that Spring would come again;
Yet even as I grieved . . . the wind grew worse.
The propaganda of the war-mad clan
And Reason fell first victim by the wall

Tom Chekouras.

I proclaim as the most widely misused word in the English language, the little word "due," when used as a synonym for "owing," "because of," or "on account of." Webster says that when any of those three words or phrases could be substituted for "due," then "due" was the wrong word.

Buddy's Grandpa.

Hanby.

A pair of drumsticks, autographed by Gene Krupa to "the Fourth Estate's champion wastebasket drummer," now ornaments the Linemaster's desk.—We're also good on the brass cuspidor, Gene, but the gang around here disturbs us at rehearsal.

We'd never throw our pretty Christmas tree out in the alley. No, sirree, we're going to defenestrate it; or in other words, we're going to pitch it out of the front window onto the lawn.

TONSILS IN OR OUT—WHICH?

PARENTS rightly are concerned about the welfare of their children and the subject of tonsils comes up in nearly every family. What is the function of these bits of tissue? The best that can be said for them is that they serve as filters against bacteria. But, unfortunately, we cannot clean out the strainers. The only thing we can do, when they become clogged with "pollution," is to take them out surgically.

Since we do not know much about their importance to the body, perhaps we should be more cautious than otherwise in recommending wholesale extirpation. There is a possibility that they may have some relation to the glands of internal secretion.

This much we can say—there is probably no surgical procedure of more significance or requiring more accurate technique. If a part of the structure remains, if the wall of the throat is injured, if much blood is lost—far more harm than good may follow. Only one who is well trained and who can qualify as an expert should be entrusted with the job. When the patient is obliged to return for the eradication of tags which have "regrown" we may know that the initial work was inadequate.

We cannot deny the dangerous character of glands that harbor bacteria or that give concrete evidence of disease with periodic attacks of tonsilitis. Let this situation continue and the child will actually slow down in mental and physical development.

Another factor that must be considered is the menace of rheumatism, St. Vitus' dance, or kidney damage because the tonsils have allowed dangerous germs or their toxins to enter the circulation and journey to vital organs. Certainly there is less likelihood that one of these maladies will strike if removal has been effected.

Of course, the rule that no acutely inflamed area should be touched with the knife must not be violated. The slightest temperature—even 99 degrees Fahrenheit—means that we should wait until it has dropped to normal. Occasionally, the use of sulfanilamide or sulfathiazole will be advised for two or three days before the trip to the operating room.

Under no circumstances is electric cautery, diathermy, or any other short cut method to be relied upon. In shrinking the mass we may seal germs deeply within the tissues. In such a situation a pus pocket cannot drain and absorption is certain. In skilled hands the operation is sufficiently safe so that no recourse need be had to such a plan.

True enough, the little patient will have a sore throat for a few days but some comfort may be taken in the fact that if the process is carefully executed a potential enemy of good health has been banished. Without fail, every tonsillectomy patient should be watched attentively for at least 48 hours for signs of bleeding.

We may sum up the whole matter with the dictum that if tonsils are diseased, if they interfere with breathing or swallowing, if pus can be squeezed out of the mouths of the crypts with slight pressure—they are better out than in. If they are normal, even tho somewhat enlarged, it may be well to let them alone.

UNDERWEIGHT.

J. K. writes: You advise those who wish to put on weight to eat and rest. Does this mean that no exercise at all should be indulged in?

REPLY.

Not for the first week or two. Thereafter appetite may flag unless some activity is provided. The amount of exercise may be increased gradually, retaining—at the same time—the added pounds. We can learn much from the experience of live stock feeders.

T. B. EXPOSURE.

B. C. writes: After direct contact with a tubercular patient, how long would it take for anything to develop in the lungs?

REPLY.

Much depends upon body resistance, the state of health, and the number and intimacy of the contacts—approximately, from a few months to a year or more.

LUNG TROUBLE.

Mrs. K. writes: My daughter has a spot on one lung. She smokes heavily. Is this advisable?

REPLY.

Probably harmful—certainly not helpful, particularly if she inhales. I assume that you mean tuberculosis when you say a "spot."

NOT HIS WAR.

Chicago, Dec. 31.—I want to congratulate you on the fine fight you are making to keep this country out of war.

I am a young man of 32 and am married. I served six years in the National Guard when I was single, thinking I was doing my duty as a loyal citizen. Now I am married and the war mongers want to take me and send me to camp so I can fight a foreign war.

I would be the first to join the army if our country was in danger or even if there was a hint of its being threatened. Many of my young friends feel the same about this matter as I do. They would give their last ounce of blood for their country but feel very bitter about going across the sea to help save another country from a fight they got themselves into.

I might add that I played baseball last summer at the Hines hospital for the enjoyment of the Vets, and talking to those poor men would do a lot of people good, including F. D. R., and make them stop and think.

My friends and myself are hoping in our humble way to have you keep up your great fight.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE.

Evanston, Ill., Dec. 30.—It is apparent that your correspondent, C. K., whose letter on hospital insurance was published Dec. 24, was not insured in the Plan for Hospital Care.

I have been hospitalized twice as a member of the Plan during the last three months. On both occasions the hospital gave instant recognition to my Plan membership card, and I was billed only for services not included in my Plan membership.

The hospital can hardly be blamed for refusing to accept any hospital insurance policy as security unless the policyholder executes a specific assignment of his insurance indemnities to the hospital at the time of admission. When the indemnity is paid to the policyholder the hospital has no assurance that he will use the money to pay his hospital bill.

If I had failed completely to collect a reimbursement which I felt was due under the terms of an insurance policy, I should certainly report the case to the state insurance department, which I believe exists to investigate just this sort of thing.

Mrs. Marion Mitchell.

EARTH AND MOON.

Chicago, Dec. 2[illegible].—I wish to call your attention to an error in the "Test Your Facts" quiz of Monday, December 23. I enjoy both questionnaires in your paper very much and therefore feel it my duty to write you.

The error I am referring to is in regard to the sizes of the earth and moon. Your answer states that the moon, with a diameter of 2,000 miles, is one-fourth as large as the earth, with a diameter of 8,000 miles. On the contrary, a sphere having a diameter of 2,000 miles is only one sixty-fourth as great in size, or volume, as that of a sphere with a diameter of 8,000 miles. The sizes vary in proportion to the cube of the diameters.

Wallis H. Stinsman.

A LOOK AHEAD.

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 22.—Germany was moving eastward, not westward, and it seems to me that it should have been the concern of Russia to stop the eastward march of Hitler, not Britain; but if Stalin can get somebody else to do his fighting he would be foolish not to take advantage of it. Now it has been proposed that also we go to the aid of Stalin, short of war, to make the world safe for communism.

I don't like the present state of affairs any more than any one else, but before correcting somebody else's mistakes it seems to me that we ought to stop and consider just what we are doing anyhow.

The world war lasted over four years and cost the allies somewhere around 120 billion dollars. Germany is far stronger now than she ever was at any time during the last war, and it seems foolish to think that she'll be any easier to crack this time. The present conflict is only about a year old, and already Britain is starting to run out of money. If we are to give her our equipment now, that means that we'll have to pay for the bigger part of the war from now on. How much that will be the Lord only knows.

Then suppose our equipment doesn't come back. That is always a possibility. Then what will we do? Somebody else will have our equipment and we'll have nothing but humiliation and public debts, and two powerful enemies, one on each side of the ocean.

And suppose Germany is defeated. After Germany comes Russia! Where are we going to stop? Are we going to fight her, too, or leave Europe in the hands of communism?

ANNUAL AWARD.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—The meanest sneak thief for 1940 is the sewer rat who stole about seven dollars' worth of books and magazines from the crippled newsboy at Central avenue and Harrison street last Monday evening, Dec. 30, at 8 o'clock. The victim is trying to make an honest living standing long hours out in the cold, stormy weather, counting his pennies—in fact it is his sole means of support. Did any one who was passing by at the time see the person who stole these magazines from the newsstands?

Fair Play.

MAPS OF EMPIRE.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Your Graphic section was fine yesterday with the maps, etc., but you did not include the greatest conqueror of all, Jenghis Khan, whose empire extended from the Dnieper to the China sea.

As you gave Hitler's empire, I think it would have been proper to have given the British empire, so all the good citizens of this country will know about the empire they will be called upon to save and protect.

J. A. M.

FROM JOB TO JOB.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—An article printed in The Tribune of Jan. 1 says that 100 state police have sent in their resignations to join their chief as civilian guards at the government ordnance plants being constructed near Wilmington and Elwood, Ill.

It seems to me that there are a great many world war veterans who are now on WPA and who are physically fit in every way who could fill the positions as guards. These state policemen have been on the job for a few years. Why not let them get a taste of the WPA and give the veterans a chance to work?

It looks as if the Democratic machine was at work again. I have seen a great many of the so-called state police and they do not look overburdened with intelligence or other qualifications a police officer or guard should have.

J. P. D.

IT SEEMS SO.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—On Oct. 23, 1940, at Philadelphia, President Roosevelt said, "I repeat again that I stand on the platform of our party: We will not participate in foreign wars and will not send our army, navy or air forces to fight in foreign lands outside of the Americas except in case of attack."

But—is not the plan to lease or loan war materials and ships to a belligerent a deliberate attempt to get around the neutrality and Johnson acts? Leased ships would still be American ships and if any of them were sunk we would be in the war. Does not the whole plan suggest the means of getting the U. S. A. into war by subterfuge?

MORTGAGE RIGHTS.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have a mortgage on a house that is owned by a widow.

If she dies [1] then the house will be probated.

2. How long do I have to wait before I can get my money?

3. The mortgage runs for five years, but is 15 years old already. Do I have to foreclose after she is dead? There is only one heir.

M. V.

1. What you mean is that her estate will be probated.

2. If you mean to ask as to your chances of collecting out of other assets, this will be at least nine months under present Illinois law. We are assuming that your question arises out of Illinois law.

3. As far as foreclosure is concerned, her death will not alter your rights. You will continue to have a mortgage lien against the property.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 24.

1. If a boy wanted to present his girl friend with an appropriate ring for her birthday anniversary this month, he should choose Bloodstone Garnet Diamond Topaz.
2. If you were attending a party and the crowd wanted to play an osculation game, would it be London Bridge Postoffice Blindman's Buff Hopscotch.
3. When a carpenter wishes to cut a board lengthwise, he employs a Hack Saw Rip Saw Coping Saw Crosscut Saw.
4. Which of the following meats was forbidden to the Jews. Lamb Sirloin Steak Pork Chops Turkey.
5. Which of the following states has adopted the one-house legislature? Nebraska New York Maine California.
6. A mother was having trouble making her 8 year old son keep his shirt tail out of sight. Being an active, pugnacious lad, he paid little attention to his appearance. She wept and pleaded, but to no avail. When she employed one of the following methods, however, he quickly heeded her request. Which method below produced the miracle?
   ——Shaming him by telling him he was too old to be so careless of his appearance?
   ——Sewing lace on his shirt tail?
   ——Withholding his weekly allowance?
   ——Sending him to bed without his supper?

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—the last question counts five points.]

JUDGE REJECTS HIGHER COURT'S PICKET DECISION

Refuses to Lift His 1938 Injunction on Union.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 3 [Special].—Standing on his own legal concepts and principles, Superior Judge William J. Palmer today refused to apply to a case before him the recent California Supreme court decision under which unions now are claiming unlimited "peaceful" picketing privileges thruout the state.

In what may be an epochal decision concerning employer-employé union relations, Judge Palmer used nearly 30 pages to support his action, which was taken by way of refusing to set aside, under the Supreme court decision, an injunction he issued nearly three years ago.

"In California," the judge wrote in his opinion, "it was long ago recognized by the Supreme court itself that 'laws are not made by judicial decisions,' that 'the court simply determines the rights of the parties to the action in that particular controversy,' and that whether a rule of law or a purported rule of law enunciated in one case should be followed in others depends on the reasonableness of the rule."

Explains Judge's Position.

Judge Palmer said the Supreme court decision was reached by only four of the seven Supreme justices. He asserted a trial judge looks to the higher courts for guidance, not for compulsion nor for an excuse.

So the judge rejected proposed application of the Supreme court decision to the case before him and stated he did so "in compliance with the canons of judicial ethics, as promulgated by the American Bar association."

In February, 1938, Judge Palmer issued an injunction against the A. F. of L. Los Angeles Building Trades Council and Teamsters' union picketing the Ted R. Cooper company.

He issued the injunction then he he said, "On findings that the plaintiff was at peace with its own employés, was involved in no dispute with them whatsoever, that the picketing was being to coerce the plaintiff into the maintenace of a closed shop for the exclusive benefit of the picketing unions."

Rejects Strike Claim.

Under the recent Supreme court decision in which the higher court appeared to authorized unlimited "peaceful picketing," the unions asked Judge Palmer to set aside the injunction.

This new action on the part of the union to get the matter under the recent high court decision resulted in union maneuvers which Judge Palmer rejected as a bona fide strike, and said the "strike" was "merely a maneuver to simulate a strike condition."

"Obviously," Judge Palmer wrote, "what we have here is an attempt to make a spurious show of labor trouble designed to deceive the court and to provide a counterfeit basis for circumventing the court's judgment. 'I yield to no man in my desire for the well being of the American workman . . . my studies and observations tell me that labor cannot ultimately win by doing wrong, that it cannot gain thru the substantial injury of its employer, and that he who for labor's political support or for any reason would coddle it into doing wrong is not its true friend."

Finds Term Loosely Used.

The judge deplored the lack of a definition of picketing in the Supreme court decision.

"The term 'peaceful picketing,' he said, "is a self-contradiction and aptly describes nothing that is known to man. To use the term is as inept as it would be to speak of a peaceful burglary or a peaceful holdup or a peaceful war.

"It is an alliterative euphemism coined possibly thru carelessness but seized upon avidly by legislators and judges, thus to make it easy to give blanket approval to practices, many of which are plainly immoral."

Particularly did the judge attack the theory that picketing is a form of free speech. He described the theory as "a specious, excusatory mantle" and in further discussing this phase he said "this is the kind of 'freedom' they have in Europe."

KEESHIN OFFERS PLAN TO SAVE ON REFUSE REMOVAL

J. L. Keeshin, head of the Keeshin Motor Express company, recommended to a city council subcommittee yesterday that the city buy 62 garbage trailer units, consisting of 62 tractors and 248 semitrailers, to haul refuse this year, instead of 50 more enclosed type garbage trucks and 60 tractor-trailer units.

Purchase of the latter is proposed by P. C. Nellis, superintendent of city equipment. The equipment recommended by Nellis would cost $2,317,752 and that by Keeshin, $2,071,260.

Keeshin, who had been asked by the finance committee to study the city garbage and ash removal problem, said his experience operating a local and transcontinental trucking system showed tractors and trailers to be more efficient than straight trucks. He computed the hauling cost per yard under Nellis' system at 67.30 cents and under his proposal at 60.14. He said the work might even be handled on a contract basis. The report was referred to Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works.

Plunges from 70th Floor of RCA Building to Death

War Gives U. S. Place, Schneevoigt Avers.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 3.—With European nations bending all their energies toward making war, the United States has become the world center for musical culture and refuge for musicians.

Georg Schneevoigt.

Dr. Schneevoigt recently flew here from Australia where during recent months he directed the organization of symphonic orchestras at Sydney and Melbourne under the auspices of the Australian broadcasting commission. He left Stockholm last February accompanied by his wife, Mme. Sigrid Schneevoigt, well known European pianist.

Cites Scandinavian Music.

Asking to be excused from any discussion of international politics or the merits of the belligerents abroad, Dr. Schneevoigt turned the course of an interview to the future of music and especially the music of his beloved Scandinavia.

"The war is retarding music in many ways," said the Scandinavian conductor. "Its development has been arrested in Europe. It is growing in stature in the United States. The great artists are all flocking to this country.

"Music is a luxury. People do not have the money to pay for music these days in Europe. They must use their meager funds to buy food. And after the war it will take years before music makes up its lost ground in European life because funds will have to be spent first in repairing the physical ravages of the war.

"But music is the universal language—without words—of all countries. The music of one country cannot be destroyed by another."

Gestures Lend Emphasis.

A gray haired man of powerful build, Dr. Schneevoigt gestures in conversation as energetically as on the podium when he weaves a musical pattern with his strings, wood winds, brasses and percussion instruments. He became most excited when he talked about the greatness of Scandinavian music.

"In the last 50 years America has depended too much on German, French and Italian music," he declared with vehemence. "That is because music is a business in those countries. But in Scandinavia it is an art. We are not so much in a hurry. There are many rehearsals and the performances are of a higher standard."

Dr. Schneevoigt recalled that while general musical director in Dusseldorf from 1924 to 1927 a man in the City Government orchestra complained about the number of rehearsals. He told the Scandinavian perfectionist it was not necessary for the Dusseldorf organization to play as well as the greatest orchestras in the world, and it was not expected to do so.

Born in Viborg, Finland.

Born in Viborg, Finland, in 1878, Dr. Schneevoigt believes the greatest folk tunes in the world have arisen among the people of his native land. This is because of the influence of nature, Finland's thousands of lakes, islands, rivers and rugged seacoast, in the conductor's opinion.

Sibelius, whose 75th birthday was celebrated several weeks ago, captured the beautiful fantasies and dreamy wistfulness of the land as well as the somber note of struggle and recurring tragedy among its people, according to Dr. Schneevoigt.

As a young boy in the conservatory at Helsingfors, Finland, Dr. Schneevoigt first came to know Sibelius and is now regarded as the leading Scandinavian interpreter of the great Finnish composer.

Friend of Chicagoan.

Not only did the conductor recall introducing Sibelius' works to European audiences, but Schneevoigt remembered that he had been the first to acquaint Scandinavian concertgoers with the ultra modern "skyscrapers" ballet music of John Alden Carpenter, the Chicago composer. Dr. Schneevoigt is a friend of Ira Nelson Morris, Chicago financier and former United States minister to Sweden.

WOMAN KILLED IN FALL.

Mrs. Mary Save, 63 years old, 2257 Madison street, was killed yesterday when she fell while washing a second story window at 1411 Monroe street.

Going to Air Races

Clint Shirley, a Texas cowboy who uses his own light airplane in his cattle commission business near Fort Worth, paused in Chicago yesterday on his way to Miami, Fla., with the 1941 flivver plane cavalcade and the Miami Air Races. Clad in riding boots and a sombrero, Shirley amazed airport attendants when he climbed out of his 65 horse power Aeronca Chief after flying it here from Middletown, O.

The plane, latest model of its particular type, was delivered to him in Middletown on Thursday afternoon. Shirley says that he will fly the ship 15,000 miles in the next 12 months conducting his business of appraising cattle and picking out marketable livestock from ranchers' herds. He said he seldom uses airports, landing usually in ranch pastures, where he inspects the live stock.

The little 1,300 pound plane is equipped with two way radio, a new type of loop antenna for direction finding by radio signals, lights for night flying and an extra fuel tank that gives it a range of five hours in the air. Shirley said he would leave Chicago for Miami on Monday morning.

NEW TEAMSTER, TRUCK CONTRACT TO BE RATIFIED

A new contract between members of the American Federation of Labor Teamsters' union, Local 705; the Chicago Truck Drivers' union, unaffiliated; the Cartage Exchange of Chicago, the Illinois Motor Truck Operators, and other intrastate truck owners, will be ratified Monday.

The contract terms, retroactive to Jan. 1, were approved last night by about 2,000 members of the A. F. of L. union, meeting in Electrician's hall, Washington boulevard and Ogden avenue. The contract provides for a weekly pay raise of $3 for all drivers and an increase of 10 cents in the hourly overtime rate. The drivers, all of them freight truckers, did not obtain their desired vacations with pay.

Terms of the proposed contract were read to the men by Fred Tiedt, recently reelected president, and arguments for approving them were advanced by H. E. Wood, secretary-treasurer, who was one of the negotiators. The independent union was represented during the negotiations by Thomas Conley and Patrick Lavelle, who were given permission by their fellow members to make final terms. There are 11,000 men in both unions.

D. C. STEPHENSON GETS EXTENSION OF HIS PAROLE

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 3 [Special].—An extension of D. C. Stephenson's temporary parole was granted today by Gov. M. Clifford Townsend.

The former Ku Klux Klan leader received a temporary parole Nov. 30 to undergo an operation at a La Porte hospital. He is serving a life sentence at Indiana state prison for murder of an Indianapolis young woman.

The extension runs until Jan. 18, five days after Gov. Townsend turns the governorship over to his successor, Lieut. Gov. Henry F. Schricker. Some friends of Stephenson had been predicting Townsend would pardon him.

Meanwhile the clemency commission, which has before it a petition for a permanent parole for Stephenson, will meet Tuesday.

TEACHERS' UNION ACTS TO END RED RULE IN NEW YORK

Orders Expulsion Hearing for Eastern Local.

The New York Teachers' union, local No. 5, of the American Federation of Teachers, which has been accused of being dominated by communist officers since 1935, was served with notice yesterday to show cause why its charter should not be revoked. The action was taken by the executive council of the teachers' federation at the conclusion of a five day session at the University of Chicago.

The New York union, second only to the Chicago Teachers' union in membership, will be permitted to answer charges that it has "engaged in tactics and practices inimical to democracy" at a meeting of the executive council here on Feb. 15. The local, which has 6,500 members, is composed of elementary and high school teachers thruout New York City.

Nine Counts in Charges.

Officials of the federation refused to amplify their statement which contained nine counts against the New York union. The executive council also charged that local No. 5 promoted dual unionism and obstructed the work of the federation.

The charge of dual unionism revived an old controversy settled in 1937 when the federation refused to accept proposals to dissolve its affiliation with the American Federation of Labor and join the Congress of Industrial Organizations. The New York union is accused of assisting in the organization of a C. I. O. local for custodial workers while an A. F. of L. local having jurisdiction over the same employés was in existence.

Political activities of the New York Teachers' union were first investigated by a committee of the American Federation of Labor in 1935. The result was a recommendation to the federation of teachers that the charter of the local be revoked.

Threaten Expulsion of All.

Three years later, at the convention of the A. F. of L., the teachers were warned that unless they cleared communists from their ranks they would all be expelled from the federation. At this time the locals accused of being most friendly to the communists were No. 537, the college teachers' union, and No. 453, the WPA teachers' union, both offshoots from New York local No. 5.

Altho neither of these locals was named in the charges yesterday, both joined local No. 5 in protesting the federation's action.

Twice since 1935 groups of dissatisfied members have left local No. 5 to set up separate organizations. One of these formed the independent Teachers' guild with a membership of 1,500. A smaller group seceded last fall.

UNION HEAD DENIES CHARGE.

New York, Jan. 3 [Special].—Charles J. Hendley, president of the New York Teachers' union, made immediate reply today to the action taken in Chicago by the executive council of the American Federation of Teachers, demanding that the New York local [No. 5] show cause why its charter should not be revoked for "practices inimical to democracy."

Hendley denied all charges made by the executive council. He said the New York local was one of "the most democratically organized chapters of the federation," and branded as "spurious and malicious" the council's accusations relating to factionalism within the local.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE TO HAVE 2 NEW SISTERS-IN-LAW

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 3 [Special].—Shirley Temple's older brothers, Jack, 25 years old, and George Jr., 21, made a double announcement of their engagements at a party marking the 27th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Temple.

"Gee, I'm going to have two new sisters-in-law," the young screen actress remarked.

Jack announced his engagement to Miss Miriam Ellsworth of Los Altos, Cal. They met two years ago at Stanford university. They plan to be married in the spring.

George Jr. announced his betrothal to Miss Jacqueline Miesse of Santa Monica, Cal. The two have been schoolmates since early childhood. George at present is attached to the aviation unit of the marine corps at North Island, San Diego, Cal.

BARTLETT SINGS IN OPERETTA ON W-G-N TONIGHT

Marion Claire Co-Star in "Chocolate Soldier."

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Michael Bartlett, noted tenor and musical star of the films, is interrupting a busy schedule of opera performances to make a guest appearance in the Chicago Theater of the Air over W-G-N and the Mutual network tonight. Bartlett and Marion Claire will be headlined in Oscar Strauss' melodic "Chocolate Soldier," which is to be presented from 9 to 10 o'clock in W-G-N main audience studio.

Bartlett, who scored his major screen success with Grace Moore in "Love Me Forever" and was starred in "The Lilac Domino" which just

Busy In Concert and Opera.

Late this month Bartlett will appear with the Baltimore opera company in "La Traviata," and "Faust." In March he expects to go to Havana for three operatic appearances. He is also appearing in concerts.

In tonight's production Bartlett will sing the part of Lieut. Bummerli and Miss Claire will sing that of Nadina Popoff. Olan Soule and Fran Carlon will have these speaking rôles.

Weber Conducts Orchestra.

Helen Bartush will sing the rôle of Aurelia; Marion Schroeder that of Mascha; Mark Love, Capt. Massakroff; Earl Wilkie, Col. Popoff; Ray Charles, Maj. Spiridoff. Supporting players are Cornelia Osgood, Nina Klowden, Marvin Mueller, Dick Good, Bret Morrison, Bob Jellison, and Stan Harris. Henry Weber will conduct the orchestra. Robert Trendler is choral master; Lou Jackobson, producer.

"The "Chocolate Soldier," a story of romantic make-believe with a Bulgarian setting, was first produced in America in 1909 at New York. It contains much familiar music, including "My Hero" to be sung by Miss Claire and the "Sympathy" duet, with Miss Claire and Bartlett.

'I AM' SAYS JURY CAN'T COPE WITH MYSTIC MATTERS

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 3 (AP).—Defense Lawyer Charles R. Carr today urged Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich to take the "I Am" movement mail fraud case out of the hands of the jury. He argued that since scientists were unable to determine whether messages could be received from some other world it would not be proper to permit a jury of laymen to decide the question.

Carr contended that the question at issue was whether books sold by the late Guy Ballard, movement founder; his widow, Edna, and their son, Donald, constituted a fraud on the public. "Ballard has passed on," he said. "And it is now impossible to disprove that he had the experiences set forth in the books. The main question is not whether he had such experiences, but whether Mrs. Ballard believed them and in good faith presented them to their followers."

Judge Yankwich eliminated Grant Lewis as a defendant, but he denied motions for instructed verdicts of acquittal against the remaining nine defendants. The judge said he would rule on other defense motions on Monday.

DEFENSE POLICY TO BE DISCUSSED BY LA FOLLETTE

"Watch Out, America," is the theme of a radio address on foreign policy and defense which Philip F. La Follette, former governor of Wisconsin, will deliver over the Mutual network from 9 to 9:15 p. m. tomorrow. He will speak from the W-G-N studios.

La Follette, who is now practicing law in Madison, Wis., was a lieutenant of infantry in the world war. He has been an earnest advocate of keeping America out of foreign wars. Last June in a radio speech he urged the slogan, "Stay Home and Save the Americas." In October he spoke against repeal of the arms embargo, which he described as a step toward war.

Kills Himself Four Hours After Death of His Wife

GAIN IN JOBLESS NEGROES BARED; 46.6% ON RELIEF

Testimony that the problem of Negro unemployment is becoming increasingly serious was given yesterday by Leo M. Lyons, secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, at a hearing conducted in the city council chambers by the Illinois state commission on the condition of the urban colored population.

In 1933, Lyons said, 20.9 per cent of Illinois' Negro population was on relief. In November, 1940, the number had increased to 46.6 per cent.

Edward L. Doty, executive secretary of the American Consolidated Trades council, said Negro workers have been "knocking constantly on the doors of Chicago unions" since the Stockyards strike of 1919, but have been refused membership and cannot get work on union jobs in the building trades industry.

The commission is to make recommendations to the legislature concerning problems of the colored population.

Hammer Blow Bursts Tire; Truck Driver Fatally Hurt

John Sliwa and his helper removed two tires from their truck yesterday in the 400 block of West Superior street. They deflated one. Sliwa picked up a hammer to remove the rim, but chose the inflated tire. His first blow burst the inner tube. The rim struck him in the head. Sliwa, who was 35 years old, was taken to Henrotin hospital, where he died. He lived at 5837 Ainslie street.

TRUCK DRIVER GETS FIVE DAY JAIL TERM FOR RECKLESSNESS

Fred Van Dyken, 1637 West 14th place, a truck driver, was sentenced yesterday to five days in jail by Judge John V. McCormick in Safety court for reckless driving. His driving privileges were suspended for 30 days. Police testified his truck passed a red light and collided with a car at Western avenue and Harrison street on Dec. 4.

George Hainault, 1528 North Kedvale avenue, was sentenced to five days in jail for reckless driving. The automobile he was driving struck a parked car in front of 1645 North Springfield avenue on Christmas eve.

Judge McCormick dismissed charges of reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident and assault and battery that had been brought against Van E. Lain, an undertaker at 5501 North Ashland avenue, after an accident and ensuing argument on Dec. 19. Thomas H. Kelley, of 5417 Kenmore avenue, an auditor, was the complainant.

Recover Body of Skier Killed Under Avalanche

Alta, Utah, Jan. 3 (AP).—The body of Kenneth C. Wright, 21, of Salt Lake City, was recovered today from a snowpile where a New Year's day avalanche buried him while he was skiing. The body was found by workmen using 40 foot long rods. The slide that roared down Rustler's peak missed usual skiing lanes on which an estimated 1,500 New Year's day visitors frolicked.

J. I. PEARCE JR., 80, HIT BY TRAIN, DIES OF INJURIES

John Irving Pearce Jr., 80 years old, 7337 Coles avenue, died early yesterday shortly after he was struck by an Illinois Central suburban train at 73d street and Exchange avenue. Pearce's father, John Irving Pearce, was a manager of the Sherman house for 20 years prior to his death in 1902. Pearce Jr., was a real estate broker. He leaves his widow, Elizabeth, a son, Attorney John Irving Pearce III.; and a sister, Mrs. Grace Pearce Blair, widow of Henry A. Blair, who was president of the Chicago Surface Lines. The funeral will be held in the chapel at 200 East Erie street at 3 o'clock today.

STRUCK BY AUTO NEW YEAR'S DAY, DIES IN HOSPITAL

Fred E. Steffan, 73 years old, 1813 South 59th avenue, Cicero, a retired cook, died in Mount Sinai hospital yesterday of injuries inturred New Year's day when he was struck by an automobile at Pulaski and Roosevelt roads. Joseph Schourounski, 3909 57th street, was driver.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 14 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 11 were killed in Chicago, where 183 were injured in traffic accidents during the same period.

CITY TO RESUME ENFORCEMENT OF AUTO TEST LAW

John Szumnarski, vehicle license commissioner, told the city council traffic committee yesterday that enforcement of the safety lane testing ordinance, which has lagged for several months, will be resumed within two weeks. Lack of inside testing space was responsible for the temporary lapse of enforcement, he said.

Szumnarski said all seven of the city's inside lanes will be in operation for the new drive. Two of the lanes—at Lawrence and Laramie avenues, and at Outer drive and 31st street—are now being finished. The five now in operation are at Sacramento avenue and Ohio street, Constance avenue and 95th street, 20 North Carpenter street, 2019 Fullerton avenue, and 6934 Cottage Grove avenue. Each lane has a capacity of 50 cars per hour and all will remain open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The committee authorized a study of the possibility of charging a fee for vehicle inspections, which is now prohibited by state law. Edward Gorman, deputy vehicle commissioner, said that Illinois is the only state where such a fee is not charged.

SHERIFF REPORTS 41 OF 1,380 BET PARLORS FOUND

Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien reported yesterday that his deputies have been able to serve only 41 of the 1,380 Cook county summonses issued by the St. Clair county Circuit court. The summonses require their presence in court Monday to answer an injunction suit against gambling brought by Attorney General John E. Cassidy. Sheriff O'Brien said attempts had been made to serve all the summonses, but that most of the defendants had gone into hiding.

Judge George L. Quilici in the South State street court yesterday discharged seven persons arrested Tuesday in an alleged handbook at 11 North Clark street. He held the raid was illegal because the police did not have a warrant. Thus, the judge reversed his earlier opinion that a warrant was not necessary.

Police during the day arrested 15 men in raids on five alleged handbooks at 25 Quincy street, 56 West Washington street, 308 West Van Buren street, and 6 and 81 West Randolph street.

Emerson House Annual Benefit Will Be Rodeo

BY JUDITH CASS.

LEVIS, chaps, 10 gallon hats, plaid shirts, fancy wide leather belts, and all the other paraphernalia that cowboys and dudes wear when they go to rodeos will be brought out of packing trunks, bought from stores that specialize in such things, or rented from costumers' shops, for the annual party for Emerson House. It's to be a rodeo on Saturday, Jan. 25, at the Bal Tabarin in the Hotel Sherman.

Plans for the benefit were disclosed yesterday at a luncheon at the Cedar street home of the chairman, Mrs. Byron S. Harvey Jr. Every one is to be in appropriate costume, including the bartenders, the colored waiters, who will be cowboys, and the attendants in the game room, who will be garbed like the old fashioned gamblers who flourished in the days of Billy the Kid. Silver dollars will be the medium of exchange.

Three Orchestras—Sweet, Swing, and Hill-Billy.

Edgar Miller is painting new scenery for the room, and there will be three orchestras—sweet, swing, and hill-billy. John E. Baker Jr. has the task of finding a caller for square dancing, and he also is assembling a a group to give an exhibition of this sort of old fashioned country dancing. He and his wife, the former Adele Proxmire, are experts at it, having become so at Desbarats in Canada, where they have spent their summers since they were children. The Alexander Bells [Catherine Johnson] are old timers at Desbarats, too, so they will be in the group, also.

The dance floor is to be inclosed with a fence in which there will be no gate. Men may jump over, but ladies—unless they hurdle also—will have to enter thru a chute, the same sort of arrangement by which bucking bronchos and Brahma cattle enter the ring. Dinner will be served from chuck wagons, and there will be a barbecue in one corner of the room. Tablecloths will be taboo, but as a concession to the dudes there will be napkins—paper ones, of course.

Exhibition of Varsoviana to Feature Program.

A group of Santa Fe enthusiasts, headed by Mrs. Arthur G. Cable, will contribute to the program by giving an exhibition of the old New Mexican dance, the Varsoviana, or little-foot, as it is called by some. Mrs. Harvey has spent many vacations in Santa Fe, so it is natural she should have conceived the idea of having a party of this kind to benefit her pet charity. Last year she headed the committee that planned a railroad party for the same good cause.

Gene Autry is sending an autographed hat and belt to be sold. Mrs. Homer Hargrave [Colleen Moore] invited the singing cowboy to attend the party, but the date is one upon which he cannot be in Chicago, hence the contributions. Mrs. Hargrave, Mrs. John Hurley, Mrs. John D. Ames, Mrs. W. Press Hodgkins, Mrs. Morrison Waud, and Mrs. Solomon B. Smith, president of the settlement house board, are Mrs. Harvey's chief assistants in planning the party.

Invitations will be in the form of handbills announcing the biggest and best rodeo in the world, that will be received thru the mail on Jan. 13. They and everything else pertaining to the party are being kept as simple as possible, not only so that the proceeds may be large, but because the committee feels that times are such that no one wants to pay a large sum to attend a party, even when it is for charity.

Woman's Athletic Club Plans Discussion of War Question.

The Woman's Athletic club has arranged a program that is certain to be of vital interest to its members, and their husbands, for it is to be a discussion of America's big issue of the day. Clifton Utley will speak for the William Allen White committee, and Sterling Morton for the America First committee. It will take place at 8 o'clock on Thursday night. Each member may invite three guests. An informal dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Arrangements for Mr. Morton to discuss this matter were made by letter, for he and Mrs. Morton will not return from a southern vacation until Sunday. They went south before Christmas and have been enjoying the sun at Palm Beach and Key West. They spent New Year's eve at the latter place, attending the big ball given at the Casa Marina, at which there were enough gold and white naval uniforms to convince guests the island city again has resumed importance as a naval base, so our correspondent writes.

The Louis C. Sudlers were other Chicagoans at the ball. They went to Key West just before the new year and will return home Jan. 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Atherton Richards arrived yesterday and are departing tonight for their home in Honolulu. They have been in New York for several months.

Farewells Being Tendered the Cecil I. Crouses.

There'll be sad farewells to a popular Lake Forest couple mingled with the gayety at the Frank Bakers' dinner tonight for the Cecil I. Crouses. Mr. Crouse is leaving tomorrow to take up residence in New York, and Mrs. Crouse and 2 year old Gerrit will join him there within six weeks.

Before the Crouses are settled in their new home somewhere in Westchester county, Mr. Crouse will return to Chicago for several weekends. Already the Boyd Hills have had a crowd in for cocktails, and last night the John R. Howlands gave a dinner party at home.

Although Col. and Mrs. Nathaniel Howard departed for California the day after their niece, Miss Merikay Howard, reached home from Briarcliff Junior college, they will enter-

Debutante of Holidays

Miss Peggy Rich made her bow to society at a supper-dance given at the Racquet club on Dec. 27 by her brother-in-law and sister, the James Grierson Shennans, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rich. During her Christmas vacation from the Finch school, Miss Rich has been staying at the Ambassador East with her mother, Mrs. R. Joseph Rich.

Composer Krenek.

When Pianist Allan Tanner went to Perrin hall Thursday morning to give a piano lesson, he heard modern music being played masterfully in the studio, and, opening the door, saw a blond youngish man at the piano.

"I beg pardon," he said, "but it is time for me to give a lesson and my pupil is here." Then he paid compliment to the man at the piano on the quality of his playing. The stranger said he was rehearsing for a recital he was giving that evening in the hall below.

"Are you going to play a lot of Krenek?" asked Tanner, having recognized the music, also noting the book of Krenek under the stranger's arm.

"I am it," said the stranger with a smile.

Ernst Krenek, Austrian composer whose best known work is the opera Johnny Spielt Auf arrived in town so quietly with his wife, the former Berta Hermann, a well known actress in Germany, that only the little group that gathered to hear him that evening were aware that he was here. He was brought to Chicago by the New Music group, headed by Robert Erickson, Chicago composer and former pupil of Krenek, and Mrs. Erickson. Krenek's first wife was a daughter of Gustav Mahler. They left yesterday morning for the east. Krenek is an instructor at Vassar college.

Affair Flair.

The toss of a coin
Caught in a palm.
A breathless space,
A timeless calm.
As long as a wink,
The span of a stare.
A shot in the dark.
Your love affair.

MISS SMITH.

Actress and Diva.

Miss Ruth Chatterton, leaving on the makeup of Eliza Doolittle in her hurry to hear her friend, Grace Moore, in the last act of Manon New Year's eve, hastened from the Harris to the opera house. Then she joined Miss Moore in her dressing room, and as the old year died the prima donna and the actress, standing on a divan, raised their voices in Auld Lang Syne, in which the friends gathered in the room joined in. It is a Chatterton-Moore tradition to begin a new year together thus whenever possible.

Miss Moore, who has sung the song many times as an encore, and who had sung it out front that evening, had to have a book because, strangely enough, she couldn't remember the words. And the reason they got up on the divan to sing it is a bit of superstition—they both are filled with superstitions. Singing it from an elevated position means luck in the new year—elevation in the world and in the hearts of friends.

Miss Chatterton, now appearing in Shaw's Pygmalion, wears jade and emeralds, loves flamenco music, is a brilliant conversationalist, an airplane pilot, and is fond of travel. Her next trip will be to Mexico, where she hopes to spend a week after the tour that follows the Chicago run of her play. Miss Chatterton has lived in Spain from time to time and loves the country and the people, but she never has been to Mexico. She hopes to see a bull fight there. One of her best stories concerns the tienta held on the estate of Juan Belmonte, renowned Spanish bull fighter.

A tienta is the function at which bulls are chosen for the ring, only those with fighting spirit being chosen and trained further. Miss Chatterton describes the atmosphere, the Spanish landscape, the spirited spectacle with appreciation. Also the bull that took after her on the ridge of the plateau where the tienta was being held. Belmonte took it off with a cape, and she dashed for the spectators' cars, hurling herself into the arms of Claude Bowers, then ambassador to Spain, who helped her escape. She scrambled up on top a limousine, but by that time she had attracted the attention of the bull again, and he charged the car.

"If you get tired of your career as an actress, come to Spain," Belmonte told her. "You could have a career here at the tienta."

Aurora to Celebrate Twelfth Night Monday

Aurora's third annual Twelfth Night celebration, with the burning of the town's Christmas trees as the most spectacular feature, will be held Monday evening. Mayor Harry B. Warner will touch off the bonfire after a program of songs and band music. Last year the trees, piled up in a vacant lot near the business district, were prematurely fired by mischievous boys. To prevent a repetition the police are now guarding the pile.

Two Weddings Out of Town of Interest Here

Two of the most interesting to Chicagoans of the many weddings taking place today are in other cities, one in Cincinnati and the other in St. Louis.

The marriage of Miss Edna Jean Headley, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford A. Headley of Cincinnati, to Wrigley Offield, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Offield of Chicago, will take place at 4:30 o'clock at the Seventh Presbyterian church in Cincinnati. Dr. Jesse R. Halsey, minister of the church, will officiate.

Mrs. Grant Headley [Sara Werk] of Cincinnati and Cairo, Egypt, the sister-in-law of the bride, will be the matron of honor and only attendant.

Henry Borntraeger of Pittsburgh will be Mr. Offield's best man. The ushers will include James Headley; Denis E. Sullivan Jr. of Chicago, the bridegroom's brother-in-law; Thatcher Waller of Chicago, Henry Kramer of Chicago, Gordon Hickenlooper of Cincinnati, and Charles Huntington of Los Angeles.

A reception for the immediate family connection and few intimate friends will take place immediately following the ceremony at the residence of the bride's parents on Raymar drive in Cincinnati.

Upon their return from a wedding journey in about five weeks, Mr. Offield and his bride will be temporarily in Chicago with his parents.

The wedding of Miss Margaret McPheeters Adreon, daughter of Mrs. Robert E. Adreon of St. Louis, and Hugh Lafayette McWilliams Jr. of Boston is to take place in St. Louis at 4 o'clock in the chapel of the Church of St. Michael and St. George. Mr. McWilliams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. McWilliams of Chicago.

After the ceremony a reception for the two families and out of town guests will be held at the Adreon home. Mrs. Stuart Hoxton Smith is to be the bride's only attendant. C. D. P. Hamilton III. will be his brother-in-law's best man. Rogers V. Scudder, cousin of Miss Adreon; Benjamin Wilkins Durham of St. Louis, and Robert Anderson and Henry McIntyre of Chicago will be ushers.

Out of town guests will include the parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McWilliams, Thomas McWilliams, and Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin Johnston, all of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. William Sears of Kenilworth, Ill.

Miss Adreon, the daughter of the late Robert E. Adreon, was graduated from the Community school and Mary institute in St. Louis. After spending a year at the Graduate house in Florence, Italy, she was presented to society here in 1938. She has been studying art in Boston. Mr. McWilliams was graduated from Phillips academy, Andover, Mass., and Princeton university, class of '33.

Miss Nancy Craft Wolcott, oldest daughter of Mrs. Ryland A. Wolcott, and Scott Alexander McKeown Jr. are being married at 4:30 o'clock today in the Winnetka Congregational church. The bride's uncle, Roger Wolcott, who is here from Indianapolis with Mrs. Wolcott, will give her in marriage.

Dr. Samuel Harkness will officiate at the ceremony, which is to be followed by a small reception in the Wolcott home in Winnetka.

Miss Jean Wolcott, who is at home for the holidays from the Stuart school, will be maid of honor, and a younger sister, Katrina, is one of the bridesmaids. Completing the feminine contingent of the bridal party are the bride's cousin, Miss Zada Craft of Winnetka; the bridegroom's sister, Miss Sara Jane McKeown of Washington, Pa.; Miss Margot Webbe and Miss Janet Musselman of Winnetka, and Miss Kathleen Kelly of Chicago.

Guy Weldon Plank of Pittsburgh will be best man, and the ushers will be Burdette Pond Mast of Winnetka, Thomas Kelly of Lake Forest, John Whitworth of Washington, Pa.; David Scott of Upper Montclair, N. J.; Wayne Bleakley of Franklin, Pa., and Arnold Burrough of Waban, Mass.

Mr. McKeown, whose mother is Mrs. McKeown Sr. of Washington, Pa., will take his bride on a short wedding trip and then bring her back to Chicago to reside.

The ceremony will take place at

Engaged

MISS VIRGINIA RUTH KING.

Miss Virginia Ruth King's engagement to Peter M. Kelly has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack King of Oak Park. Mr. Kelly, son of the former county commissioner, is attending Notre Dame and is left guard on the first string team. Miss King, a graduate of Trinity High school of River Forest, is a professional model.

Three Repeat Ballets Please Capacity House

BY CECIL SMITH.

Last night's performance by the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo in the Auditorium theater was the fifth feature of the History and Enjoyment of Music subscription concert series. A capacity audience gave its eager attention to repetitions of "Serenade," "Poker Game," and "The Nutcracker."

Nathalie Krassovska took over the leading feminine rôle in "Serenade," replacing Mia Slavenska, who did not appear until "The Nutcracker," the final item on the program. Miss Krassovska brought youthful fire to her part in George Balanchine's beautiful choreography. There is an attractive, high spirited quality in her dancing which compensates partly for the fact that she is hardly accomplished enough technically to be awarded first parts.

Igor Youskevitch again gave one of his most impressive performances as the romantic lover in "Serenade." Frederic Franklin still fails to be impressive in the other leading male part, because he is too detached from his partner, and seemingly too exclusively interested in his own dancing.

"Poker Game," on further acquaintance, remains a whimsical but rather prolix work. Considerably before it ends it exhausts the potential amusement in the idea of a danced card game. The most attractive dancing, by Alexandra Danilova and Alicia Markova, is largely over with at the end of the second of the three "deals," and the last "deal" becomes a little stale. Thruout the whole ballet, however, the machinations of Mr. Franklin as the joker are brilliantly fantastic.

Only four ballet performances remain—two today and two tomorrow.

Chicago Again Leads World in Saving Babies

Chicago continues to lead the world in reduction of infant mortality and maternal death rates, the annual report of the board of health disclosed yesterday.

The 1940 infant mortality rate of approximately 29 deaths of babies under one year old per 1,000 live births was 7 per cent under the previous all-time low rate of 1939, the report showed. The 1940 maternal death rate of 2.4 per 1,000 live births was 4 per cent under the 1939 rate.

An estimated 50,500 births were reported in 1940, an increase of approximately 3.2 per cent over 1939.

The board attributed the continued reductions to increased attendance at prenatal conferences held for expectant mothers financially unable to consult private physicians, and the free distribution of mothers' breast milk. Many expectant mothers infected with syphilis also were treated.

An alltime low typhoid fever death rate of 0.1 per 100,000 population, one of the lowest in the world, was established during the year. The three deaths from typhoid was a reduction of 67 per cent from the 1939 figure.

Altho an increase in influenza cases was noted during the year in certain sections of the country, Chicago showed a reduction of 77 per cent. Other appreciable contagious disease reductions were in diphtheria, whooping couch, and tularemia. There were no cases of small pox in comparison with seven in 1939.

The number of measles, infantile paralysis and scarlet fever cases increased 860, 118, and 85 per cent, respectively, the report shows.

Ten per cent more school children were given dental attention in school clinics than during the previous year. Approximately 21,000 containers of serums and vaccines were distributed free to physicians who administered them to school children and indigent persons.

The health department effected a 28 per cent reduction in syphilis cases thru its program for the control of venereal diseases, but gonorrhea cases increased 9 per cent as compared with 1939.

The program for insuring healthful air distribution in places of employment and assembly halls resulted in a 20 per cent increase in the examination and approval of plans for ventilating systems and equipment to control dust, fumes, gases, and odors from industrial processes.

U. of Chicago to Hold 13th Candle Lighting Service

The 13th observance of the University of Chicago's Epiphany candlelighting service will be held tomorrow evening in Rockefeller Memorial chapel. The Rev. Charles W. Gilkey, dean of the chapel, will deliver the readings, and the choir and acolytes will be directed by Mack Evans, assisted by Ernest Olson. The hundreds of candles lighted during the ceremony depict the appearance of the light in the Nativity, and the spread of the light thruout the world by the Three Wise Men. Frederick L. Marriott, chapel organist, will accompany the university choir.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 3.—When a resort frequented by movie folk opened for the season the management had it all fixed for gambling—squared with local authorities and everything. It also, for some reason, fired the manager and put in a new man—and this was a mistake. For the ex-manager was also the postmaster and the postoffice was in the resort. In no time federal men were down on the joint, warning that Uncle Sam simply would not tolerate gambling in or around a postoffice. P. S.—The place has its old manager back.

Edmund Gwenn, currently portraying a villainous section manager in the store Jean Arthur works at in "The Devil and Miss Jones," was approached by a gushy woman at a New Year's party. She burbled about how wonderful she thought him. "And I particularly enjoyed you," she said, "in 'Pride and Impudence.'"

Director Sam Wood has a complete department store laid out for the Arthur-Devil-Jones opus, and today when I dropped in Charles Coburn was having a fitting. [His part is that of the rich owner who visits his store incognito.] Mr. Coburn lay flat on his back on the green carpeted sales floor, while technicians, crew members and director gathered above him. Around his middle was a wide girdle which looked as tho it could have been made of heavy leather, vulcanized rubber or metal. A stagehand sat on the noble Coburn tummy while everybody else stood off and looked thoughtful. Then Coburn said he thought it would do. What was it for? Well, it was just to protect the actor's valuable middle in a bathing beach scene in which a small boy stumbles over Mr. C.

Coincidence department: When Bette Davis gets back from her honeymoon on Tuesday the first scene she makes with Jim Cagney in "The Bride Came C. O. D." will be an elopement. . . . Twentieth-Fox's Nunnally Johnson is reported to have bought Polan Bank's novel, "Manhattan Holiday." Banks wrote the story Miss Davis just finished before her wedding, "Her Great Lie." . . . Harold Schuster has persuaded Annabella to come out of retirement to star in "A Weekend in Nice," and all the deal needs now is Darryl Zanuck's okay. Schuster directed Annabella's English hit, "Wings of the Morning." . . . Shooting of "Tobacco Road" was finished yesterday, thanks to Charles Grapewin's grit. Grapewin, who plays Jeeter Lester, came down with flu during the holidays, but instead of taking to bed and holding up the picture he hired three doctors to keep him going. Now he's at his ranch. . . . Great Problem department: Jane Withers gets her first kiss—from one Dick Clayton—in "A Very Young Lady," and Jane's ma and the studio have been in grave conferences over how it should be done.

They've had to quit shooting on Cesar Romero's new Cisco Kid number, "Ride on Vaquero," because practically everybody has flu. Victims include Romero, Chris-Pin Martin, Ben Carter and Mary Beth Hughes. It all happened because an extra needed a little dough for Christmas and bravely went to work, even tho he had the bug. He made a present of it to the others . . . Martin, the fabulous Mexican, had invited 200 or so of his friends to a typical Chris-Pin party on New Year's eve. He was too ill to call up everybody and tell them the party was off—so he took advertising space in the local trade papers. . . . Miss Hughes has turned down the feminine lead in "Ten Gentlemen from West Point." It's a sympathetic rôle, and she says she wants to stay mean a while longer—long enough to get better established before switching characters.

A favorite trick for locating one's car in a big parking jam is to raise the radio aerial and tie a handkerchief to it, or put a paper cup on it. And at the Rose bowl a favorite trick of some pranksome youths was to switch the markers to other cars a dozen rows away.

Orson Welles has half finished the script of his next picture, which will be about Mexico. His heart, Dolores Del Rio, will have the lead, and his co-workers want him to title it "Down Del Rio Way." . . . Gary Cooper will talk Cumberland mountain dialect in the "Sergeant York" movie. Warners have engaged several men as possible teachers, and are going to make a record of the dialect of each. The discs will be shipped to York himself, and the speaker he picks will be given the teaching job. . . . Hollywood's wedding-divorce score for 1940 is better than each day's papers would indicate. Only 76 movie divorces as against 86 marriages. Eighty-seven counting the silver anniversary rewedding of the Joe E. Browns.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

Beauty is important, of course, to any woman, but we have a feeling that a great many of the young girls—and their doting mothers—overlook the fact that there are many attributes that are perhaps even better than beauty. They wear better, certainly.

We're delighted to see good grooming and beauty truths taught so well in so many of the schools; it's a part of feminine education that's been neglected until quite recently. But sometimes we can't help but nurse a suspicion that too many girls develop the idea that coiffure and cosmetics are everything.

They aren't. They're only the trimmings. The things that are really important are manner, good taste, and attitude. These are things that don't come out of bottles or jars or hairdressing salons and the very fact that they can't be bought makes them especially priceless.

It's still unfashionable and extremely bad taste for a 16 year old to overdress, to use too much makeup and to pattern herself in behavior and appearance after some dashing lady of films or fiction. No matter how pretty she is, she's ridiculous when she doesn't act her age. And if she doesn't have enough instinctive good sense to dress youthfully, her mother should be firm about what she may and may not wear and do.

Simple clothes are smartest; so are simple hairdresses and makeups. Only the woman of uncertain years and wobbling poise turns to the exotic; young girls don't have to make such a questionable bid for attention.

The Odor of Violets

By Baynard Kendrick

[Copyright: 1940: By Baynard Kendrick.]

SYNOPSIS.

Leaving their house guest, Chell Scott, Norma Tredwill goes to the city to break up the romance between her libertine ex-husband, Paul Gerente, and her stepdaughter, Barbara. She sees Barbara leaving Paul's apartment, goes in and finds Paul has been murdered. Duncan Maclain, a blind detective, receives a visitor who claims to be Paul Gerente, with orders in code from the naval intelligence. On a hunch Maclain goes to Paul's apartment and finds Cameron with the dead man. Cameron confesses to the murder, but Maclain doubts his story. Barbara disappears. Norma's stepson, Gilbert, is designing engineer for Bunny Carter, who is head of the aircraft works. In Gilbert's workshop some one pushes a wardrobe on Norma, and she suspects it is Bella, the maid. Col. Gray, head of the New York defense plans, commissions Maclain and his partner, Spud, to investigate spy activities in connection with the murder of Paul and the bombing sight Gilbert has designed. Maclain goes to the Tredwill home with his two seeing-eye dogs, ostensibly to solve Barbara's disappearance. He discovers Gilbert's bombing sight plans have been traced, and later finds Bella beheaded. He has noticed the odor of violets in Paul's apartment and notices it again about Bella. He concludes it is a trademark of a foreign spy system, but believes Bella was murdered because she was working for the naval intelligence while pretending to work for the spies. Maclain goes with Carter to the aviation plant where he hears Louis Madoc, foreman, speak and recognizes the voice of the man who visited him the night of Gerente's murder, pretending to be Gerente. A perfume ad is mailed Norma from the House of Bonnes, and Maclain decodes it, finding it is a message to kidnap him and find the defense plans. He throws the ad out as bait to catch the criminals after he has sent a message to Spud in the city to go to the House of Bonnes, investigate and be ready to capture the kidnap gang. Spud goes there and the sales girl tries to sell him some black violets perfume. Spud refuses to buy and is knocked out by a whiff of it. Upon reviving he puts up a battle to escape, but is shot. Cameron, who confessed to Gerente's murder is also working for the intelligence service. The spies think he is locked up under suspicion of murder, but he has been trailing Maclain. He breaks into Maclain's apartment and hears the message on the dictaphone Maclain sent Spud. He reports to Col. Gray. Meanwhile Maclain, driving to town with Chell Scott, is kidnaped. Cameron in turn kidnaps Madoc and tries to make him tell where Maclain is.

INSTALMENT XLII.

TORTURE CHAMBER.

Cameron lifted the suitcase suddenly and set it down on the bed close to Madoc's ear.

"Listen." The glint of merriment usually present had left his eyes, leaving them poisonously gray and clear.

Leaning over he rapped with his knuckles on the side of the suitcase to be answered with scurrying and a tiny squeak, sharp as the slice of a machete against the silence of the room.

Madoc's lips worked convulsively and his beaknosed face grew ugly with pallor.

"Those rats in there are hungry." Cameron took the suitcase from the bed and put it on the floor. "The sergeant kindly got them for me from the hospital laboratory where they're used for experimental purposes."

He turned toward King. "It's a very pleasant custom, sergeant, handed down from the last world war. I've heard that the Sikhs and Gurkas, who were noted for their fortitude, could stand as many as three, only to become raving maniacs at number four."

He swung back unexpectedly on Madoc and said, "Weak men talk and so will you."

Reaching down, he picked the trussed-up man from the bed as tho he weighed nothing at all, strode across the room to the closet, opened the door, and dumped Madoc's struggling form on the floor.

"We'll see how long you can stand it, Hawkface. One at a time I'm taking those rats from the suitcase and tossing them in there with you."

He slammed the closet door. Sergt. King mopped his forehead and said, "Holy Saint Cecelia! If this is police work, I think I'll go back to farming."

"This isn't police work," Cameron told him. "It's a bloody war."

He unstrapped the lid of the suitcase, clicked the latch and walked to the closet door; then came back and seated himself in the squeaky chair.

The sergeant looked at his watch and said, "It's 7:15 on Christmas eve."

A sudden scream, prolonged and terrifying, started a tingling at the roots of the sergeant's hair. It rose again and died away.

"Hark!" said Cameron. "The herald angels sing."

He got up and walked to the closet door. "Where is Duncan Maclain?"

"He's in the basement of a deserted house on Sunset Hill in Glastonbury." Madoc poured out sobbingly from behind the closet door.

"Who's there with him?" asked Cameron.

"Four men. O, God, they'll murder me!"

The scream rose up again and died off lingeringly.

"Damn it all," said Cameron. "He's fainted."

He opened the closet door, lifted Madoc's unconscious body, and laid it on the bed with the head hung over the edge. He returned to the closet, groped around for a minute, and picked up the tiny furry animal from one corner. Holding it in his hand, he came back into the room and said:

"If you'd had the time to get rats, he probably would have given us a certified list of every spy in the United States. It's funny what a bit of talk, a lot of darkness, and a guinea pig can do."

* * * * * * *

Heavy footed men had been coming and going for a long time, moving crates out of the cellar. Duncan Maclain played a game by following their approaching footsteps and guessing which box they would take out next. The men worked silently, indicating the effort of their labors by occasional grunts and groans.

Lying in a corner on the damp floor, the captain traced their burden-laden steps and reached the conclusion that the boxes were being taken outside thru a cellar door. Big plans were apparently in the process of completion. Several times he heard the start of a powerful motor and the rumble of wheels as heavy trucks came to life and moved off. It was doubtful that such dangerous contraband would be assembled in a place of safety and summarily whisked away unless a culmination was near.

His hands had been loosened long enough for him to eat. Afterward the handcuffs were restored, but his lips were left untaped. He read that courtesy as a preliminary step to letting him talk with the girl.

He was not surprised when they brought her in and laid her down beside him after the last of the boxes were taken away.

Her whisper was tremulous and startlingly close to his ear when she asked, "Capt. Maclain, can you hear?"

"Perfectly, Chell," he answered gently. "This unforgivable situation we're in is entirely due to me."

After he spoke she breathed erratically as tho finding it difficult to know just what to say. At last she asked him, "Have you any idea where we are?"

"No," said Maclain, "except that we're in a house near the top of some small hill."

"Hill?" she repeated leadenly. "They've kept me blindfolded. I haven't been able to see."

"Nor have I, Chell, but I have heard trucks approaching in second gear, and the ease with which once loaded they roll away."

Twice she began to speak and faltered. The captain knew what was in her mind. It was better to refrain from prompting her, preferable to let her face the task alone, find the difficult words she must inevitably choose to tell him of cool voiced threats made against her. He could only wait and listen when finally she sobbed out her story of carefully calculated torment and coercion. Chell Scott had become part of their plans, and Duncan Maclain was powerless to do anything but remain inert and receive like dripping acid on his delicate eardrums every soul scarifying word she had to say.

"Captain——"

"Yes, Chell." His voice held rich, full assurance, never betraying the fact that for the moment he had almost ceased to live inside of himself, that his blood had almost ceased to flow under heartbeats, so tense had become his concentration. It was one of those moments when Spud would have told him, "Dunc, you've ceased to be a man and become an unemotional machine."

"—Those men in there, they're going to——"

"Listen, my dear," said Duncan Maclain. "There are some things in life greater than the human body; some things even greater than the working of imagination, which is the acme of all fear. Love of humanity is one, and another is faith in an ideal. You've been placed on a pedestal which the gods might envy. The lives and happiness of a nation and preservation of its ideals are in your hands, dependent on your courage and you."

She suddenly began to cry. "They're going to put a band around my head and tighten it until I die. I haven't your strength, Capt. Maclain. They said that you're a man without feeling, told me that I could never break you down."

"So you'd have me talk?" asked Duncan Maclain, and the glass edged question silenced the sobbing girl. "You value yourself too highly, Chell; yourself and me. To save you I'd have to sack a city, throw 8,000,000 people at a stroke into a pit of pestilence——"

He stopped, and with him the noise in the basement window, to which he had been listening so intently, stopped, too.

"I'm afraid, captain." Her words were scarcely coherent. "They murdered Bella so brutally, I can't forget it. They said if torturing me didn't make you talk, they'd start on you."

The captain felt that she was stifling an imminent scream.

"They murdered her," she went on with hysteria taking command. They'll have no pity on a girl. They'll torture me until I'm dead, and then they'll start on you!"

"They won't," said Duncan Maclain.

Across the cellar the bolt slid back in the door and the captain heard the methodical tramp of three pairs of feet coming for him and the girl.

Good Morning!

Nick Carter sleuths again in the mildly amusing and often gently exciting murder mystery soliciting your attention from the State-Lake screen.

As impersonated by Walter Pidgeon, who doeth all things well, looking inevitably the answer to almost any maiden's prayer, he makes a mighty good showing this trip.

Completely surrounded by false friends, international politics, pretty girls, bees, and airplanes that pack DEADLY MENACE, he protects helpless innocence, foils malign foes gnawing at the heart of American liberty, uncovers a POISONOUS SOURCE of intrigue, and falls in and out of love charmingly. His sense of humor and susceptibility to feminine charm never desert him, and so life, e'en tho ridden with danger, is unfailingly sweet to him.

Donald Meek is fun as Carter's shadow. The little gentleman specializes in both bees and detecting. His nickname is "Beeswax," and tho he may look as frail and fiddle-de-diddle as Mary's lamb—be not deceived. He can outwit any number at any time.

The maidens participating all handle their rôles intelligently, as do other male members of the cast. The film moves rapidly to a neat ending that bears a promise of more news from Nick Carter.

See you soon.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Here's a book which we should have met sooner, but since it was published only two days ago, we couldn't have bought it before Christmas. "A Cookbook of Leftovers" is good all year around, however, not just at holiday time.

This is the most practical book on leftover cookery which I have seen. The receipes are specific and complete. There are over 150 suggestions about the use of leftover meats, 100 uses for sour cream, many recipes for salads, soups, casserole dishes, desserts to be made from leftovers.

The authors are Clare Newman and Bell Wiley. Publisher, Little Brown and Company. Price, $2.

Writes a masculine Chicago cook: "In making beaten biscuits can the same results be obtained by putting the dough thru the meat grinder? If so, how long a time is necessary, and which size chopper do you advise? Please give me the recipe for beaten biscuits."

I never have heard of this idea, and it sounds not only impractical, but messe, and I doubt that it would work. The success of beaten biscuits depends upon mixing and beating the dough for a long time, long enough to soften the gluten in the flour and make it tender. We know that overmixing baking powder biscuit dough will toughen gluten and produce hard biscuits, but if the mixing and kneading are carried on far enough beyond this toughening point, the softening reaction occurs. One southern cook [beaten biscuits seem to be popular only in the south] tells me that she works the dough for half an hour. The story is told of a "mammy" who described her technique thus: "I uses 300 strokes for every day, but when I's spectin' company in, I uses 500 sure."

Southern Beaten Biscuit.

4 cups flour
2 teaspoons salt
¼ cup lard
¾ cup [1 cup minus 2 tablespoons] milk and water.

Southern Beaten Biscuit.

Sift flour and salt. Work in shortening with finger tips. Stir in liquid gradually [equal parts milk and water] mixing until a very stiff dough is formed. Roll out on a floured board. Fold the dough over and beat with a mallet or wooden potato masher. Continue folding and beating for 20 minutes or longer. When the dough becomes smooth and velvety roll out to a half inch in thickness. Cut into rounds and prick each biscuit twice, clear thru, with a fork. Bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees, for half an hour, or until well browned.

Some mixing machines will handle this dough, taking the hard labor out of making beaten biscuit. Don't overtax the power of a lightweight mixer, tho, or there'll be trouble.

Two Patterns for Juniors

DISTINCTIVE TEEN AGE FROCKS.

Juniors will like the two frocks in our patterns today. One is decidedly juvenile, with a laced waistline and "winged" shoulder straps. The other is a shirtwaist dress just like those big sister is wearing. The sketches illustrate how effective striped materials will be in these two models.

Style No. 2759 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12, 14, and 16. Size 12 requires 3 yards of 35 inch material, with 1¼ yards of contrasting.

Style No. 3164 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, and 17, and 29, 31, 33, and 35 inch bust measurements. Size 15 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

For 15 cents buy the winter Chicago Tribune book of Clotilde Fashions, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower; 10 cents if ordered with a pattern. Address mail orders to the New York address above.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Raymond of Evanston announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to George Scott Hammonds, son of Dr. and Mrs. O. O. Hammonds of Oklahoma City. The wedding is to take place in February, and the couple will live in Marshall, Tex.

Miss Raymond attended Northwestern university. Recently she has been living in Shreveport, La. Her fiancé studied at the University of Oklahoma and at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Two Weddings Out of Town of Interest Here

4:30 o'clock in the Ralph A. Bards' home in Highland Park. Included in the small family circle which will be present are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Manulis of New York and Mrs. Sellar Bullard of Santa Barbara. Mrs. Manulis, who uses her maiden name of Katharine Bard in pursuing her stage career, has just left the cast of "Life with Father."

After a wedding trip to Mexico the couple will live on the north side of Chicago. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Sr. of Chicago.

Miss Betty Crandall, daughter of the Ralph G. Crandalls, and William Swift Lord Jr., son of the senior Lords, are being married at 8:30 o'clock tonight in St. Mark's church in Evanston, where both families make their homes.

Miss Margo Crandall, the bride's cousin, is here from Bristol, Ind., to be maid of honor. Miss Evelyn Robinson and Miss Janet Seidel share the rôles of bridesmaids.

The bridegroom will have his brother, Richard Bennett Lord, as best man, and John Bigelow Lord, Donald Ogden Lord, Mark Woodward, Bradley and Ernest Palmer, and Samuel Perry as ushers. A reception will follow in the Country club of Evanston.

Miss Helen Frances Garvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Garvey of Bronxville, N. Y., formerly of Chicago, will become the bride of Henry C. L. Johnson, son of Mrs. Claus Johnson of Chicago, today in New York. After their return from a wedding trip to Miami, Fla., Mr. Johnson and his bride will reside in Mount Vernon, N. Y. Miss Garvey and Mr. Johnson are graduates of Northwestern university.

The marriage of Miss Kathryn Ann Schevers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walsh Schevers of Sheridan road, to John Joseph Elder will take place this morning at 11 o'clock at St. Andrew's church. Mr. Elder is the son of George Elder of Columbia avenue. The ceremony will be followed by a wedding breakfast at the Hotel Knickerbocker. Miss Mary Schevers will serve as maid of honor for her sister. Thomas Ryan will be best man for Mr. Elder.

Crocheted 'Hug-Me-Tight'

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

This unusual, crocheted "hug-me-tight" is made in one triangular piece and joined. That is all there is to creating one of these warm and comfortable jackets. A few balls of Shetland floss, the easy double crochet stitch, and a shell trimming are the requirements for completing this jacket. The instructions include directions for making the large, medium, and small sizes.

For instructions in crocheting the "hug-me-tight" No. 826, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Archbishop to Address Holy Name Societies

Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch will address a convention of 2,000 men from the archdiocesan union of Holy Name societies tomorrow night at the Holy Name cathedral. Jan. 5 is the Feast of the Holy Name, and this annual celebration dates back to the founding of the Holy Name society in the Chicago area. The guest oration will be delivered by the Rev. Harry C. Graham, national director of the Holy Name society. A campaign is under way to increase by 200,000 the Chicago membership.

Rockford College Party.

The Chicago Rockford College club will hold its annual holiday meeting at 1 o'clock today at the new Abbott hall on Northwestern university's downtown campus. Juniors and seniors at the college will be special guests at luncheon. There will be bridge afterward.

tain for her by proxy tonight with a dinner-dance at the Camellia house of the Drake. Miss Howard is the debutante daughter of the Eugene Howards.

David C. Wilhelm, son of the Frank E. Wilhelms, will referee the opening 1941 match of the newly formed National Polo league at the 124th Field Artillery armory tonight. Mr. Wilhelm will return shortly to Yale, where he will captain the university's polo team during the coming season.

Match Is Between Evanston and Field Artillery Teams.

The match tonight is between the Evanston Polo club, Lieut. William D. Fergus, Stevens Hammond, and Claude Mackay, and the 124th Field Artillery team, including Maj. William S. Everett, Capt. Romeo E. Mura, and Lieut. Don J. Rice.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Easter of Lake Forest will be at home from 4 to 7 o'clock tomorrow for their annual Tom and Jerry party.

Mrs. Robert Dudley will entertain at supper for debutante Tanisse Twyman at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow at her home in Barry avenue. Mrs. Dudley will take her young guests on to the Ballet Russe. Miss Twyman, the daughter of the Robert Twymans, returns to her classes at Pine Manor the first of next week.

Although baseball will have to be substituted for the skating originally planned, it will still be a gay supper party which the Haven ReQuas and the Harry Naceys give tomorrow at the Lake Zurich Golf club. The party is planned for friends of their children—Mr. and Mrs. Charles ReQua, Patrick ReQua, and John Nacey.

Jan. 4, 1941.

Universal year—In a six-year, which 1941 will be for the world in general, there is always a great deal of internal adjustment to be made within the family ranks. This will mean that labor and capital will need to make more harmonious arrangements, and that nations who are formed into "family" groups will have to work in closer coöperation if they want the "family" to survive. The relationships between groups working for the same cause will be stressed this year. The individual will have to blend with the group for the common cause. We have already seen the evidences of this coming influence by the blending of all types from all walks of life into the routine of army life.

According to CULBERTSON

Nothing annoys an expert more than to play a hand correctly and to go down in defeat when an incorrect play, meaning a play "against the percentages," would have succeeded. A certain national master was highly disgusted over today's hand.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 no trump	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the five of diamonds, dummy played low and, when East put up the queen, declarer, after only a slight hesitation, pounced on the trick. He then took three rounds of clubs, West discarding two diamonds. After that, declarer went about heart establishment while keeping necessary entries in the dummy.

East won the second heart lead, and shifted to a spade. West won and knocked out declarer's remaining diamond stopper. The heart jack failed to drop the ten spot, so it then became simply a question of where the other high spade honor lay, in West's hand with the established diamonds and the heart ten, or in East's hand where it would take only one trick and then force East to give South a fulfilling spade trick.

After cashing the fourth club, declarer had to play a spade and, to his disgust, West ran off the rest of the tricks.

Declarer's first play [winning the opening lead] had resulted in his defeat, but it had been quite correct. To allow East to hold the diamond queen would court a shift to spades and, from declarer's point of view, there was every reason to feel that the enemy would thereby establish three spade tricks in addition to a diamond and a heart. Thus, against almost every lay of cards it would be fatal to pass up the first trick. On this particular distribution, however, it would have been successful. East would have had no diamond to return, and his normal spade shift could not have damaged declarer because West had only two spades, and those two of a rank that blocked the entire suit for the defenders.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL GETS 3 RULE CHANGES

DYKES ORDERS STREAMLINING OF 3 HEFTY SOX

Wright, Solters and Smith to Visit Spa.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Some of the fat boys among James Dykes' 1941 White Sox ensemble have been ordered to submit themselves to a streamlining process in advance of the impending training trip to Pasadena, Cal.

Edgar Smith.

Following a suggestion made by Prof. Dykes, Vice President Harry Grabiner announced yesterday that Eddie Smith, the lefty, and two regular fly chasers, Julius Solters and Taft Wright, were about to be informed that plans had been completed for them to visit Hot Springs, Ark., about the first of next month.

Julius Solters.

They'll be ordered to take the baths, climb the hills and otherwise conduct themselves after the fashion of fellows really worried about their weight. There'll be no club policeman present to keep tab on their activities but if, after three weeks at the spa, they turn up in camp without showing shrunken waist lines they'll hear plenty from the boss.

So Smitty Sheds Pounds.

Smith's inclination toward a keg shape has been a disturbing factor for Dykes for more than a year. At camp last spring, Smith despite his Santa Claus contour, didn't feel much like stretching his muscles. The manager spoke harshly several times but little Smitty settled back in his easy chair as soon as the boss' eyes were turned. Eventually Dykes whispered to gabby members of the party that Smith would either get to work or get out of camp. Smitty went to work immediately and kept himself in passable shape thruout the season.

Three weeks of preliminary work before going into camp and trying to get into condition in a few days, might prove soothing for Solters' famous charley horse which acted up at various times last season. Shedding poundage will lighten the load on the bothersome leg and the long preparatory session, if not forced may strengthen the weak spot. A few less pounds for Wright might make it simpler for him to move around in the outfield.

Lee Agrees on Terms.

Another White Sox development yesterday was the removal of Thornton Lefty Lee from a possible holdout rôle. He returned his first contract, explaining that there was something wrong with the figures behind the dollar sign. Grabiner talked on the phone yesterday with the pitcher, who is running his auto camp at Phoenix, Ariz., and terms were agreed upon.

The Sox signed list now totals 19. Those outside the fold include Smith, Clint Brown, Larry Rosenthal, Dario Lodigiani, Jimmy Webb, and Bill Knickerbocker.

The three coaches, Monty Stratton, Mule Haas, and Herold Ruel, and Dr. Ad Schacht also have signed.

THOMSON'S 68 LEADS IN $10,000 COAST TOURNEY

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 3 (AP).—Jimmy Thomson today blasted out a subpar 68 to move into a two stroke lead at the end of the first round of the $10,000 Los Angeles Open.

Thomson won this California winter special two years ago with a 72 hole score of 273 that still stands as the tournament record. Today he put together a pair of 34s for the par 71 Riviera Country Club course.

Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va., and Emerick Kocsis of Lake Orion, Ill., had 70s, Lawson Little, national open champion, who won the Los Angeles event last year, took a 72 in company with Olin Dutra, Ralph Guldahl, and others.

Other leading scores for 18 holes:

Fay Coleman, Culver City, Cal.	36	35—71

Iowa City, Ia., Jan. 3 [Special].—Iowa's undefeated basketball team, appearing a bit ragged after a 10 day layoff, rang up its sixth consecutive nonconference victory tonight with a 45 to 35 triumph over DePauw before 1,800 fans.

The basket shooting of three forwards—Capt. Vic Siegel, Tom Chapman, and Ben Trickey—put the Hawks into an early lead and they had an easy time of it most of the way. Coach Rollie Williams used three complete teams.

Mas Biggs, towering center, and Joe Prewitt, guard, led the visitors' attack with nine points each. Siegel walked away with top scoring honors with 13. Lineups.

PACIFIC COAST football fans still remember when Red Grange played with the Green Bay Packers. . . . Do you? . . . It was in a series of postseason exhibition games in California in 1933. . . . The reinstatement of Hank Luisetti, former Stanford star, already is being hailed as a boost for the National A. A. U. basketball tournament scheduled for Denver in March. . . . Ted Lyons, the White Sox's 40 year old pitching mainstay, still is unconvinced that Billy Webb, the club's farm chief, had nothing to do with the disappearance of Ted's automobile during the winter baseball meetings in Chicago. . . . When Ernie Lombardi, the Reds' catcher, goes fishing he casts his line for driftwood. . . . Schnoz was tickled

Worse and Worse.

If I were like the bards of old,
Whose written words are purest gold,
Whose lines with greatest ease expressed
Thoughts of things they loved the best,
I'd not have trouble rhyming words
About the flowers, trees, and birds.

Within me burns the urgent flame
With which they gained such lasting fame;
I work as hard to find a rhyme
For words like tranquil, or sublime;
And yet it seems that all my verse
Just goes from bad, to worse and worse!

N. U. SEEKS THIRD IN ROW AGAINST PRINCETON FIVE

Meet in Evanston High Gym Tonight.

Games Tonight

Princeton at Northwestern.
Wisconsin at Nebraska.
Montana at Minnesota.
Marquette at Chicago.
Notre Dame at Kentucky.
Michigan State at Long Island.
Iowa State at Drake.
Sterling [Kas.] at De Kalb.
Millikin at Terre Haute [Ind.].
Illinois Wesleyan at Seton Hall, N. Y.

Northwestern's basketball team will endeavor to extend its victory string to three when it meets Princeton in Evanston High school gymnasium tonight. Tickets are still available and will be on sale at the box office.

The Tigers, coached by Franklin Cappon, former Michigan coach, opened their tour with a victory over Ohio State followed by a triumph over Michigan. Wisconsin administered the first setback to the eastern five, 52 to 40, Tuesday night.

Winston Leads Princeton Scorers.

Leading Princeton scorer is Charles Winston of Joliet who led the attack against Wisconsin with 13 points on six field goals and a free throw. Two other members of the starting five are from the central states. Dan Carmichael, captain and forward, hails from Columbus, O., and Dewey Bartlett, guard, comes from Marietta, O. Lineups:

NORTHWESTERN.		PRINCETON.
Clason	F.	Munda
Hasse	F.	Winston
Clawson	C.	Busse
Butherus	G.	Carmichael
Benson	G.	Bartlett

MAROONS VS. MARQUETTE

Chicago's Maroons are expected to come closer to beating Marquette's basketball team in their match in the Midway fieldhouse at 8 o'clock tonight than at any time since the Maroons last drubbed the Hilltoppers three years ago. Minus all its veterans except Bill Komenich and Bill Rogers, Marquette has lost four games, winning one, while Chicago's quintet has broken even.

Indication that Chicago's advantage this year merely may mean a smaller margin of victory, rather than defeat for Marquette, lies in the fact that, while Chicago has beaten Illinois Tech and North Central and lost to Georgia and Western State Teachers in Kalamazoo, Marquette has faced stiffer opposition all the way, breaking even with Wisconsin and losing to Creighton, Nebraska, and Illinois.

Capt. Joe Stampf, who scored 23 points against Western State, leads the Maroons' attack. Lineups:

CHICAGO.		MARQUETTE.
Nelson	F.	Pois
Fons	F.	Reavley
Stampf	C.	Rogers
Wagenberg	G.	Komenich
Hixon	G.	Schudrowitz

SOOSE WINS OVER MAURIELLO; VIGH DEFEATS WELCH

New York, Jan. 3 (AP).—Billy Soose, a lanky lad out of Pennsylvania State college, and Ernie Vigh, an iron chinned husky from Newburgh, N. Y., punched their way into the forefront of middleweight boxing ranks tonight in Madison Square Garden.

Altho Soose, who did a lot of boxing and dancing for 10 rounds took the feature attraction by handing Tami Mauriello of the Bronx the first defeat of his career, Vigh was the more impressive in coming back from a shaky start to outpoint Coley Welch of Portland, Me., in a bruising battle.

Jack (The Thrush) Doyle, Singer-Boxer, Is Bankrupt

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP).—Jack [the Thrush] Doyle, the Irish heavyweight who combined music and boxing—with more success with the former than the latter—is bankrupt. Doyle's act of bankruptcy was approved today in a creditor's petition from the former fighter.

Patched Up Blackhawks Face Bruins, Rangers on Trip East

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks, with an alternate goalie, Sammy Lo Presti, upholstered to stand in for injured Paul Goodman, will leave this afternoon for a two game road trip, which will see them engaged in a match with the Bruins in Boston tomorrow night and another with the world champion Rangers, their softest touch to date, in New York Tuesday.

Johnny Mariucci, reported out for 10 days with injuries, appeared at practice yesterday and denied he was as badly hurt in Wednesday night's brawl game as some had believed. Mariucci will accompany the squad and Dave MacKay will not be recalled from Providence, as reported yesterday.

They're Taking Statements.

While the team was preparing for departure yesterday President Bill Tobin was engaged in taking statements from witnesses to the Wednesday night brawl, in which Charles Y. Freeman Jr., a spectator, was knocked cold by Giacomo Orlando, Detroit defense player who is being built up as "the last of hockey's bad men."

It is said that the Hawk front office feels that the Chicago hockey team in some way has been jockeyed into an apparent share of the responsibility for the behavior of Orlando and the alleged inflammatory and obscene conduct of Jack Adams, Detroit manager. In any event the Hawk organization yesterday was left as the only principal to the ruckus taking any action designed to prevent similar sluggings.

Bill Makes a Report.

Referee Bill Stewart submitted a report to President Frank Calder of the National Hockey league, but confined his data to an earlier outbreak involving good clean fistic fun, inasmuch as the brawling was among the players themselves.

Simultaneously Referee Bill broke into print with an interview pointing out the rights of athletes to slap down heckling spectators. Bill is said to be a little tender on this subject as a result of rather unhappy personal experiences. A year ago he had a word battle with one of the directors of the National Hockey league who had been riding him from a box at the Stadium. On last Sept. 16 Bill also had the painful experience of witnessing one Frankie Gernano, a Brooklyn baseball fan, pin to the turf George Magerkurth, a fellow National league baseball umpire. Of all the attitudes in the aftermath of the brawl, Bill's in refusing to have any part of something that happened after the hockey game Wednesday night is most understandable.

Adams Speaks First.

Adams, the Detroit manager, was the first to get his say in with President Calder, it was made known yesterday. Adams, it was reported, said he called back Orlando and other players before the slugging, in the fear that he, Adams, was in danger of being lynched or at least seriously harmed, by Chicago boxholders. He said he did not call back Orlando alone, but the entire team.

Testimony, transcripts of which the Hawks forwarded to Calder yesterday, unloaded on Manager Adams not only with charges that he had done much toward inciting a dangerous riot, but for his routine and allegedly foul language in the direction of play, all in the hearing of boxholders, several of whom had taken their wives and daughters to the game.

According to reports around the National league, tough but more polite players around the circuit are preparing to chill off Orlando's and Adams' ambitions to establish Giacomo as "the last of hockey's bad men."

George Halas' Release from Hospital Set Back Few Days

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 3 [Special].—George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, had an excellent day today, according to his physician, Dr. Verne C. Hunt. Halas underwent an operation for appendicitis Dec. 22. Dr. Hunt said, "If Halas continues to improve as he has during the last few days, I should think he will leave the hospital by the middle of next week — possibly a little later." Yesterday it was reported Halas would leave the hospital Sunday.

HAUSER TO VISIT OHIO OFFICIALS ON COACHING JOB

Columbus, O., Jan. 3 (AP). — Dr. George Hauser, Minnesota line coach, will come here next week to discuss his prospects for obtaining the job as football coach at Ohio State university, L. W. St. John, Buckeye athletic director, said today.

St. John said Hauser, reached by telephone in Los Angeles, agreed to confer with Ohio State athletic board members Tuesday or Wednesday. Hauser has been among those mentioned as interested in succeeding Francis A. Schmidt.

Marty Karow, Texas A. & M. back field coach and Ohio State football captain in 1926, saw St. John here today. One of the greatest full backs in the Buckeye school's history, Karow also was reported to be a candidate for the Marquette coaching post vacated by Paddy Driscoll.

ABOLISH LIMIT ON SUBS; AERIAL TOUCHBACK OUT

Ball Now May Be Handed Forward.

Clementon, N. J., Jan. 3 (AP).—The national collegiate football rules committee gave the game's offense a break today with three major rule changes affecting substitutions, behind the line ball passing, and forward passes.

After a three day committee session at the nearby Pine Valley Country club Chairman Walter R. Okeson of Bethlehem, Pa., announced these major changes:

1. Players may be substituted as many times as desired during a game; elimination of the rule prohibiting an incoming substitute from communicating with his team until after the ball has been put into play; when substitutions are made in the last two minutes of play in the first or second half the watch will be stopped as usual when the substitute comes on the field, but will be started again as soon as the substitution is completed.

May Hand Ball Forward.

2. The ball may be handed forward at any point behind the line of scrimmage to any player and will be treated as tho it were a backward pass.

3. Fourth down forward passes which become incomplete in the opponent's end zone will be treated as tho they became incomplete on the field of play instead of being ruled touchbacks. On such plays the ball will go to the defending team at the point where the ball was put into play instead of the 20 yard line, as in the past.

The committee also recommended standard numbering of players in the various positions as an aid to spectators, but said it recognized that several years will be necessary to effect this change.

Test Numbering System.

Okeson said groups of colleges thruout the country would test out the standard numbering during the 1941 season and on the basis of this research, the committee expects next year to be in a position to define what such numbering must be.

"The general aim of the committee," Okeson said, "was to give the offense greater power without injuring the defense too much.

"We feel the free substitution rule will not only be a great help to the smaller colleges but will reduce injuries still further. The rule covering substitutions in the last two minutes of play will prevent the present practice of coaches sending in players in an attempt to delay the game."

Lighten Officials' Task.

Okeson said the second change, covering handing the ball forward, would eliminate a difficult foul which officials have had to call. Any lineman, provided he comes out of the line, will be eligible to handle the ball, Okeson explained.

The chairman added that in such plays, the ball must be handed, rather than passed, and that both players must have a hand on the ball during the transfer.

The new fourth down forward pass rule, Okeson pointed out, goes even further than the professional football rule in that under the pro rules, the ball is given to the defensive team on the 20 yard line unless the incomplete pass was thrown from outside that line.

Return of the goal posts to the goal line and widening of the goal to encourage field goal kicking, both recommended by the National Football Coaches' association, were rejected by the committee, Okeson said. He said return of the goal posts would be dangerous to the players as well as a handicap to the offensive team.

DENIES ANY PLAN MADE TO BID ON YANKEES JAN. 9

New York, Jan. 3 (AP).—Byron Clark Jr., lawyer for the Col. Jacob Ruppert heirs and trustees of the estate, said today he had no plans for a conference with James A. Farley concerning the purchase of the New York Yankees' baseball empire.

"I haven't seen or heard from Farley for more than a month and then it was just informally for a few minutes," said Clark. "I didn't even know he was leaving the city until somebody told me what was in the World-Telegram today."

The World-Telegram said Farley would make Clark a formal offer before leaving on Jan. 9 on a business trip to South America.

Golfer Elizabeth Hicks Is Engaged to Aircraft Auditor

Long Beach, Cal., Jan. 3 (AP).—The engagement of Miss Elizabeth Hicks, 20, one of the nation's top ranking golfers, and Frank Newell, 24, an aircraft company auditor since his recent graduation from the University of California at Los Angeles, was announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hicks. They said the marriage probably would take place in the late summer. Miss Hicks is visiting in New York and Washington.

DECOYS ENTICE WILY CROW INTO HUNTERS' RANGE

Well Built Blinds Are a Necessity, Too.

BY BOB BECKER.

Experienced sportsmen who have hunted many varieties of game usually agree that the crow is one of the hardest birds to draw into gun range. Ducks are elusive targets, especially after they have been shot at a few times, but crows have such a complicated system of communication and are so wary that it takes good guns and ammunition, effective blinds and decoys, and a sort of bird sense on the part of the hunter to bring down these enemies of song and game birds.

Members of the county conservation clubs who live in and near Dundee [40 miles west of Chicago] now are demonstrating some of the hunting tricks that can be used effectively against crows.

Gadgets Are Numerous.

Among the gadgets these experienced crow hunters take into the woods are great horned owls which have been mounted on handy pedestals, mounted hawks, canvas imitation owls with wings which can be moved by means of a cord, crow callers [very important], lightweight canvas decoys which can be stuffed with straw, grass, or paper and then set up near a blind, crow decoys made of wood, and even homemade holders which support dead crows in lifelike positions. Last but not least in the equipment of successful hunters are well made blinds located in different woodlots.

the importance of a good blind for a winter shoot and also the value of placing the owl decoy well up in a tree so the birds can see it.

He Uses Dead Crows.

His homemade frame to hold dead crows and thus make them serve as decoys is an ingenious but simply made device other shooters may want to try. It's made of strips of heavy wire screening. These strips are put together to form a small basket or holder so that the body of a crow fits it perfectly. A wire in front of the basket supports the head. A section of heavy wire attached to the bottom of the basket is thrust into the ground to hold up the decoy.

SEASON'S FIRST ICE DERBY IS SET FOR TOMORROW

Encouraged by a drop in temperature the last two night and the weather forecasts the Illinois Skating association last night definitely set its second annual ice Derby for 1:30 p. m. tomorrow in Waveland park, at Addison street and the Outer drive.

Pete Miller, president of the association, made the announcement at the same time he called off the Illinois state title ice Derby scheduled to be held tomorrow afternoon on Lake Ellyn in Glen Ellyn. The ice on the deeper waters of Lake Ellyn has not formed satisfactorily for the state event, he said. The Glen Ellyn meet was the fourth of the season to be abandoned because of unseasonable weather.

Opens the Season.

The Waveland park event will be the first ice Derby of the season in the Chicago area. It became a certainty after the park's racing area had been flooded and the ice was pronounced satisfatcory.

Leo Freisinger, national and North American champion, is ill with flu and will be unable to compete. Otherwise the field will be the same as for the Glen Ellyn meet, with a total of 18 events on the program. Vic Ronchetti of the Catholic Youth organization and defending champion in the association Derby is the favorite to win the men's honors, since Freisinger is incapacitated.

The defending woman's champion is Shirley Jameson of the Northwest Athletic club. Star of the girls' division is Lorraine [Bunny] Lawler, national and state intermediate champion.

Sprint and distance events for both men and women will be held in class A. In the other classes, ranging down to midget boys and girls, there will be one event each.

Silver Skates Interest High.

In addition to the Glen Ellyn meet, the Catholic Order of Foresters' Derby scheduled for today also was postponed because of the weather.

A brisk demand was reported for entry blanks for The Chicago Tribune Silver Skates Derbies scheduled for Jan. 18 and 19 in Garfield park. Skaters also were checking with their club managers to make certain they have been entered.

Marked interest among skaters in filing entries was reported by managers of the C. Y. O., the Northwest, Tilden, Rand, and Barrett Athletic clubs, the Glen Ellyn Athletic association, and the Elgin Skating club, and by parks and playgrounds directors.

10 NORGE SKIERS TO COMPETE IN TWO TOURNEYS

The ski jumping season in the central states will open tomorrow with two tournaments in Wisconsin. Ten members of the Norge Ski club team will participate in the events as part of their training program for the Norge club's 36th annual meet to be held Jan. 19 on the slide near Fox River Grove. Tomorrow's contests will be held at Whitehall and Oconomowoc, Wis.

In the Whitehall meet Ole Besseberg and Guttorm Paulsen will jump in the senior class; Gunnar Omen will wear the Norge colors in class A and Buddy Engedahl, Ernst Jacobsen, and Arthur Narovitz are entered in class B. Oman is returning to competition after being forced out with injuries last year.

At Oconomowoc Martin Wingsness and Ralph Teagarden will represent the Norge club in class A and Robert Narovitz and Erling Hovde are entered in class B. Teagarden will be making his first appearance as a Norge jumper.

40 TEAMS OPEN SCHALK BOWLING EVENT TONIGHT

The first 40 of 100 teams which are to bowl in Ray Schalk's fifth five man sweepstakes will occupy the alleys in Schalk's Beverly recreation center, 94th street and Ashland avenue, tonight. The opening squad of 20 teams goes on at 8 o'clock and the second squad at 11 o'clock.

The remaining three squads go on tomorrow, the first at 2 p. m., second at 5 o'clock, and the third at 8 o'clock. Included in the final squad will be the Pabst, Schlitz, Blatz, Ambrosia, and Michelob teams of the Classic league, Vogel Bros. of the Windy City league, and the Budweisers of the Windy City and Randolph leagues. Teams bowling tonight are:

8 p. m.—Mineralites, Chapin & Gore, Chatham Post, De Young Fuel, Woliiak Morticians, Burlington Zephys, Ruppert Beers (Classic), and Ivanhoe, all of Chicago; Berghoff's 1887, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Bowes Seal-Fast, Falls City Beer, Hertz-Jones, and Morroti Shoes, all of Indianapolis; John G. Epping, Louisville; Phil Smidt & Son, Roby, Ind.; Aubry Realty, Toledo, O.; Silver Seal Soda and Say It With Flowers, St. Louis; Milnut, Litchfield, Ill., and Joe Falcaro's Schlitz, New York.

11 p. m.—Monarch Beer and Koenig Brau Beer [both Classic], Joseph L. Gill, Koenig Brau Premium Beer, and Pepsi-Cola, Chicago; Linss Recreation, Eddie Linss Juniors, Collinwood Shale & Brick, and Rosenblums, all of Cleveland; Monroe, Monroe Park, Ill.; Blatz Beer, Heil Products, and Schlitz Beer, Milwaukee; Western Tap Room and Lyceum Stag, Peoria, Ill., Ten Pin Club and Simon Pure Beer and Ale, Buffalo, N. Leo's Seniors Take League Opener, 48-36

Leo's seniors and St. Patrick's juniors, defending basketball champions in the Chicago Catholic High School league, last night began their 1940-'41 campaigns with impressive victories. Leo defeated Fenwick of Oak Park, 48 to 36, in Leo gymnasium, while St. Patrick triumphed over St. Mel, 31 to 17, on the St. Patrick court.

Leo's juniors, rated as title contenders since their victory in the recent Fenwick junior tournament, also won, defeating Fenwick's ponies, 43 to 21. Frank Kelly led the Leo seniors to victory over Fenwick, contributing five baskets and two free throws.

Glenbard moved into second place in the heavyweight division of the West Suburban conference by defeating Downers Grove, 22 to 16, at Glen Ellyn. It was the third victory in four games for Glenbard. Lineups:

He'll Aid Keogan

Notre Dame, Ind. Jan. 3 [Special]. Appointment of Ray J. Meyer of Chicago as assistant basketball coach was announced today by the Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C. S. C., vice-president and chairman of the faculty board in control of athletics of the University of Notre Dame. Meyer was hired for the rest of the current season to assist George Keogan, head coach for the last 17 years. Keogan was recently ordered to restrict his physical activity following an examination at the Mayo clinic of Rochester, Minn.

Meyer was one of the few men in the last 25 years to captain two Notre Dame athletic teams. He was basketball captain in 1936-'37 and 1937-'38, the teams on which Paul Nowak, Johnny Moir, Eddie Sadowski, Tommy Wukovits, and Earl Brown Jr., also starred.

Upon his graduation, he received the Byron V. Kanaley prize for being the senior monogram athlete adjudged most exemplary as a student and a leader of men.

A squad of 12 left tonight to play Kentucky in Louisville tomorrow. Keogan said he probably will start Capt. Eddie Riska and George Sobek, forwards; Frank Quinn, center, and Larry Ryan and Bob Smith, guards.

Pontiac, Ill., Jan. 4 [Special].—Centralia won the championship of the Pontiac High school holiday basketball tournament for the second consecutive year, and became the first team in the 15 year history of the event ever to win the title three times, by defeating Flora tonight, 41 to 20.

Dwight Eddleman, Centralia center, ran his total for four tournament games to 74 points by scoring 15 tonight, and ran his season's total to 342 for 17 contests this season, to retain first place among the individual sharpshooters of the state.

Flora, runnerup to Centralia a year ago, never threatened. The champions led, 10 to 5, 18 to 9, and 33 to 14 at the end of the first, second and third quarters, respectively, played out the fourth with substitutes.

In the semi-finals this afternoon, Eddleman scored 21 points as Centralia dealt the first defeat of the season to Peoria Manual, 45 to 29. Flora won its semi-final game from Duquoin, 28 to 22.

Ed Wilhelm of Taylorville set a single game record for the tournament when he scored 15 field goals for 30 points in a 59 to 24 rout of Normal in the consolation finals tonight. The previous mark of 28 points was set two years ago by Art Mathisen of Dwight, now varsity center at the University of Illinois.

Peoria Manual won third place in the championship division, beating Duquoin, 42 to 37. Lineups:

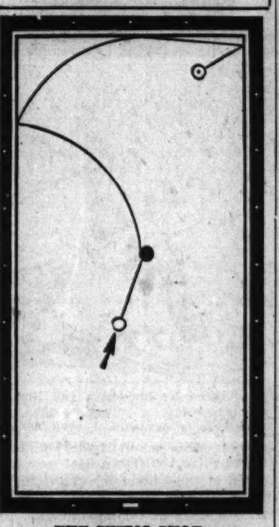
Shots of the Stars



THE SWING SHOT.

[This is the sixth and last of a series of sketches on the specialty shots which the competitors in the world's three cushion billiard championship tournament, opening Jan. 13 in Bensinger's, 131 South Wabash avenue, are expected to use.]

Jay Bozeman, the bespectacled California redhead who is regarded as one of the fastest players in billiard history, can be relied upon to employ the swing shot when the stars go to the rail a week from Monday, for this is one of his pet strokes.

The swing shot literally amounts to the forcing of a natural angle. The cue ball swings in a wide arc, when leaving the first object ball, thus creating an angle from the first rail. The cue ball travels in rather slow fashion from the first to the second to the third rail, where it attains the peak of the spin and dashes off the third rail with great speed and a maximum amount of English. The shot is known to the trade as "the swing with running water," a phrase coined by the late Bob Cannefax, former holder of the championship.

Evanston Trio Meets 124th in Polo Opener

The opening game of the National Polo league tournament restricted to top seeded players will match the 124th Field Artillery with the Evanston Polo club in the 124th armory at 5200 Cottage Grove avenue, tonight. The contest, starting at 8:30 o'clock, will run six periods instead of the customary four.

The teams will be rated equally at fourteen goals. Topping all players on the field will be Lieut. W. D. Fergus, who has a six goal rating. He will ride with Steve Hammond, five goals, and Claude Mackey, rated at three, for Evanston. For the 124th Field Artillery, the lineup will be Lieut. Don J. Rice, five goals; Capt. Romeo E. Mura, five goals, and Maj. William S. Everett, four goals.

Tournament rules permit replacements in the lineup at any time instead of only in the event of injury to a player. As a consequence, Evanston is prepared to put Gene Bauer and W. J. Schmidt in the lineup, while the artillerymen are fortified with Lieut. Russ Rasmussen. All of this group are rated at three goals.

By agreement of both teams, David C. Wilhelm, captain of the Yale university polo team, will be referee. He was appointed by Lieut. Col. Jerome J. Waters, the new czar of league activities. Lineup:

EVANSTON.		124TH F. A.
Mackey	No. 1	Lt. Rice
Lt. Ferrus	No. 2	Capt. Mura
Hammond	Back	Maj. Everett

Referee—Wilhelm.

Giants Sell Vandenberg to Cards as Part of Deal

New York, Jan. 3 [Special].—The New York Giants today announced that Hy Vandenberg, right handed pitcher, has been sold to the St. Louis Cardinals. The deal is understood to be part of the transaction which a month ago brought Bob Bowman, also a right hander, from St. Louis to New York. In its original form, the Bowman deal was to have sent Vandenberg to the Cardinals' Rochester farm, but Commissioner K. M. Landis ruled this out.

MAMAKOS, ZALE DRILL TODAY FOR STADIUM FIGHT

Steve Picks Trafton's Gym for Workouts.

Steve Mamakos, Washington, D. C., fighter, will open drills in Trafton's gymnasium this afternoon for a 10 round nontitle bout with Tony Zale, middleweight champion, in Chicago Stadium next Friday. At the same time Zale, who stopped Tony [Cianciola] Martin in Milwaukee, Wis., New Year's day, will return to action with light loosening up exercises. Mamakos will be making his first appearance since beating Milt Aron in the Coliseum last Nov. 25. . . . Jimmy and Billy Pierce, fighting brothers of West Allis, Wis., will appear in two matches in Marigold Gardens Monday, the former in a five round event against Tito Taylor and Bill in a four rounder against Leif Erickson. Matt Milovitch, Milwaukee featherweight, is paired with Andy Canal in an additional four rounder on the program, which is topped by a 10 round contest between Mike Gamiera, Cleveland, O., lightweight, and Jimmy Tygh of Philadelphia, Pa.

Promoter Irving Schoenwald has offered Billy Soose, Scranton, Pa., 160 pound contender, a 10 round bout against Nate Bolden in the Coliseum Jan. 24. Two other matches of 10 rounds he hopes to close for this show, proceeds of which will go to President Roosevelt's infantile paralysis fund, involve Lem Franklin and Carl Vinciquerra, and Billy Marquart and Jimmy Tygh. . . . Joe Ghnouly, veteran St. Louis, Mo., 135 pound boxer, yesterday sparred several rounds with Annunzio Ferraro for a 10 round headliner against Eddie Scott of Detroit in Hammand Civic center Monday.

Lou Angelucci, city Golden Gloves middleweight champion, pounded out a decision over Julius Irving of the Savoy Athletic club in an exciting five round amateur bout last night in Madison Athletic club before 1,500 spectators. Other results:

Charles Kidd beat Ted Green, [3]; Torsten Ahlbeck beat Bill Jordan, [5]; Ed Gilmore knocked out Charley Barsock, [1]; Bill Tyus beat Wendell White [3]; Jesse Walker beat Julian Ford, [3]; Jim Baratta stopped Fred Tole, [2].

Joe Jawgiel, Northwest gymnasium light heavyweight, beat Walter Kanzler of the Madison Athletic club in a five round contest which topped the amateur show in the Chicago Towers club last night. A crowd of 750 saw Jawgiel score two knockdowns, one each in the second and fourth round, to win a unanimous decision of Referee Don Van Treese and the two judges. Other results:

Joe Manjarrez knocked out Al Collie, [2].
Art Allis beat Celeste Voldez, [3].
Ken Cope beat Virgil McKinnis, [3].
Charles Johnson beat Joe Johnson, [3].

PICK OFFICIALS FOR STADIUM'S TENNIS SHOW

Officials for the tennis exhibition in the Stadium Wednesday night in which Alice Marble, Mary Hardwick, Don Budge, and Bill Tilden will appear were announced yesterday by Jack Harris, the promoter. George O'Connell, professional at the Chicago Town and Tennis club will be referee for the Hardwick-Marble engagement and Fred LeBell for the Budge-Tilden singles. Paul Bennett, tennis coach at Northwestern university, will arbitrate the doubles involving Tilden and Miss Marble against Budge and Miss Hardwick.

BIG STUDEBAKER PROJECT AWAITS U. S. CONTRACT

View Engine Plant as Aid to Chicago.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

The Studebaker corporation will begin work on its airplane engine construction program for national defense as soon as it receives its contract with the war department, Harold S. Vance, chairman of the board, disclosed yesterday in South Bend. The Studebaker program includes the construction in Chicago of a big plant employing about 4,000 skilled workers for the production of precision parts for the airplane engines.

Harold S. Vance.

Vance explained that all negotiations have been completed and the contract approved. It provides for $36,799,300 in plant expansion. Receipt of the contract from Washington is expected momentarily.

Building of the Studebaker plant in this city will mark Chicago's first major participation in the nation's vast air defense program. However, Chicago factories have been contributing to the air defense thru subcontracts.

Site Has Been Selected.

Vance said that shortly after the war department contract is received he will disclose the details of the big factory to be built here. He said that a site had been selected, but before its location is announced certain technicalities have to be completed, including formal approval by army officers.

Under its expansion program, Studebaker is to build factories in South Bend and Fort Wayne as well as in Chicago. Assembly of the engines, which are to be 1,700 to 1,800 horse power, will be done at the South Bend works. Altho the dollar volume of the engines to be produced has not been disclosed, it is expected to top 100 millions, eventually.

Viewed as Beneficial.

The Studebaker contract provides for the building of airplane engines for the United States army alone. The company is reported to be negotiating with the British for the building of engines and if the company takes on British orders there will be further plant expansion. Chicago will share in any further expansion on the account of the British.

Employment of 4,000 skilled workers in Chicago is expected to add at least $10,000,000 to the city's annual industrial pay roll. Such an amount it was said, would be an important addition to the city's general prosperity, helping retail establishments of all types and providing more work for service organizations.

Further, a possibility was seen that when the emergency passes, the big engine factory may be used in the production of peacetime automobiles. Chicago has only one automobile assembly plant—that of the Ford Motor company.

U. S. Spending Near 10 Billion Mark for Year

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—The treasury spent about $9,800,000,000 in 1940, the largest amount in any year since the world war.

Making a calendar year analysis [treasury figures customarily are based on a fiscal year ending on June 30], officials found that the year's record-breaking peacetime total was swelled by $2,587,000,000 spent for defense—a figure likely to be more than doubled in 1941.

Deficit a Little Smaller.

Receipts were $5,834,000,000 last year, leaving a deficit of $3,966,000,000. However, since receipts went up faster than spending, the deficit was under the $4,020,000,000 in 1939, when spending was $8,938,000,000 and receipts $4,918,000,000.

Figures were based on a treasury statement, just completed, of Dec. 31, which marked the first half of the current fiscal year.

On a monthly basis, defense costs nearly quadrupled. Thus, in January, the army and navy spent $132,000,000. This pace changed little until the new fiscal year began on July 1, when the first of the large defense appropriations passed last spring became available.

Defense Spending Mounts.

Then the spending for defense took this course:

July, $177,291,781; August, $199,251,126; September, $218,432,482; October, $283,855,963; November, $365,033,578; December, $459,878,832.

The current budget calls for a $50,000,000 stepup in defense spending each month until the middle of 1941 when the monthly cost may reach $750,000,000.

Early last year, the navy was outspending the army nearly two to one. Late in the fall, each service was spending about the same. In December, the army spent $280,865,805 to the navy's $179,013,027.

WPA Reduces Its Costs.

As the defense program picked up, WPA spending went down slightly. Last January, WPA spent $119,000,000, and after a $134,000,000 peak in March, reduced its expenditures gradually until they reached $105,000,000 in November. The December figure rose to $114,000,000.

Most of the deficit during 1940 was financed by borrowing, and just as the year ended, the public debt went over $45,000,000,000, the former statutory debt limit, recently raised to $49,000,000,000.

ILLINOIS BANKING 'ACT AMENDMENT IS CHALLENGED

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 3 (AP).—An injunction suit filed today in the Sangamon county Circuit court challenged the legality of the 1939 state banking law amendment approved by the voters in the election last Nov. 5.

The suit, filed in behalf of Harvey C. Knappenberger of McDonough county asked that Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes be permanently enjoined from placing the law in effect and alleged the state-wide referendum was conducted in an illegal manner.

The effect of the amendment was to make it easier to organize state banks in communities of 2,500 population or less. Capital stock requirements were cut by the amendment from $50,000 to $25,000.

Knappenberger was identified in the petition as a stockholder in a McDonough county bank. The petitioner said he was informed that one or more banks were being planned in the territory served by his bank and that his interests therefore would be adversely affected.

TULSA AND FORT WORTH GET BIG BOMBER PLANTS

Report 101 Million Job for Denver.

Defense construction totaling $43,000,000, including two $10,000,000 airplane plants, was announced yesterday by the war department. In addition, Senator Edwin C. Johnson [D., Colo.] said in Washington that the war department had signed a contract with the Remington Arms company involving $101,000,000 for construction and operation of a small arms ammunition plant at Denver.

Meanwhile the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey announced a $28,000,000 improvement budget for 1941.

The two airplane plants, which will manufacture four motor bombers from parts fabricated largely by the automobile industry, will be located in Fort Worth, Tex., and Tulsa, Okla.

Each plant will be constructed under the supervision of army engineers. The one at Fort Worth is to be operated by the Consolidated Aircraft corporation of San Diego, Cal., and the Tulsa plant will be operated by the Douglas Aircraft corporation of Santa Monica, Cal.

Production Time Unknown.

Omaha and Kansas City were chosen last month for sites of plants to assemble two motor bombers for the army. The plants in the four cities are expected to assemble about 3,600 bombers annually.

Previously it was said 15 months was expected to be required to start actual plane production. Yesterday's announcement gave no indication when work on the assembly plants would be started.

Under original plans, Consolidated Aircraft, which builds planes for both the army and navy, was to have operated the Tulsa plant. Fort Worth was said to have pressed the advantages of a lake which would permit test flights of seaplanes as well as land planes.

The Fort Worth and Tulsa plants are each designed to produce 50 four motor planes a month and the Omaha and Kansas City plants each 100 smaller two motor craft monthly.

Cost Put At Billion a Year.

At present costs, the larger planes will cost approximately $400,000 each, twice that of the smaller craft. A year's full output of 3,600 bombers thus would cost approximately the $1,000,000,000 expected to be asked of congress next week.

The war department let a contract for approximately $23,000,000 to increase smokeless powder manufacturing facilities at the ordnance works under construction at Charlestown, Ind., near Louisville, Ky. This addition will bring the total cost of the plant to about $74,000,000. It will be operated by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co.

Other construction awards announced by the war department included: $1,587,000 for construction at the air corps field at Fresno, Cal.; $1,365,375 for the development of the municipal airport at Augusta, Ga., and

November Net Income of Ill. Bell Declines

The Illinois Bell Telephone company yesterday reported a net income of $849,971 for November, compared with $1,191,469 in the same month in 1939. During the 11 months ended Nov. 30, net profits totaled $11,969,403, against $12,258,108 in the corresponding 1939 period.

Ben Alexander, president of Masonite corporation.

The Masonite corporation, manufacturer of hard board and other building materials, realized a net income of $343,256, equal to 58 cents a share, for the 16 weeks ended Dec. 21, Ben Alexander, president, announced. In the corresponding period in 1939, the company's net profits amounted to $441,058, or 77 cents a share. The company has main offices in Chicago.

Masonite's sales during the 1940 period amounted to $3,256,388 compared with $2,619,316 in the corresponding 1939 period.

A preliminary report of the Rice-Stix Dry Goods company for the fiscal year ended Nov. 30 showed a net income of $470,021, or 70 cents a share, compared with $603,903, or $1.17 a share, in the previous fiscal year.

INSURANCE COMPANY PLANS MEETINGS OF ITS POLICYHOLDERS

Plans for a series of meetings of life insurance policyholders at which they can ask questions, criticize, voice their own needs and problems, and learn more about insurance were announced yesterday by O. J. Arnold, president of Northwestern National Life Insurance company of Minneapolis. He outlined the experiment at a meeting of the Chicago sales organization in the La Salle hotel.

O. J. Arnold.

"Few life insurance policyholders, I find, understand what they have bought as long as a year after the purchase," Arnold said. "They remember only the premiums and what the policy promises to pay. The average life insurance policyholder does not know his own strength and his own importance in the American scheme of things, or how to get the maximum benefits from his life insurance investment."

Arnold said that the company had an increase of $19,463,474 in 1940 to $460,034,187 in insurance in force, a gain in renewal premiums, and a $5,579,023 boost in assets to $80,784,203 as of Dec. 31.

NATIONAL CITY BANK'S ASSETS PASS 3 BILLION

New York, Jan. 3 [Special].—The National City bank of New York has moved into the 3 billion dollar asset bracket, its year-end statement showed today. Assets as of Dec. 31 totaled $3,095,466,387, compared with $2,509,395,688 at the end of 1939. The Chase National is the only other commercial bank in the 3 billion class.

For the year, the bank's net earnings, exclusive of the City Bank Farmers Trust company, totaled $11,457,350, without counting bond profits of $6,712,098 and recoveries on assets. The net earnings were equal to $1.85 a share on capital stock, and compared with $10,663,664, exclusive of $6,978,525 bond profits, or $1.72 a share, in 1939.

Deposits, which were at a new high, amounted to $2,908,437,735.

Deposits Set New High Record.

Chicago banks are lending more money to commercial borrowers than at any other time since the peak of the 1937 business rally, according to figures made public yesterday.

Each of the large downtown banks, except one, reported an increase in loans and discounts as of Dec. 31 over those of June 30, and all had a larger aggregate than a year earlier. Total bank deposits in Chicago, moreover, were at the highest level in history.

State banks issued statements of condition in response to a call by State Auditor Edward J. Barrett, and national banks to one by the controler of currency. Comparison of figures of national banks with those of three months ago is difficult because the controler omitted the call at that time.

Aggregate loans and discounts of all Chicago banks were $823,713,000 as of Dec. 31, according to a tabulation of the figures reported. This was the largest total since Sept. 28, 1937, when they were recorded as about $33,000,000. The 1937 peak was reached shortly before the swift decline in industrial and business activity got underway late in that year. At no time since has that level been reached.

The boost of almost 77 million dollars since the Sept. 30 compilation of $746,771,000 and of more than 103 million dollars since the total of $720,226,000 on June 29 is partly attributable to the increasing tempo of the national defense program, bankers explained.

Total deposits continued their upward climb last quarter to a peak of $4,177,846,000, from $4,093,361,000 in September, and $3,961,207,000 in June.

Continental Has Big Gain.

Among the downtown banks, the Continental Illinois National reported a rise in loans and discounts to $188,836,000 from $156,347,000 in June. In September, CContinental's total was $157,472,000, according to figures which the bank together with many other national institutions made public at the time.

The First National bank had $301,592,000 outstanding in loans and discounts on Dec. 31, compared with $273,898,000 three months earlier and $264,807,000 on June 29.

Harris Trust and Savings bank listed loans and discounts of $73,069,000 as of Dec. 31, against $61,806,000 on Sept. 30 and $59,259,000 on June 29. The gain of the Northern Trust company was somewhat smaller, with loans and discounts standing at $44,500,000 on Dec. 31, against $43,482,000 on Sept. 30 and $39,737,000 on June 29.

City National's total was down moderately to $39,718,000 from $41,304,000 on June 30. American National, Industrial National, and La Salle National, however, reported gains to $21,400,000, $11,303,000, and $2,428,000 from $19,681,000, $10,599,000, and $1,570,000 on June 30, respectively.

Outlying Banks Report Loans, Deposits Rise

Nearly all of Chicago's outlying banks—those located outside the loop area—increased their loans during the latter part of 1940. However, most of these banks had much larger increases in total deposits.

This was disclosed yesterday in a study of the Dec. 31 statements of condition issued by the various banks.

The Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank reported that loans and discounts rose to $5,280,000 as of Dec. 31 from $5,194,000 as of Sept. 30. Total deposits stood at $17,172,000, compared with $13,628,000 as reported in the Sept. 30 statement.

Boulevard Bank Loans Rise.

The report of the National Boulevard Bank of Chicago showed total loans of $4,165,000, compared with $3,903,000 as of June 30. In this six month period, total deposits increased to $20,378,000 from $19,355,000.

Loans and discounts of Drovers National bank as of Dec. 31 totaled $4,342,000, compared with $3,633,000 on June 30. During the same period, total deposits increased from $32,276,000 to $35,348,000.

Another outlying bank to report an increase in loans and discounts was the Halsted Exchange National which had loans totaling $2,074,000 on Dec. 31, against $1,628,000 on June 30. In the same period, the bank's total deposits rose from $8,348,000 to $10,054,000.

The Chicago City Bank and Trust company reported loans and discounts of $9,697,000 as of Dec. 31, compared with $9,431,000 on Sept. 30. Total deposits rose to $29,456,000 from $28,033,000 in this period, while savings deposits were $17,291,000, against $16,596,000.

Others Report Increases.

The Merchandise National reported loans of $8,888,000 as of Dec. 31, compared with $7,669,000 on June 30. Total deposits were up from $24,184,000 six months ago to $27,743,000.

Among other outlying banks reporting larger loans were North Shore National, the Aetna State, the Amalgamated Trust and Savings, the Madison-Crawford National, the Merchants National, the Terminal National, the Liberty National, the Live Stock National, and the Upper Avenue National.

EXCHANGE ASKS EXCESS PROFIT TAXES REPORTS

New York, Jan. 3 [Special].—Corporations with securities listed on the New York Stock exchange today were asked to report the amount of their provision for excess profits tax separately from provision for normal federal income tax.

"The effect of the current federal excess profits tax upon the earnings of corporations is a matter of great interest to security holders and we have received numerous inquiries in regard thereto," said P. L. West, acting director of the exchange's stock list department, in a letter to the corporations.

West said that exchange requirements do not call for deduction for excess profits taxes in quarterly or semiannual earnings reports, but added that corporations may deem such deduction advisable.

"We do not wish," he said, "to overemphasize the effect of federal taxes upon corporate earnings, but it seems to us that the necessity for adequately informing security holders makes desirable some such treatment as that sugested above."

SLUM CLEARING BILL IS CALLED CONSTITUTIONAL

Attorney Testifies at Council Hearing.

BY LELAND FORRESTER.

Assurance that the proposed slum clearance bill would meet constitutional requirements if put to a court test was given to the city council's housing subcommittee yesterday as the subcommittee held its final hearing on the measure.

The plan is called the Neighborhood Redevelopment corporation bill and is sponsored by the Chicago Building congress, which will have it submitted to the Illinois legislature. The bill is designed as enabling legislation permitting creation of special corporations having power to condemn a fraction of land needed for slum clearance projects. Its aim is to facilitate the use of private capital in such projects by giving it a means of dealing with the minority "holdout" property owner who hinders the assembling of sites.

Bill Called Constitutional.

William Hale, attorney and authority on constitutional law, told the subcommittee that in his opinion the provisions of the bill, including the grant of power of eminent domain [condemnation], are constitutional.

Hale was one of several persons who appeared before the subcommittee. Most of those who appeared supported the bill as a whole, altho some proposed certain changes. Complete opposition was voiced in only one case.

Among those heard were: Horace Russell, general counsel for the United States Savings and Loan league, a trade association representing building and loan associations; Morton Bodfish, executive vice president of the league; Wallace J. Stebbins, chairman of the blighted areas committee of the Downtown council; Joseph K. Brittain, chairman of the Downtown council's housing committee; Theodore T. McCrosky, executive director of the city plan commission, and J. V. O'Neil, business manager of the Oakland-Kenwood Property Owners association.

Woman Attacks Measure.

Mrs. Lovelyn J. Evans was the only person to express outright opposition to the bill.

Russell, formerly general counsel for the Federal Home Loan bank board, supported the provision for the power of eminent domain, assert-

NEW FINANCING EXPECTED TO BE BIG THIS MONTH

Report 200 Millions Are in Preparation.

Underwriters are expecting an unusually active January program of new financing, with more than $200,000,000 of new corporat eloans reported to be in preparation. Most of the bonds are expected to reach the market soon, aided by the shortening of the usual 20-day registration period.

Corporate issues already in registration include $35,000,000 of Phillips Petroleum, $12,000,000 Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line, and $10,000,000 Montana-Dakota Utility company. In addition, about $140,000,000 of new bonds are slated for registration soon, including a $50,000,000 Illinois Bell Telephone issue.

Steel Maker To Finance.

Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation of Pittsburgh yesterday advised the Securities and Exchange commission of its plan to issue $28,000,000 of 3¼ per cent first mortgage bonds, series C, due Jan. 1, 1961. Proceeds, together with $14,000,000 of bank loans and other funds, will be used to redeem about $39,000,000 outstanding bonds and to pay off $4,750,000 in bank loans of a subsidiary.

A meeting of the directors of Consolidated Gas Electric Light & Power company of Baltimore was called for Tuesday to authorize the filing of a registration statement covering an issue of $12,000,000 of first refunding mortgage sinking fund bonds.

Banks To Take Note Issue.

The Pittsburgh Coal company, largest commercial producer of bituminous coal, announced that it sentire issue of 6 per cent debenture bonds outstanding, amounting to $9,831,000, will be called for redemption Feb. 1 at 105 plus interest. The refunding will be accomplished by an issue of $9,000,000 in notes maturing serially over a 7 year period and bearing 3¼ per cent interest.

Lone Star Gas corporation plans to borrow $26,000,000 from commercial banks to redeem $20,000,000 of debentures and to pay off outstanding bank loan notes.

C. P. Gulick, president of National Oil Products company, announced that rights issued to stockholders to subscribe to 35,965 additional shares of common capital stock at $28 were more than 94 per cent subscribed. Rights expired Thursday.

TRANSIT PENSION METHOD FOUGHT BY COMPANIES

Officials of Chicago's transit lines yesterday opposed suggested machinery for setting up an employés' pension plan, as recommended by the employés' unions at a special city council subcommittee meeting. The groups are trying to agree on a pension provision to be written into the unified traction ordinance.

The unions suggested that a five man arbitration board, consisting of two members named by the lines, two by the unions, and the mayor, fix the amount and terms of the pensions.

Edward E. Brown, spokesman for the transit lines, said the lines favored pensions, but asserted he would recommend the rejection of the entire traction ordinance if the unions' proposal were adopted.

NEW YORK FAIR TO PAY $77 MORE ON $1,000 BONDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 3.—Distribution of $2,081,867 to the 3,263 holders of New York World's Fair debentures was started today by the Chase National bank, trustee for the holders. The bank announced that payments will be made at the rate of $77.50 per $1,000 bond, of which $75.98 is payment on principal and $1.52 represents interest at 4 per cent.

The payment on principal is the first since 1939, when two payments, totaling 10.5 per cent, were made. All repayments and interest so far total about 27 cents on a dollar.

Harvey D. Gibson, chairman of the exposition's board, predicted further repayments of $190 to $200 on each $1,000 debenture.

William R. Goss Company Gets Postoffice Contract

William R. Goss company, with offices in Tribune Tower, yesterday was awarded a contract by the Federal Works agency for erecting the Jackson park substation of the Chicago postoffice. The Goss company's bid was $189,020. The building will be two stories and will be on the east side of Woodlawn avenue, between 63d and 64th streets.

Illinois C. of C. Tax Body to Open Springfield Office

The taxation committee of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce decided yesterday to establish executive headquarters in Springfield to get greater efficiency in accomplishing its aim of an improved state tax system.

DEFENSE WORK BOOSTS BUILDING IN YEAR TO PEAK

Volume Up a Third; Tops 1929 by 1 Per Cent.

New York, Jan. 3 (AP)—Huge contracts for national defense construction rushed thru during the final six months of 1940 lifted engineering construction awards for the year to the highest level on record, Engineering News-Record reported today.

Contracts awarded in 1940 totaled $3,987,243,000, a gain of 33 per cent over the year before and 1 per cent larger than the previous record established in 1929. More than $2,500,000,000 of new engineering construction reached the contract stage in the second half of the year, Engineering News-Record said.

December Total Large.

New awards were setting a fast pace as the year ended, totaling $398,704,000 in December, the second largest monthly total ever reported, exceeded only by the October volume.

Every section of the country participated in the gains except the Middle Atlantic states, where awards were 3 per cent smaller than in 1939, the magazine said.

Spurred by tremendous federal contracts for defense, public construction set a new high of $2,824,989,000, an increase of 34 per cent over the previous peak reached last year. Private awards totaled $1,162,254,000, the largest volume since 1930 and 31 per cent more than a year ago.

Industrial Volume Up.

Industrial building was the most important factor in the gain in private work. Contracts exceeded the record of 1929 and more than doubled last year's volume. Boosting industrial building to the new peak was the expansion of capacity in plants closely allied to national defense—aircraft, engine, machine, and machine parts and chemical process plants. Commercial building and large scale private housing were only 3 per cent above 1939 levels.

Air base, airport, shipyard, and shipway construction helped to boost unclassified construction to a new pinnacle, 54 per cent ahead of last year.

Contracts for streets and roads were 5 per cent larger than 1939, also a new record.

WEEK'S FREIGHT TRAFFIC FALLS; YEAR'S LARGER

Cars of revenue freight loaded in the United States during the week ended Dec. 28 totaled 545,707, a decrease of 152,448 cars, or 21.8 per cent, from the preceding week, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday. Loadings in 1940 totaled 36,353,609 cars, a gain of 2,442,111 cars, or 7.2 per cent, over 1939 and 5,896,531 cars, or 19.4 per cent, above 1938.

Last week's freight movement was a decline of 2,757 cars, or 0.5 per cent, from the corresponding week a year ago, but a rise of 45,852 cars, or 9.2 per cent, over two years ago.

COTTON

Cotton futures were on the downgrade in early trading yesterday with selling by houses with Indian connections and with hedging pressure. The market rallied late in the session when securities turned upward and final trades were about the top. The close was unchanged to .06 cent a pound higher. Mills were the best buyers on the early decline. A large cash firm sold May and bought October.

Exports of cotton from the United States to Russia via Vladivostock, Siberia, was reported causing considerable concern to the British government, since it is regarded as an important leak in the blockade.

The department of agriculture in announcing an allocation of 26,700,000 acres for the 1941 cotton crop, tentatively estimated that under normal conditions this acreage would yield about 12,500,000 bales, compared with 126,86,000 bales in 1940.

Cash cotton closed .04 cent higher to .01 cent lower, with New York, 10.63 cents; New Orleans, 10.17 cents; Galveston, 10.03 cents, and Houston at 9.99 cents a pound. Futures prices follow:

BLOCK OF VACANT LAND ON DEVON SOLD FOR STORE

A block of vacant frontage on the north side of Devon avenue, extending from Artesian to Campbell avenue, was sold yesterday by the North Shore Holding corporation to Willarch, Inc. The property fronts 125 feet on both Campbell and Artesian. In addition two parcels north of the Devon avenue property, one fronting 75 feet on Campbell and the other 55 feet on Artesian, both 125 feet deep, were purchased. Arthur Rubloff & Co. negotiated the sale.

Willarch, Inc., already owned two parcels north of the alley parallel with and north of Devon. These are each 125 feet deep and front 75 feet on Artesian and 50 feet on Western avenue.

William L. Wallen is president of the selling corporation and Archie W. Wallen is president of Willarch, Inc. It was reported that the land purchased is to be used for a new store building.

SLUM CLEARANCE BILL IS TERMED CONSTITUTIONAL

Attorney Assures Council Group It Will Stand.

ing private capital needs that power to solve the slum problem. He urged that the bill be changed to permit redevelopment corporations to resell their improved properties to individual home owners, and that public regulation cease after projects have been completed.

Stebbins indorsed the bill as a measure that would further the public welfare and help end the slums' menace to public health.

Brittain termed the poposed measure "an important step toward facilitating assembly of property" for improvement projects, and said the bill is "well and carefully drawn."

Urges Limited Control.

Bodfish urged that redevelopment corporations be subject to public control for a limited time only, and that any enterprise, such as an insurance company, be permitted to undertake slum clearing projects.

McCrosky termed the bill "an important step forward." He said one project would demonstrate the value of the approach which the bill provides.

Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th], chairman of the subcommittee, asked: "Would a sample 10 acre project stir enthusiasm?"

O'Neil suggested that redevelopment corporations be required to buy or option at least two-thirds of needed sites before they could invoke condemnation powers. He said many homeowners would be reluctant to sell at current market prices because they paid more for their homes than the properties would bring now.

Officials Answer Criticisms.

As objections to certain provisions of the bill were raised, or clarifications were asked, officials of the Chicago Building congress replied. Elmer C. Jensen, president of the congress; Paul D. Angell, its secretary, and J. Soule Waterfield, chairman of the congress committee which drafted the bill, were at the hearing.

They agreed to consider the various suggestions, including a proposal by Ald. Roy E. Olin [8th] that backers of projects be required to invest some of their own money in the ventures, with a limitation being placed on the mortgage indebtedness which a redevelopment could incur. He suggested a limitation of possibly 70 or 80 per cent of the total cost of the project.

The city council subcommittee conducted the hearings for the purpose of giving the building congress an opportunity to receive suggestions for the final shaping of the measure for presentation to the legislature. Therefore no recommendation will be made by the subcommittee to the city council's committee on housing, of which Ald. Lindell also is chairman.

Ald. Lindell has indicated that he is supporting the bill as the best method yet proposed for dealing with the problem of depreciated areas.

"The time has come to stop quibbling about plans," Ald. Lindell said. "Solution of the slum problem is one of our biggest tasks, and we must do something about it."

GREAT WESTERN ROAD SECURITIES ORDERED ISSUED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—The Interstate Commerce commission authorized the Chicago Great Western Railway company today to issue new securities to carry out a plan of reorganization for the Chicago Great Western Railroad company.

Issuance was authorized of $10,130,100 of first mortgage 4 per cent bonds, series A; $6,113,600 of general mortgage 4½ per cent bonds; 366,104 shares of 5 per cent $50 par value preferred stock, and 352,639 shares of $50 par value common stock.

The commission also authorized the railway company to borrow $6,395,870 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The loan will be secured by the pledge of $7,996,100 of first mortgage 4 per cent bonds.

The RFC loan will be used to buy the properties of the St. Paul Bridge and Terminal Railway company for $1,500,000; to pay off RFC loans to the old company, approximately $1,707,000; to pay off loans by the Railroad Credit corporation to the old company, approximately $1,139,000, and to provide the reorganization company with additional working capital.

The ICC's reorganization plan has been approved by the United States District court for the northern district of Illinois, and accepted by the creditors and stock holders

LEADING STOCKS SWEPT UPWARD IN CLOSING RALLY

Motors and Steels Rise More Than 2 Points.

New York, Jan. 3 (AP).—Stocks, loafing at slightly higher levels during most of today's market, hit a last minute rallying stride behind steels and motors that boosted prices for favorites 1 to more than 2 points.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues emerged with a net gain of .4 of a point, more than wiping out yesterday's decline of .2. Transfers totaled 506,040 shares compared with 527,470 the day before.

British Holdings Taken Over.

Board rooms found nothing outstanding in the news to account for the belated upswing. Talk was heard, however, of sizable British holdings of steels and motors, which were up for liquidation, being taken over by private syndicates. Belief that the market would be greatly benefited if the threat of foreign sales were lifted was thought to have caused some buyers to reinstate commitments.

A seat on the New York Stock exchange was sold for $35,000, up $3,000 from the last transaction.

Bethlehem Steel gained 2¾ points, United States Steel 2⅜, General Motors and Chrysler 2⅛ each, United States Industrial Alcohol 2⅛, and Union Pacific 2¼. Savage Arms jumped 3½ to a new top for the last year and Universal Pictures tacked on 5 to its recent sharp upturn.

Chicago Stocks.

Gains predominated in light trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Only 20,000 shares were transferred. Of the 90 active issues, 46 advanced, 23 declined, and 21 were unchanged.

North American Car, one of the volume leaders, established a 1940-'41 high for the second consecutive day, closing at 6¼, up ⅛. Other issues which also set peaks were Kentucky Utilities junior preferred at 50, up 1¼; South Bend Lathe at 35, up ⅝, and Cudahy Packing preferred at 83, up 2¾.

New York Stocks.

New York, Jan. 3 (AP).—United States government issues slipped today in one of the lightest bond markets of a month. One treasury loan declined 1 7-32 point.

Most corporate bonds also were lower. Transactions totaled $6,657,500, face value, compared with $6,466,000 yesterday. Many leading issues were ignored thruout the day.

Transfer of a single bond sent Denmark 4½s down 6¾ points at 27⅛. The remainder of the foreign list was uneven, with gains predominating for dollar loans of Latin America and Japan.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago Title and City National shares advanced 2 points yesterday in Chicago bank stock trading. Continental Illinois, First National, and Industrial National preferred each were a point higher. Industrial National common gained half a point.

WEEK'S TRADE OF STORES FAR ABOVE YEAR AGO

Aided by 2 More Holiday Shopping Days.

Two days of Christmas shopping last week boosted sales of Chicago department stores 74.3 per cent over the volume of the corresponding week in 1939, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Stores in the seventh [Chicago] reserve district did 68 per cent more business than a year ago, and the aggregate gain for the United States was 59 per cent.

Most of the big gain resulted from the fact that last week had two days in which shoppers could buy Christmas presents while the corresponding week in 1939 began on Christmas day.

Business at High Level.

With sales in the Chicago reserve area 11.1 per cent ahead of a year earlier during the four weeks ended Dec. 28, the bank said that department stores in this area had the best business since it started keeping weekly records in 1937 and that sales probably were the largest since 1929.

The almost 75 per cent increase in sales in Chicago last week was the largest gain for any city in the district. This was the first time in several weeks that Chicago had had the best gain for the district. Its four week business was 8.2 per cent better than a year ago.

Big Gain at Detroit.

Detroit, which had led the district in sales gain for most of the month, reported a 61.9 per cent larger trade last week and the best gain for any city in the district for the last four weeks. Sales in the four weeks were 18.4 per cent larger than a year ago.

Thruout the United States, the Atlanta reserve area recorded the largest gain for the week, 97 per cent, and for the four weeks, 18 per cent. The aggregate gain for all reserve areas for the four weeks was 10 per cent.

Report Offers of Copper Below Navy's Demand

New York, Jan. 3 (AP).—Copper interests heard today that a navy department call for 3,550,000 pounds of copper brought bids for only 2,100,000 pounds. Failure of suppliers to offer the required tonnage was attributed to the unusually heavy demand in recent months for metal for defense production.

People and Events

Mal J. Flanagan.

J. H. Lawson, president of the Federal Varnish company, Chicago, has announced the appointment of Mal J. Flanagan as director of sales and executive vice president.

George R. Robson, formerly manager of the Chicago brokerage department of the Connecticut General Life Insurance company, has been named resident vice president in charge of the Chicago office of the Continental Assurance company.

James S. Kemper, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, will address a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce Jan. 8 in the Palmer House.

H. P. Sedwick, general manager, and W. J. MacPherson, manager of industrial relations, have been elected vice presidents of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

AMERICA MAKES 40 PER CENT OF WORLD'S STEEL

The United States produced more than 40 per cent of all steel made in the world during 1940, the magazine Iron Age estimated yesterday in its year end edition.

World production was reported at 157,795,000 net tons, a new high, with the United States also setting a new high of 65,250,000 tons. Soviet Russia broke its previous records by turning out 21,800,000 tons.

Germany's production declined 1,400,000 tons from 1939 to 28,150,000 last year, while the United Kingdom slipped 119,000 tons to an output of 15,000,000. In both the belligerents' cases, all-time records had been established in 1939.

The steel industry in this country in 1941 should be able to produce a total of 86,400,000 net tons of open hearth, bessemer and electric furnace steel, Iron Age said.

TODD SHIPYARDS.

How important is Todd Shipyards corporation in the shipbuilding industry? I would like to get an idea of how profitable its operations have been.—P. J.

Answer: Todd Shipyards corporation, New York City, is the largest ship repair enterprise in the United States. Besides repairing and remodeling ships, it manufactures marine engines and oil burners and builds vessels. The company and its subsidiaries have received approximately 175 million dollars' worth of national defense contracts.

Altho repair work has accounted in the past for about 90 per cent of the company's gross revenues, new construction ordered by the navy and the maritime commission is expected to contribute a large proportion of the income in the current fiscal year. The earnings record of the company in recent fiscal years ended March 31, and dividends paid in calendar years follow:

1936	$ 787,304	$3.81	$4.00
1937	1,421,063	6.88	5.00
1938	1,761,491	8.56	5.50
1939	250,150	1.21	2.50
1940	832,727	4.05	8.00

*Calendar years.

Capitalization of the company consists of $334,879 of funded debt and 205,402 shares of no par capital stock. Dividends have been paid on the stock without interruption since 1916.

BRITISH-HELD SECURITIES.

I did not quite understand an item I read recently about the British government acquiring American securities from its citizens. Can you explain this action?—G. I.

Answer: The British treasury last February 18 put into effect a plan under which it took over from British citizens their holdings of American securities. Britons were required to register their holdings of selected American securities with the Bank of England and to sell them to the treasury at prices fixed by the treasury and based on New York market values converted into British currency at the current rate of exchange for American dollars.

The purpose of this move was to provide an orderly liquidation of these securities in the American market. Proceeds from the sale would furnish the British treasury with dollar exchange to pay for its purchases of war materials in this country. The treasury already has requisitioned a total of 152 different American stocks and 25 bond issues.

OWNING

near where our Government is spending hundreds of thousands of dollars, in fact, millions, means increasing value to the purchaser of this valuable farm. PROPERTY IS KNOWN AS THE KELLEY FARM.

Col. Bowden, nationally known real estate auction specialist, will sell this farm at Public Auction, Wed., Jan. 8, 1941, on the property at 2 p. m. sharp.

LOCATED IN WILL COUNTY, ILL., THE SOUTH PART OF SEC. 6, REED TOWNSHIP, 2 MILES NORTH OF MANHATTAN, 7 MILES FROM COAL CITY, 2 MILES WEST AND 1 MILE SOUTH OF NEW CONCRETE ROAD, ROUTE 66. FOLLOW RED ARROW TO THE PROPERTY.

Cement floor, steel wood lined Stanchions, room for price dairy, and 3 horses, extra large hay storage, large corn crib, 60-ft. long, capacity 6,000 bushels; tool shed and granary 38x24; tool skid, grain bins, 2-car garage, milk house, 10x12; poultry house, hog house, several varieties of apple and pear trees, ½-acre grape vineyard, large field of permanent pasture, 2 deep wells of water, soil is black loam, brown silt loam.

Several thousand people will be employed in this neighborhood. In the purchase of this farm, those who want to make money certainly will have a market at home. Milk, cream, eggs, fruits and vegetables. It's a little mint if managed properly. Don't fail to attend this auction, buy where property will increase in value. Nearly 400 farms have been sold last year in this neighborhood.

Conditions and terms—10% on the purchase price is to be paid as soon as the property is bid off. Balance and final settlement is to be made on or before Saturday, March 8, 1941, at the office of Francis P. Kelley, attorney, 418 Chalstrom Building, Joliet, at 10:30 a. m.

For information, call or phone Col. Bowden in person, Oak Park Arms Hotel, Oak Pk., Ill. Phone Euclid 9800 or Sect. home office, Tazewell Hotel, Pekin, Ill. Phone 1220.

For further information call Francis Kelley, Chalstrom Building, Joliet, Ill. Remember this farm is less than 2 hours' drive to Chicago. Terms can be arranged.
